The Lesson Of Newark

These past several days in Newark, N. J., running from July 12 to July 17, 1967, saw rioting, arson, looting and murder almost unparalleled in the history of American cities. A UPI story on Saturday morning July 15th said, "Gov. Richard J. Hughes declared a state of emergency and roaming bands of Negroes battled police and the state militia."

The story proceeded to say, "In declaring the state of emergency, Hughes called the situation 'very dangerous' and deteriorating. Hughes and earlier the rioting and widespread looting 'can only be classified as open rebellion - just like wartime'."

The story that morning went on to say, "Democratic Gov. Richard J. Hughes said a third of the city was under siege, cordoned off by police and National Guardsmen and in the grip of what he termed 'criminal insurrection'. He declared it a disaster area, in an attempt to enforce rules to quell the lawlessness.

". . . Street mobs built up in size before sundown after a wild daylong orgy of looting, and police sharpshooters dueled with rooftop snipers".

Gov. Hughes went on to say, "This amounts to criminal insurrection against society. . . . . There is no order to shoot and kill but police have the authority to defend themselves".

It was right here, perhaps, that Gov. Hughes made his worst mistake. Looting has traditionally been recognized as one of the worst crimes that can be committed, because those engaged in looting are not only breaking secular and religious law by stealing, they are at the same time through mob rule preying upon the misfortunes that have befallen others.

It has been traditional in this country, therefore — where the rights of individuals are protected — for the mayors of the cities and the governor of the state to give the police and the militia orders that when they find looting taking place, they are to shoot first and ask questions later. This order would apply regardless of race, black or white - and it is to be believed that such an order is more likely to prevent looting and stop looting than any other order that might be given.

But what happened in the case of Newark? The Saturday morning story went on to say, "Looters moved openly and defiantly in and out of smashed and burned stores, beneath the gaze of the governor. The Governor said he was appalled by the bizarre holiday air of the indefatigable looters - surging gangs of laughing men, women and children. They hauled food, clothing and furniture from smashed stores".

The story said that Hughes invoked the state's emergency defense law which "permits him in a civilian role to lay down any rules needed to protect life and property in an area of natural or man-made disaster. It differs from martial law, which would grant Hughes similar power, but in his role as commander-in-chief of the National Guard. It was understood that Hughes considered the civilian measure less likely to further inflame Newark Negroes".

It is this attitude of hesitancy, this attitude of fear on the part of city and state rulers that enables them to look on with equanimity while looters "laughingly" steal the property that belongs to the store owners and their stockholders. This attitude cannot continue in any city or in any state of the union if we are to remain a nation that respects law and order. In other words, if we are to remain a civilized nation, law and order must be observed by all people alike.

Only to the extent that the mayors of our cities and the governors of our states have learned their lesson from what happened in Newark, N. J. can we be said to have made any progress toward a more peaceful and a more just nation.

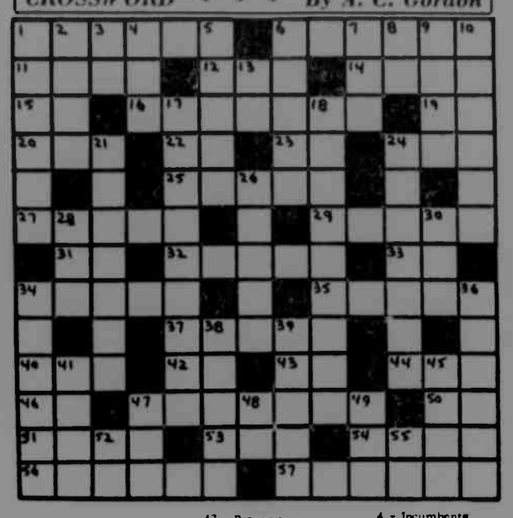
Hearing Held on Strip Mine Laws



A public hearing was held Monday at the Maryland Bureau of Mines offices in Westernport on rules and regulations supplementing the new Maryland strip mining law.

Harry Buckley, bureau director, said representatives of ten strip mining firms and various state agencies participated. About 40 strip mines are being operated in Garrett and Allegany counties.

The new rules and regulations were accepted with only one change proposed, according to Mr. Buckley. He said one section questioned concerned cutting and removing timber from affected areas to assist in preventing slides on hillsides and easing the task of back-filling.

The matter will be turned over to the Mine Law commission for study and action, Mr. Buckley said.

Ten Years Ago...

In Washington, they're getting ready to print 6 cent postage stamps and before you can stick out your tongue to lick the stamp it's going to cost you that to mail a first class letter. That shakes us a bit because a recent rummage for something in the back of a desk drawer turned up a letter bearing a first class mail stamp priced at 3 cents. Know what the date on the stamp was? 1957.

Yes sir. "Coast and Geodetic Survey" it says in dark blue ink. "1807-1957" and across the bottom of the stamp: "U. S. Postage—3 cents".

In ten years the price of a first class mail stamp will have gone from 3 cents to 6 cents. And frankly, if the service were twice as good as it was ten years ago, it would still be a national disgrace. In some Eureopean cities you can order your groceries by mail in the morning and have them delivered to your house in the afternoon. If you tried that in a major city in this country you'd be so weak from starvation that you wouldn't be able to cross the room to open the door when the delivery boy finally showed up.

Somehow, Congress has always been able to move faster than the mail deliverers. Postal rates and the national debt ceiling get a preferential treatment that reminds one of the gallery at a tennis match. A bill to increase either flies in the door and Congress returns it with the speed of a tennis ball, ready for printing into law. You can scarcely turn your head fast enough to see it happen.

At the current rates (current while this is being written, that is) there is said to be a profit of more than a hundred million dollars on the handling of first class mail in this country. On air mail, which is scheduled to be increased from 8 to 9 cents per letter, there is a profit of more than fifty million dollars each year.

It costs more than that to deliver, free, Communist propaganda and blackmail threats sent to refugees from Iron Curtain countries resident in this country. The delivery is free because the postage stamps glued on the envelopes were bought in Communist countries and Uncle Sam doesn't realize a dime for the service of delivering tons of the stuff every week of the year.

And another thing: since there appears to be no relationship whatsoever between profit and loss in establishing stamp prices, why doesn't somebody in the Postoffice Department who can multiply by two sit down and figure out a price that would deliver an air mail letter for exactly twice the price of a first class letter. Think of the man hours and printing bills that would save. —U. S. Press Association, Inc.

Collision Course...

While most of our young people are spending the summer months trying to earn some extra money, swimming and playing, the Vietniks and campus protestors are busily thinking up new plans for the coming year. Recently, the Students for a Democratic Society, the largest of the so-called "New Left" organizations, held a convention at the University of Michigan.

This convention openly embarked the SDS on a collision course with the United States government. One of the resolutions passed at the convention called upon all SDS chapters to aid servicemen who wish to desert from the service and to go underground. A former vice president of SDS told how this would be implemented: "First, hide the guy out a few weeks until his GI haircut grows in. Then give him your draft card and write to the draft board for another copy, telling them you lost yours. After that, supplied with civilian clothes, he leaves for another city and gets a job".

The sponsor of the resolution said, "I intended it to be an illegal resolution. We should stand for disruption in the armed forces and for soldiers going underground".

In another resolution delegates voted their support for five members of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee charged with murdering a policeman at Texas Southern University. The SDS convention also voted support for the 16 arrested members of the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM) who planned to assassinate various moderate Negro leaders. Finally, the convention voted that the SDS national office "take whatever steps are necessary" to support any leftist group under government attack.

One proposal that will be decided later by the SDS organization deals with the possibility of undertaking a student strike next spring. The strike, if carried out, would call for immediate withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam. It would also attempt to undercut any other campus groups and would seek to make SDS the controlling influence in left wing campus politics.

We hope the vacationing college students get a lot of relaxation this summer. Once they get back on the campus and are faced with the revolutionary tactics of the SDS types there isn't going to be much time for relaxation. The energy and good sense of the majority of college students will be adequate to contend with the SDS fanatics, provided only that college administrators don't interpret "academic freedom" as a license to the subversives to engage in any and all excesses.—U. S. Press Association, Inc.

Pickle Time

The aroma of country kitchens reaches its most delightful peak in pickle making time as kettles of vinegar, fruits, vegetables and spices simmer lazily and give promise of good eating the year round, according to Mrs. Freda Denison, extension agent.

To have the high quality pickles and relishes that keep well is to process the filled jars in boiling water bath. Water should cover jar tops. Continue to boil gently for the time given in the recipe.

Mrs. Reuben Fazenbaker, County Council of Homemakers president, offers a recipe for Lime Pickles.

Two cups lime, 2 gallons water, 8 lbs. cucumbers.

Dissolve lime, add cucumbers cut in ½ in. thick slices. Soak 24 hours. Remove and wash 4 times. Pour following mixture over pickles: 2 cups sugar, 2 qts. vinegar, 2 tablespoons salt, 2 tablespoons spices, 1 tablespoon celery seed. Let stand 3 hours. Then boil slowly 30 min. Pack in jars and seal. Process 10 min. Put spices in a bag.

Cancer Said To Be Not Contagious

The fear that cancer is contagious has been dispelled by the National Cancer Institute and the American Cancer Society, according to Rev. Eldon Shingleton, member of the Garrett County unit.

The National Cancer Institute states that there is no positive scientific evidence that human cancer is contagious in any form. Scientists at the nation's cancer research center point out that it is not a communicable disease and cannot be caught from another person.

The American Cancer Society says that there is no recorded case of anyone having "caught" cancer from a patient, however closely they have been in contact.

Dr. Edward F. Lewison, President of the Maryland Division, ACS, and Chief of the Breast Clinic, Johns Hopkins Hospital, said that there is no reason for anyone to avoid a cancer patient or members of the patient's family on the basis that they may "catch" the disease.

"The very nature of this disease", he said, "requires that the patient receive the kindness and understanding which can be provided only by friends and neighbors".

"Medical treatment for cancer is not the only therapy needed by the patient", he said. "The moral support to keep fighting the disease is tremendously important; there is no medical substitute for the warmth and companionship of those close to the patient suffering with cancer."

Commissioners Hear Complaints

An account of the minutes of the meeting of the County Commissioners August 14, were approved at the meeting on August 28 and included several complaints and criticisms.

According to the minutes Harry Lesher asked for the bid on used machinery purchases and was shown the only record in the Commissioner's office concerning the bid, copy of a bill of sale of the purchased property. Mr. Lesher was given a photo copy of the bill of sale. Mr. Lesher then complained about the poor condition of the machinery and lack of a guarantee. He also asked if a voucher or expense bill had been received from the State's Attorney for recent liquor law investigations and stated his understanding was that an extra sheriff's deputy had been assigned to this work and he felt that no expense for this purpose was justified and further stated that he did not approve of such methods. He complained also about a fence along the road adjacent to his property not being repaired and asked the board to see that the Roads department perform the necessary work. Mr. Lesher also told the commissioners he thought the right of way agreement was not on record for that portion of the road abutting on his property and asked the board to make an investigation and that if no record of right of way agreement was found, he requested that an agreement be prepared and completed. He said that neighbor's cattle had been a nuisance and expense to him.

Elmer Upole, forest department supervisor, complained about the generally bad condition of trash dumps at McHenry and New Germany. He said dumping was being done on state property with conditions had at various places. He said out of state people were thought to be using Garrett county dumps and that they were very careless. Ways and means were discussed to remedy the situation. Arrests are to be made when possible. Ross Sines, commissioner, suggested that NYC workers or trainees be requested by Community Action to help in cleaning up and improving dumps where needed. Cooperation by forestry department was promised.

Philip Niner, representing property owners using private road in Turkey Neck section discussed the matter of improving the road to provide better drainage and culverts and to widen if possible. Allen Paugh said the county must have a right of way of 30 feet before it could be taken into the county system. It was believed the right of way could be obtained from most owners.

James W. Friend requested the Sweitzertown road be blacktopped.

Brad Rinard, Community action director, reported progress in various county sponsored projects with particular reference to relocating of displaced people from Vindex and Friendsville Community building. He reported projects moving well.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hostetler asked that drainage be improved on White Rock road.

George Comp, director of civil defense, discussed the program.

Eugene Coddington, representing town of Friendsville, discussed the problem of dogs running loose. Coddington was informed constables were paid $2.50 for each dog disposed of. He also complained of out of town and out of state persons using the Friendsville trash dump and leaving the dump in a bad condition.

Cancer Program Provides Funds

Several Garrett county cancer patients have requested and received assistance through the patient service program of the Garrett Unit, American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Betty Shaffer, a member of the ACS service committee reported that nearly $400.00 has been expended for patient service for the first 10½ months of the fiscal year.

It is through the patient service program that the ACS is able to bring assistance and relief to cancer patients and their families. A valuable service provided is counseling — helping the patient and family to overcome the intial shock of cancer. They are then guided to services and assistance available from the ACS and other organizations and agencies within the community.

The Garrett Unit, ACS assisted patients by providing loan closet equipment, cancer dressings and colostomy sets. Financial assistance was made available for drugs, nursing care and transportation.

Available to all cancer papatients upon request without charge are cancer dressings and loan closet items such as wheel chairs, hospital beds, walkers blenders, portable commodes and suction pumps.

During the last 10½ months the Garrett Unit provided several dozen cancer dressings to patients. Materials for dressings are provided by the American Cancer Society.

For additional information concerning the ACS service program contact Dr. Arthur Jones, Chairman of the Garrett Unit Service Committee.

Wed August 13 In Colora

In a ceremony Sunday evening, Aug. 13, at 7:00 o'clock in the West Nottingham Presbyterian church, Colora, Md., Miss Linda Helen Smouse, daughter of John Howard Smouse of Perryville, and Mrs. Marjorie Hamill of Oakland, became the bride of Mark G. Ropka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard V. Ropka, of Elizabethtown, Pa.

Elder Emile Hagele, Treasurer of the Pennsylvania Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, Reading, Pa., performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with urns of white gladioli and white mums banked with palms and candles in tall cathedral holders. Family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Attendants were Miss Bonnie Hagele, Reading, Pa., as maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Miss Donna Jean Rittenhouse, of Fairfax, Va; and Miss Fanny Hinebaugh, Oakland, cousin of the bride. The attendants wore identical floor length gowns of sari material printed with peach-pink flowers over peach-pink tafteta with bateau necklines and below the elbow puff sheer sleeves. Each wore a pink bow headpiece. They carried nosegays of baby's breath and pink rose buds.

Richard Ropka, Jr., of Elizabethtown, served his brother as best man. Ushers were Stuart Hamill III, of Oakland, brother of the bride, Stewart Ropka, Elizabethtown, Pa., brother of the groom, and Ronald Zug of Elizabethtown.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The bride's gown was a floor length candlelight satin fashioned with a bateau neckline, princess-seamed bodice and full length painted sleeves. Enhancing the neckline, bell shaped skirt and detachable train were appliques of lace and pearls. Her front headpiece of re-embroidered lace, trimmed with pearls and crystals, held a fingertrip length veil of imported French illusion silk. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid, miniature white carnations, baby's breath and satin streamers ending in loveknots.

Miss Carolyn Beachamp was organist and Miss Evonne Lindquest, of Washington, D. C. violin soloist, played before the ceremony. Vocal soloist, Dr. Curtis Johnson, captain U. S. Army, Aberdeen, sang "O Perfect Love" as the bride and groom knelt in prayer.

The bride's mother wore a two piece beige boucle suit with coordinating accessories. Mrs. Ropka chose a blue chiffon water print over blue taffeta with white accessories.

A reception at the church social room followed the ceremony.

For traveling the bride chose a Handmacher suit of white linen with navy trim and navy accessories.

Following the honeymoon at Bethany Beach, Delaware, the couple journeyed to Loma Linda, California, where they will reside while Mr. Ropka enters his freshman year at Loma Linda University Medical School and Mrs. Ropka will be employed as an elementary grade teacher at Yucaipa Jr. Academy, Yucaipa, California.

The bride is a 1962 graduate of Perryville High School, Perryville, and Columbia Union College, Takoma Park, class of 1967. The bridegroom is a graduate of Elizabethtown Area High School, 1961, and Elizabethtown College, class of 1966. He did one year graduate work at Temple University.

Showers were given the bride by her college classmates and one by Mrs. Jack Schleenbaker and daughter Sandra of Conestoga Woods, Lancaster, Pa.

Forming Drum And Bugle Corps In Nearby Area

The Western Maryland and West Virginia areas is soon to be represented in the Drum and Bugle corps field by a newly re-organized group, formerly the Blue Angels.

An initial meeting was held August 1 at Westernport and at this time an organization committee was formed including Gerald L. Francis, Gordon A. Green and William Freeman as co-chairmen; James Rooney, secretary-treasurer; and William Fazenbaker, Jr., business manager.

Prime goal is an independent, self supporting and disciplined corps that will serve the area as an emissary.

A campaign to raise funds to pay for equipment has been formed. A flea market sale is scheduled for the Moran Trucking company parking lot Saturday, September 9, beginning at 9. Donations also are being accepted.

The corps is presently known as Drum Corps association of Westernport with meetings being held each Monday at 7 at Green's restaurant in Westernport. An invitation is being extended to musically oriented males, 17 or older. There is to be a complement of 30 horns, 4 snare and 3 tenor drums, 2 bass drums and cymbals. Don McDowell, Westernport, one of the members, said several persons from the Oakland area already had shown interest.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Look closely . . . in this picture a man is risking his life!

An old and respected trade is his. It had its beginning centuries ago when Christianity first began to express its devotion in unique forms of architecture. How could Christians proclaim constantly their faith in Christ? How could they lift the eyes of others to behold the Lord of Life?

Soon, over gabled village roofs rose gleaming spires. And men who tilled the fields, and men who trod the lanes, rejoiced to behold the symbol of Faith.

Then one day cities replaced villages . . . skyscrapers dwarfed the spires of God. And so, on the day this picture was taken, ten thousand people passed by and never raised their eyes. Only a few looked upward and thought in mild surprise, "Why, isn't that a man way up there on the steeple?"

Yes. A MAN. One of hundreds of millions whose skill and courage continue to be needed as the Church fulfills its mission.

Maybe your church doesn't have a steeple. But it has a task to challenge your skills . . . your courage.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

To Be One's Self

Lesson for September 3, 1967

Background Scripture: Acts 23:12 through 25:12. Devotional Reading: 2 Timothy 1:8-14.

The individual, it is said, is moving toward extinction. The group — think and the IBM card are replacing him. Morris Bishop's poem, "The Perforated Spirit," (copyright 1955, The New Yorker Magazine, Inc.) says it with both humor and pain:

Rev. Althouse

The fellows up in personnel
They have a set of cards on me.
The sprinkled perforations tell
My individuality.

How hard it is to be an individual in this world today. Because many people cannot accept what they really are, they are frustrated by constantly trying to be someone else. They want the physical appearance of a movie star, the physique and grace of an athlete, the wit of humorist, the intelligence of a scholar, the personality of an entertainer — and they want it all wrapped up in a tidy package they can call "myself." Life can only be one continuous warfare until we stop trying to be everyone else and accept God's most precious gift: our individuality, the person God created us to be.

It matters not how I may prate
How charged with punishment the scroll
The Files are masters of my fate
They are the captains of my soul.

Clear Conscience

This was hardly true of Paul the Apostle. Here was a man who did not need to pretend to be someone else. He was aware that God knew both the worst and the best about him. God alone was his judge and thus he did not worry if there were those who did not like him. Because he was at peace with his God, he did not have to impress anyone. Relieved of this burden, he could be free, open, and authentic.

Wouldn't you like to experience this in your own life? How wonderful it would be to live, unworried by what others thought, aware of our faults and our sins, but not obsessed by them. This is the stuff of which a clear conscience is fashioned, the kind of conscience we see evident as Paul is confronted by the governor in Jerusalem.

Take a look at this conscience. There is no hostility. "I cheerfully make my defense." There was much about which he might have been bitter, but Paul did not want his ministry to be ruined by hostility. His appearance before the governor, trying as the circumstances were, gave him an opportunity, to witness for Christ. In the light of this opportunity, why should there be any bitterness?

Nor is there any deceit. "But this I admit to you . . ." Though he knew some of these details might be harmful to him, he did not try to hide them, for his conscience was clear. He had done only what he believed Christ had wanted him to do. To try to hide these deeds would only destroy his witness for Christ.

What Kind of Saint

Furthermore, there is no sense of guilt. "So I always take pains to have a clear conscience toward God and toward men." When one can face God without guilt, having endeavored to do his will, we need not fear to face any man and be judged by him.

Paul's conscience was clear and he could stand before the governor without hostility, deceit, or guilt. He was free to be Paul and did not have to pretend to be anyone else. "But he was a saint," you say. Yes, Paul was a saint (and so are we as the New Testament understands the word), but he did not fit into any of our stereotypes of sainthood. He was an individual: sometimes impulsive, sometimes headstrong, occasionally temperamental, but always himself, the self that God created him to be, the self set free by the power of Christ.

Paul was a saint, not because he repressed his true self, but because he offered it to God who used it powerfully for his purposes.

New Planetarium To Open Sept. 11

A new addition to the county school program will open the week of September 11. The Board of Education purchased and installed a 30-foot diameter Spitz Planetarium, to be used for all county children in development of the Space and Earth Science program.

Children will be taken to the planetarium by bus for special classes and observations. It is located in the old auditorium of the annex building on Green street, which was remodeled during the summer. Most of the work was done by the school board's maintenance and custodial crew.

Paul S. Frank, Jr., former science teacher at Southern, will be the director. He has spent ten weeks this summer at Michigan State university and the Adler planetarium in Chicago in preparation for his new assignment.

Recent studies have shown that there is an 18 percent growth in earth science knowledge between similar groups of children who have access to a planetarium program as compared with those who do not, Mr. Frank said.

During September and October community groups will be extended invitations to visit the planetarium and have the program explained. The planetarium will seat 60 persons at one time. The public will be invited in groups of 60 until all interested people have had an opportunity to visit the new installation

The county superintendent of schools said funds for the planetarium came from federal sources under NDEA Title III and from the balance the school board had in its capital outlay funds. The superintendent also announced that a $25,000 federal Mini-grant under Title III ESEA had been made to the school board for operational costs of the planetarium program

The Wild Turkey In Maryland

From Maryland Game and Fish Commission

Throughout the years the Maryland Department of Game and Inland Fish has stocked turkeys raised on the game farm in an attempt to re-establish the wild turkey. This program has met with very little success in return for the money expended. Other States have met with similar failures with game farm stock, and have gone to trapping and relocating known wild birds. These States have achieved very excellent results with this program.

The Maryland Department of Game and Inland Fish, after looking at the success achieved in other States and our own past data, has decided to put the sportsmen's money to better use in re-establishing the true wild turkey by using methods similar to those used in States that have been successful with this program.

The turkey habitat in Maryland falls into two categories; the mountainous forests of Western Maryland and the Eastern Shore forests. Biologists felt that two different strains of turkeys were needed on these different habitats.

Since isolated pockets of true wild turkeys are found in Western Maryland it was decided to trap turkeys in these areas and relocate them in other areas.

This program got under way this past Spring and several birds were captured and relocated in the Catoctin Mountain area. To date some of these birds have been sighted but due to the ruggedness of the area continuous contact with these birds is almost impossible.

On the Eastern Shore the habitat is entirely different from that in Western Maryland. The Department was able to obtain several true wild turkeys from Florida. The Lower Eastern Shore was chosen as the release area for these since the habitat there approximates the habitat from which these Florida turkeys were captured.

These turkeys have been kept under observation by Game Management and Law Enforcement personnel to determine if these birds are adapting to their new home. The Department is happy to report that three different broods have been sighted this spring.

When these two flocks have permanently established themselves they will serve as stocks for other areas of the state. As the true wild turkey is established, game farm production will be reduced accordingly until wild trapped birds have completely replaced game farm stock. It is hoped that the true wild turkey will be established state-wide in about ten years. This will give the sportsman quality hunting at a nominal cost.

Georgia's Gov. Maddox proposed a constitutional amendment permitting classroom prayers and Bible reading or "prayer rooms".

ARE YOUR CHILDREN PREPARED FOR SCHOOL?
Mothers are busy these days. For school beginning is a big event. Health records must be checked to make certain vaccinations are still potent and if not, booster shots are a "must."
Children leaving home for college should visit the family physician for a health check-up. Essential medicines the doctor thinks necessary must be packed. And, the eating habits of all children at school may have to be assisted. Too many grab a hasty bite for meals which lacks the important vitamins needed for their growing bodies. Most physicians advise daily vitamins for school children.

Your Federal Income Tax

The Republican, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax laws. CLIP AND SAVE FOR FUTURE REFERENCE.

Questions and Answers

Q. The amounts I claimed for business travel and entertainment expenses are being questioned. What records do I need to back them up?

A. Generally speaking, you must be able to produce records to establish each of the following: (1) the amount of the expense; (2) the time and place; (3) the business purpose, and (4) the business relationship of those entertained.

A receipt of other documentary evidence is required for each travel or entertainment expenditure of $25 or more, with certain exceptions. IRS Publication No. 463, 'Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses", outlines the rules for deducting these expenses. This publication may be obtained at your local IRS office.

You may want to look over this publication before you have your audit interview. It will also be helpful in maintaining your expense account records currently.

Q. I just sold my house and had to pay a penalty on my mortgage since I paid it up early. Can I deduct this penalty when I file my tax return next year or do I add the penalty in as a cost of selling the house?

A. The penalty for paying off a mortgage before the due date is considered an interest charge and should be included with your other interest payments when you itemize deductions. This penalty is not to be included with your selling costs.

Q. I was granted an extension of time to file my return. I sent the return in last month with what I owned but now I get a bill for interest. Doesn't the extension of time take care of that?

A. No, the extension of the time excuses you from the penalties for not filing a timely return. The law requires interest to be assessed on taxes that are not paid when they are due and this cannot be prevented by obtaining an extension of time.

Q. I have my own business. How much can I put aside each year for retirement.

A. You may put as much as $2,500 a year into a plan or 10 percent of your "earned income', whichever is less. However, only one half of this amount can be deducted. For tax years begining after December 31, 1967, the full amount of the permissible contribution can be deducted.

If you do create a retirement plan for yourself each of your full-time employees with three or more years of service must be included.

Q. My uncle has been our dependent for several years. Does the fact that he just turned 65 give me another dependency exemption'

A. No. You are entitled to one exemption for your uncle when he qualifies as your dependent. His age does not give you an extra exemption. This extra exemption may be taken only on a taxpayer's own return when he or his spouse is 65 or over.

Q. I disagree with what your agent proposes as a result of my audit. Is there any way I can have someone else review the case without making a court case out of it? The amount involved is only several hundred dollars.

A. You should inform the examining agent that you do not agree with his proposed adjustments and desire a district conference. A conferee will consider your side of the story as well as the examining agent's and attempt to reach an agreement on the basis of the facts and law involved.

No formal or written protest need be made to obtain such a conference where the amount of the tax liability in question is up to $2,500. The previous limit was $1,000.

Q. I plan to sell some property I inherited from my grandmother. How do I tell whether I have any profit to report?

A. The basis to use is the fair market value at the time you inherited it. If you obtain more than this value when you sell, then you will have to report the difference as income. Don't forget, however, that you may deduct expenses you have in connection with the sale to determine whether you have a gain or loss. The treatment of gains and losses from the sale or exchange of both business and nonbusiness property is covered in IRS Document No. 5048. A free copy may be obtained at your local IRS office.

Q. My teenager has earned almost $600 this summer. If he goes over that figure will we lose our exemption for him?

A. No you won't if he is under 19 or is a full-time student. The other dependency tests must still be met, however.

Your son will have to file a tax return if his income does reach $600 or if taxes have been withheld from his wages and he wants to obtain a refund.

Q. Is there any difference between a pension from the government and one from a private company when it comes to taxes?

A. If the government pension is from Social Security it will not be taxable. Civil Service pensions and those from private companies will be taxable depending on how long it takes to recover the amount of your contributions to them.

This subject is covered in IRS Document 5018, Retirement Income and Credit, which is available at your local IRS office.

Q. I got a letter asking for my Social Security Number. Where should I send it?

A. Send the information to the office requesting it. Most of these inquiries originate from the service center and the information should be sent there.

Check to see if a preaddressed envelope came with the request. One is normally enclosed.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of "Billy" William Earl Fisher, who passed away five years ago, September 1, 1962.

The sun rises in the morning
And sets again in the eve
God takes care of his loved ones
Who believe in him in every way.
He guides us in his pathway
And keeps us safe from sin
He took you in his loving arms
And led you safely in
To his home in glory land
We hope again that some day
We will walk hand in hand
As your memory always lingers here.

Going Back To School

Though it may seem hard to believe, the calendar tells us that Labor Day and the opening of school are just around the corner. For younger children, such as my two sons and their friends, going back to school will be an easy and natural process. Fortunately, American elementary and secondary education is expanding and improving every year. Communities throughout the country are making tremendous investments in new facilities, more teachers, better methods of instruction, and all of the advances required to provide the best possible basic education for the younger generation.

But for high-school graduates seeking higher education, the picture is far less rosy. In our intensely technical society, advanced education is becoming essential for individual advancement. At the same time, higher education is growing more and more expensive, as young institutions, such as our fine junior and community colleges, develop their facilities, as our older colleges grow and refine their programs. For many students and their families higher education represents a cost which is very difficult, and in many cases impossible, to bear.

If higher education is to be accessible to all Americans of ability regardless of their financial station, we must make these monetary burdens bearable. Present scholarship and loan programs aid many students, but not enough. Last week, for example, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare granted $169,416 to six colleges in the Sixth District to support their NDEA student loan programs for the coming academic year. But these funds will provide loans for only about 400 students, a small percentage of those qualifying for financial aid at those schools.

Many of our banks and other financial institutions have student loan programs, through which loans are made to undergraduates and their families at commercial rates. A new Federal program would partially underwrite interest costs of these loans, reducing the interest which the borrowing student would have to pay. Yet the major defect in such efforts is that the pool of funds available for such loans is relatively small, since the competitive demands of the money market make bank investment in other areas more attractive.

I believe that more money can and should be made available for commercial student loans at very little cost to the government. After discussing the problem with educators and bankers, I have concluded that one feasible incentive would be to exempt from Federal taxation the interest earned by a bank on student loans. While not changing the rate of interest charged, this exemption would make educational loans a far more attractive investment for financial institutions. I am now preparing legislation to grant such an exemption.

In addition, I am still hoping that the Congress will act favorably on my bill to make tuition payments tax-deductible for families and individuals. This measure also will grant important relief to many Americans, and while it may reduce Federal tax revenues in the short run, in the long run it would be a sensible and productive investment in American youth.

There are about 965,000 children between the ages of 5 and 17 in Maryland — 26.7% of the state's entire population. Most of these youths would like to go to college, to receive further education in the liberal arts or specialized technical fields. We cannot delay action to extend the types of financial assistance which will make possible their individual progress — and our continued national growth.

Social Security Bill Passes House

The House on August 17 finally debated and passed the long-awaited social security bill. This $3.2 billion measure is one of the most important of this session. Its provisions will affect both the 23.7 million Americans now receiving social security benefits, and nearly every employed citizen who pay taxes to sustain the social security trust fund.

The bill reported by the Ways and Means Committee, and passed by the House without amendment, featured increases in benefits averaging 12½% — so that, for example, a couple now receiving $150 per month might in the future receive about $168. In other changes, the bill increased the minimum monthly benefit from $44 per month to $50 per month, and increased the special benefits for individuals over 72 who are not eligible for regular social security payments.

The Committee bill did lift, slightly, the ceiling on the amount of outside earnings which a beneficiary may collect without loss of benefits. I regret that the Committee did not remove this ceiling entirely, a step which I have advocated to permit persons over 65 to continue work, supplement their incomes, and continue as fully contributing members of their communities.

It is also unfortunate that the Committee did not approve one major reform which I have urged for some time — establishment of a system of automatic cost-of-living increases in benefits to offset the impact of inflation. Especially since benefit levels remain low, I feel that it is essential to protect the purchasing power of benefits for those who must rely on social security for their day-to-day needs.

In general, the increases in the House bill were disappointing to many who have advocated greater changes and larger payments. The Committee concluded, however, that 12½% was the highest increase which could be approved without either throwing the trust fund out of balance, or improving punitive burdens of taxation on those presently employed.

The House did debate this bill under great constraints, since it was brought to the floor under a closed rule, which prohibits amendments. This procedure is traditional in the House for legislation involving taxation, and essentially means that Members of the House are given no opportunity to express their positions or preferences through votes on individual sections of such a bill.

The closed rule procedure did impose special problems this year in relation to other titles of the omnibus bill. Since 1936, the public welfare programs have been included in the social security sections of American law, because the two programs were originally proposed and enacted at the same time. This year, thanks to that historical accident, the "no-amendments" blanket was extended to cover several major and controversial changes in the Federal public welfare programs which were included in the Committee's legislation.

Reform of the thirty-year-old public welfare program is a massive task of increasing urgency. The liabilities of the program — and its tremendous and growing cost — are obvious. Yet there is no agreement on the directions which reform should take, and great disagreement about the merits of some of the changes recommended by the Ways and Means Committee.

I feel that a thorough Congressional review of the entire system would be extremely beneficial to us all. I regret that such a reassessment was impossible under the terms of the House debate. Certainly the House should have the opportunity soon to give the entire field the open, complete consideration which the subject and the times demand.

Potomac Group Sees Support For 5 Proposed Dams

An issue of the Potomac Newsletter, published by the new Potomac Basin center, Washington, has predicted that the "final" report of the Federal-State Potomac planning group will endorse at least five reservoirs, four of which would be situated not far from Cumberland.

The report is due soon. The fall meeting of the Interstate commission on the Potomac River basin has been deferred until October 26 and 27 at Cacapon State park to discuss the proposed report.

Reservoirs which the newsletter believes the planners will endorse include Bloomington, Little Cacapon, Sterling, Town Creek and Six Bridge.

Concerning the Bloomington dam which would be located between the Mineral county villages of Barnum and Shaw, the newsletter noted that the House of Representatives had approved $2 million during fiscal year 1968 to acquire land for this already authorized project. It predicted that the Senate would concur in the authorization which was not included in President Johnson's budget.

There was some question on the dam at Six Bridge on the Monocacy river and some controversy on the Royal Glen dam on the South Branch in Grant county.

The newsletter also mentioned a second Savage River dam but concluded that this probably would be low on the priority scale although a good site.

Teach United Statesism

The greatest beneficiaries of the United States free enterprise, free market economy are the young people, who have to get started in life. They do not realize that without private enterprise and property ownership there would be no real freedom of choice for the individual—he would depend on the state for employment.

Strange as it may seem, in a nation that takes pride in boasting of its academic freedom, little of the bread and butter principles of economics that spell freedom of opportunity, and the right to profit by ones own efforts, are taught in our schools and colleges. How many high school and college students, for example, realize that representative government cannot continue to exist in this country unless the individual retains the privilege of making his living without regard to political considerations?

How many can see that government ownership and domination of industry must be continuously resisted, not because industry is sacred, it can be controlled, but because the freedom of the individual is inseparable from the future of private enterprise?

How many realize that so long as representative government is the system desired by U. S. citizens, it is imperative that the people be constantly informed of the part private enterprise and private employment play in maintaining that system?

If the basic principles of economics on which our nation was founded were stressed more in our schools, young people would gain greater respect for, and appreciation of, the privileges and opportunities they enjoy under our representative form of government. They would acquire love for a country that gives them freedom.

Of the billions of dollars in federal tax funds that are being given our schools and colleges some should be earmarked to teach the principles of economics, which have assured unmatched personal liberty, religious freedom and material prosperity to United States citizens—Industrial News Review.

Truck Bed Fall Kills Farmer

Harry Canon Caught Between Bed And Truck Chassis

Harry Wilbert Canan, 58, route 2, Oakland, at Sunnyside, was fatally injured Monday evening about 6:50 when the bed of a dump truck he was repairing fell on him.

His wife, Mrs. Bessie Hehb Canan, had been watching him and as she walked away heard him scream. The dump truck body caught Mr Canan between it and the truck chassis, crushing his chest.

A farmer by occupation, he was a member of the Underwood Evangelical United Brethren Church and was a native of William, W. Va., a son of the late Lewis and Mary Knotts Canan.

Besides his wife he is survived by three sons, Glenn Canan, Wichita, Kan.; Milton Canan, Oakland; Larry Canan, Orrville, Ohio; two brothers, Luther Canan, Crellin; and Elmer Canan, Brady Lake, Ohio; and one grandchild.

The body was taken to the Minnich Funeral home in Oakland. Funeral services are being conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Underwood EUB Church with interment in the Fairview cemetery near St. George, W. Va. Rev. Donald Matthews is officiating and he will be assisted by Rev. Charles Teets and Rev. Gail Hixon.

BUILDING TOPPLES– The Glotfelty Restaurant building, the last of four located along Second street, just north of Green street in Oakland, toppled on Tuesday morning with the aid of some equipment from William A. Shirer, contractor. The former Hinebaugh building, the F. A. Smouse store building and the Oakland bakery building had been razed previously. Some two weeks ago the Glotfelty Restaurant moved to its new location about 25 yards to the north after a new building was constructed and furnished. The upper photo shows the building as it toppled to the ground and the bottom photo shows the dust rising from the demolished structure. In the distance in both photos are Miller's Sanitary market and the present Garrett National Bank building. A modern building will be constructed on the site by the Garrett National Bank.

5,263 Enroll In Public Schools For First Day

Southern Has 1366; 789 At Northern; Total Tops Last Year

Garrett County public schools opened for the 1967-68 term with an enrollment of 5,263, up 284 from the opening day enrollment of last year. The increase included the children from St. Peter's Parochial school which was closed at the end of the previous school term, and 91 kindergarten children.

This is the first year of public support at the state level for the kindergarten program.

Schools opened this year for the first time in a decade when all vacancies were not filled. Three vacancies still exist, two in Southern High school and one at Northern High. Vacancies at Southern are a music teacher and a drafting instructor. The vacancy at Northern is in art.

All other vacancies were filled during the summer, but Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, said many of the teachers employed do not meet full certification standards and blamed the low salary scale for county teachers, when compared to teacher salaries elsewhere in the state as the chief cause. Thirty-nine new teachers were employed since the close of school in June, an unprecedented turnover, Hawkins said.

He also pointed out that the total enrollment at Center Street, Loch Lynn and Red House this year justified an additional teacher for each school but no additional classrooms in these schools are available.

He said total enrollment for the schools of the county expected to reach 5,350 by next Monday, an all-time high enrollment for schools of the county.

At Southern High the opening day enrollment was 1,366, according to Robert F. Rodeheaver, principal, twenty-two greater than last year. Sixty-five teachers and administrative staff members reported. Carl Everly is vice-principal, and James Zimmerman is administrative assistant. Ernest Spoerlein continues as guidance director with senior high while Scott Ward is the new junior high counselor.

New teachers include Mrs. Judy Athey, Douglas Buckley, Charles Bureaw, Mrs. Margaret Smith, Miss Henrietta Lease, Asa McCain, Ruthvan Morrow, Mrs. Pamela Peddicord, James Richards, Mrs. Dorothy Sanders, Scott Ward, Albert Whitmer and Mrs. Jean Whitehair.

At Northern High school Francis Harris, principal, reported 789 students enrolled on opening day, ten more than last year. Ralph Beachley is vice-principal and Darrell Malone is guidance counselor.

The opening day enrollment by schools:

Year's Program for AAUW Chosen

Testing values in a changing society has been the topic chosen for study by the members of Garrett Branch, American Association of University Women, for the coming year, it was announced by Mrs. Richard Travis after the Executive Board meeting last week.

The program plan of the year will be presented at the first meeting to be held Tuesday, September 12, at the home of Mrs. George Hanst on South Third street, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Travis also announced that she had received word from Mrs. Doris Sager, state Fellowship chairman, that the Garrett name grant had been presented at the Silver Anniversary State meeting and was happy to report that the Garrett County branch had the highest giving per capita in the state for Fellowship. One of the main purposes of the National organization is to give Fellowships for advance study for American and foreign students to help strengthen college level teaching.

Four Non-Support Cases Are Tried

Four non-support cases were tried in the office of Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney during the week.

Marion Bittinger charged Roy Bittinger, Jr., with non support of herself and two minor children. He pleaded not guilty at a hearing on September 2 but was found guilty and ordered to pay $15 per week for support.

Hagar Tichnell charged Leo Tichnell with non-support of herself and two minor children. At a hearing on August 30 he pleaded not guilty and was found not guilty by the magistrate.

Barbara Rhodes charged Howard Rhodes with non-support of herself and two minor children. At the trial on September 1 he pleaded not guilty but was found guilty and ordered to pay $14 a week for support of the children.

William Madigan was charged by Sarah Madigan with non-support of herself and two minor

Warm Days, Cool Nights Is Pattern

Warm days and cool nights was the pattern for the week's weather with the morning temperatures being in the low forties and the daylight hours getting up to the mid seventies. Mornings for the most part have had heavy fog.

There was some drizzle and a 58-degree temperature last Thursday and the temperature dropped to 33 degrees in the Oakland area. The mercury reported even lower in the Accident area, but the frost apparently did not damage crops.

Both High Teams To Open Seasons Friday Evening

Both high schools of the county will open their football seasons tomorrow evening.

The Northern High Huskies will meet Valley High of Lonaconing on the home gridiron, while the Southern High Highlanders will play Kingwood High Stags at Kingwood.

Both teams have been practicing daily for the opening encounters. Both have nine-game schedules.

HISTORICAL GROUP GETS SENATE DESK AND CHAIR— A desk and chair occupied by the last full time State Senator from this county, Spencer W. Graham, was officially presented to the Garrett County Historical Society on Tuesday morning in the society's museum on Center street. The desks were moved and the Senate chamber remodeled when it was known that the membership would be increased from 29 to 43 and Senator Graham at that time, 1966, asked that the furniture be given to him for presentation to the Historical society. A resolution was passed which permitted this act. In the photo, left to right are Robert Garrett, editor of the Glades Star, historical society publication; Paul T. Calderwood, president of the group; Mrs. Spencer Graham and former Senator Graham. There are plaques on the desk and chair identifying them. Also given was a photo of the 1966 Senate with its 29 senators, plus some senate officials, shown in the above photo. The present senator from this area is elected from a portion of Allegany county as well as Garrett county.

Red Cross Starts Yule Project For Vietnam Fighters

This month the Garrett County chapter of the American Red Cross is starting the Yule project for servicemen in South Vietnam. This is the production of fifty cloth bags which will be filled with a variety of small gifts. These bags will be shipped to an ARC field director in South Vietnam for distribution to U. S. Servicemen stationed there during the holiday season.

The Garrett county chapter is joining other ARC chapters across the country in this nation-wide program. The goal is to fill at least 525,000 gift bags.

Mrs. Margaret McComas, Oakland, chairman of the program, has the red and green bags ready for distribution to organizations or individuals who wish to fill them. Bags are made of strong cotton material, sturdy enough to withstand tropical heat, and will remain serviceable for personal effects after the contents are used.

Each bag filled will contain a card identifying the chapter and the name and address of the one filling the bag, according to Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, chairman of the county chapter. Suggestions for filling the bags include: moistened paper wash cloths, individually wrapped; pocket games, adult level only; candy and nuts in vacuum packet tins; packaged writing paper.

Organizations of individuals wishing to send these bags may get in touch with Mrs. McComas, North Second street, telephone 334-3144.

It is the desire of the ARC to present a Christmas gift bag to every U. S. serviceman in Vietnam this year.

OEO Gets Grant Of $250,000.00

A contract has been signed with the Office of Economic Opportunity to fund the Neighborhood Youth Corps program operating in Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties, it was announced by Robert Brown, president of the Western Maryland Economic Opportunity committee.

The total cost of the program is in excess of $300,000 with the Federal share being approximately $250,000.

The program provides work-training experience to the three counties served by the grant. Youths enrolled in the program come from economically disadvantaged families and are dropouts from formal education. The youths receive 32 hours work experience and six hours of educational courses weekly and are compensated $1.25 per hour of work. Work training is provided by various governmental and non-profit agencies, Mr. Brown said.

Director of the program is J. E. Gallen with offices maintained at 158 North Mechanic street, Cumberland; and the City Hall in Hagerstown.

Guilty of Assault

Clifford Schroyer, of Friendsville, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery upon Robert Suter on September 4, at Friendsville, when tried before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney on September 6, and was fined $25 and costs. He also was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail but this was suspended upon condition he pay for a pair of glasses of Mr. Suter which were broken in the melee.

Arson Suspected In Sunday Blaze

Arson was suspected in the almost total destruction of a two-story frame building on I street in the town of Mt. Lake Park early Sunday morning.

The rear of the house was completely ablaze when the Oakland fire department arrived and the structure was completely gutted. The home is owned by Clarence Poling, Harper's Ferry, W. Va., and was occupied by Thelma Calhoun. It was previously known as the Killius property.

Firemen said there was a strong odor of fuel oil or kerosene about the place. Jesse Jacobs, deputy state fire marshal is here this week for an investigation into the cause of the blaze.

The Deer Park firemen also responded to the alarm. Oakland firemen were recalled at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning when the smouldering ruins again ignited.

Court Activity To Be Above Normal

There will be more than the usual activity at the September term of Court, according to Fred A. Thayer III, State's Attorney.

The case involving Carl Andrew Tranum on an alleged kidnaping charge, will be heard when the petit jury convenes on Monday, September 25. At the same term of court several persons will be tried for alleged liquor law violations. These cases are in addition to what the grand jury will bring to the court's attention through indictments.

The grand jurors are scheduled to meet Monday, September 11, at 10 o'clock at which time they will hear the charge to the grand jurors by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill. Howard Taft Oursler, Oakland, will be foreman of the jury. They will begin their investigations after the charge and will recess on Tuesday, September 12, in observance of "Old Defender's Day", which is a Maryland holiday, and will reconvene on Wednesday to complete their task.

Several changes were announced in the jury list by Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Circuit Court. Two were excused from grand jury duty. They were John H. Bowman and Vonda J. McIntire. Named in their stead were William Finch and Charlotte S. Calis.

Two were excused from petit jury. They were Harry S. Murray and Norma Joan Bolding. In their stead Fred E. Beachy and Ethelyn Blanche Riley were named.

Two More Excused

Two more persons selected for jury duty were excused on Wednesday.

Margare DiSimone was excused from serving on the grand jury and Albert E. Holtschneider was named. On the petit jury Gladys M. Vannucci was excused and James A. Hesen named in her place.

106 Pints Blood Contributed Here

Four one-gallon donors were included in yesterday's total contribution of 106 pints of blood during the regular visit of the Johnstown American Red Cross bloodmobile unit. The local chapter also is credited with 12 pints contributed during the last period at Garrett County Memorial hospital, making a total of 118 pints. The quota was 100 pints.

The statistics showed that 154 persons were scheduled, 68 kept their appointment, there were 45 walk-ins, with 14 first time donors. One hundred thirteen people came and there were seven rejects. Seventy-eight of the pints were for replacements.

The gallon donors were Miss Lydia Yoder, Charles Grubb, Oakland, Thomas Spiker, Kitzmiller, and Mrs Kathleen Finch, Swanton, having contributed their eighth pint over the past few years.

Seeks Approval Of Additional Funds For Jr. College

In a letter to the Board of Public Works at Annapolis during the past week, Willard L. Hawkins, superintendent of schools, asked for the additional $175,000 from the state capital construction fund, which was previously agreed upon to supplement the amount approved by the Board at a meeting last week.

His letter to Andrew Heubeck, secretary of the board, follows:

"At the meeting of the State Board of Education on August 30, a recommendation was approved by the Board of Public Works to grant an allocation of $812,500 for the construction of the junior college in Garrett County. This was based on an estimated 65% participation in school costs for the year and may vary plus or minus by several points. In order to provide for Garrett County the same consideration that is given to counties under the Regional Junior College Bill the Legislature at its last session authorized the Board of Public Works to grant to Garrett County for construction of the junior college in additional $175,000 from the State Capital Construction Fund. We are anxious to proceed with the architectural work on this college and are writing to you for a commitment to this project of the $175,000 so earmarked by the Legislature from your State Capital Construction Fund. This sum plus the sum approved by the State Board of Education will then bring us up to at least the 75% in construction funds now provided by the State for counties under the Regional Junior College Bill.

"We will not be able to proceed with our junior college project without the additional $175,000. We shall greatly appreciate it if you will place this matter on the agenda of your next Board meeting for favorable action".

Civic and community organizations may arrange to visit the Planetarium by appointment. Paul S. Frank, Jr., former science teacher at Southern High School, will be the director of the Planetarium program.

Contract Awarded For Dam Testing

The Phoenix Construction company, Cumberland, was awarded the contract for setting up a testing "laboratory" near Shaw, W. Va., for preliminary work in connection with the proposed dam above Bloomington on the Potomac river.

Alvin Wilson, firm president, said the opening of a rock quarry was slated. Material in the quarry will be tested for future use. The overburden also will be tested.

The Phoenix firm was awarded the contract on its low bid of $168,000. The rock from the quarry will be crushed and tested to determine its usage in construction of the dam. Other materials on the site of the proposed dam also will be tested.

The Phoenix firm which had the contract to improve and resurface about a mile of roadway, the old Deer Park road, from U. S. 219 at Third street, to the city line eastward, was awarded that contract on a low bid of [illegible].

Questions and Answers

Q. My mother receives Medicare benefits. Will I have to count them to determine whether I provide more than half her support for dependency purposes?

A. No. Benefits under Medicare should not be included for support purposes.

Q. Does a return have to be filed for the year a taxpayer dies? If so, who has to file it?

A. A return must be filed for the year of the taxpayer's death. It is due on the same date it would have been due had he lived.

The executor or administrator of the taxpayer's estate, or his legal representative, should file the return.

Q. I have moved. Will the refund I'm expecting be forwarded to me?

A. Mail should be forwarded to you if a change of address card has been filed with your post office.

Q. I just divorced my wife. Will I have to make any change in my tax withholding?

A. If you have been claiming a withholding exemption from your wife, file a new W-4 withholding certificate with your employer dropping that exemption. You are no longer entitled to claim her exemption since you are divorced.

If you have children and are claiming their exemptions you should drop them too unless you expect to provide more than half their support this year. If your wife is supporting them she will be entitled to their exemption, not you.

Q. My employer provides me with an expense account to cover food and hotel bills on the business trips I make. Will I have to report these expenses on my tax return?

A. If you account to your employer for these expenses and your reimbursement does not exceed these expenses you will not have to report them on your tax return. Employees who are not reimbursed for their business travel costs should keep records of what they spend and claim a business expense deduction for them when they file their income tax returns.

For details on record keeping, send a post card to your district director. Ask for Publication No. 463, Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses.

Q. I've been keeping a record of the tips I receive. Can I report them at the end of the year when I file my tax return?

A. Tips are income and must be reported on your tax return. They should also be reported to your employer each month when they amount to $20 or more. Based on these reports, your employer will withhold the necessary income and Social Security taxes.

Use Form 4070, available at IRS offices, to report tip income to your employer.

Q. My son graduated from high school in June and has started work. If he stays home with us can we still claim him as a dependent?

A. Generally, you may not claim as a dependent anyone who earns $600 or more during the year. However, the earnings test does not apply to your child if he is under 19 years of age or is a full-time student during any part of five calendar months of the year.

You must, of course, meet the other dependency tests. This includes the requirement that you provide more than half his total support for the entire year.

Q. If I take a course in shorthand as my boss wants me to, will that be deductible? He hasn't said he would pay for it.

A. If your employer expressly requires you to take the course to retain your present position then the cost would be a deductible expense. Even if the course is not required by your employer the cost would still be deductible if it is necessary to improve or maintain the skills needed for your job.

Books, supplies, laboratory fees and tuition fees are covered if the course qualifies.

Q. We had to sacrifice some of our furniture for practically nothing when we moved. Can we deduct this loss?

A. No. The law does not allow losses on the sale of personal property to be deductible.

Q. I've got asthma and the doctor says I should air condition our house. Can I deduct the cost as a medical expense?

A. If air conditioning is recommended by a physician for the treatment of a specific condition or illness and the air conditioning is installed primarily for this reason, it is an allowable medical expense. However only the excess of the cost over the increase in value of your house resulting from the installation of the air conditioning is an allowable expense.

To avoid any question about this expense, be sure to obtain a statement from your doctor explaining why he recommends air conditioning for you.

Q. I'm a student and am banking my summer earnings. The bank wants my tax account number. What is that?

A. This is your Social Security number. The law requires financial institutions to ask the depositor for this number and to use it when reporting to IRS the interest payments on all savings accounts earning $10 or more during the calendar year.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

House Small Business Committee Chairman Joe L. Evins, Tennessee, has anounced that he and eight other Members of the Committee have petitioned the Post Office and Civil Service Committee to exempt small, independent newspapers from a proposed rate increase.

C. W. Harder

In a letter to Rep. Thaddeus Dulski, New York, Chairman of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, and Rep. Arnold Olsen, Montana Chairman of the Subcommittee on Postal Rates which is considering the proposal, the Committee members wrote:

. . . "The House Small Business Committee has received numerous communications from publishers of small independently owned newspapers, all of whom raise objections to the proposed increase in postal rates for second class mail. The newspapers referred to are those in the business of disseminating general news of both national and local interest. Their preservation is vital.

"There can be no question about the necessity of bringing the operations of the Post Office Department into better fiscal balance, which will require increased operating revenues. The small, independent newspaper, however, has traditionally been the hub around which the life of small town and rural America has revolved. The heavy rate of attrition has substantially reduced the numbers of such newspapers which have successfully competed for the advertisers dollar. It would be a calamity if the small independently owned newspaper ceased to function as a vital part of American life.

"Most small independent newspapers, by their very nature, must use the mails in large measure to accomplish delivery of the papers to subscribers. Route delivery of such papers is almost non-existent.

"The publishing of small newspapers has never been a high profit enterprise. They perform a vital and essential service and this small business must be protected and preserved . . . exempt from the proposed increase in postal rates which are now being considered by our committee."

Today papers are fighting a life-and-death struggle for existence—against publishing giants as well as contending with great modern communications media such as TV, which can disseminate news and advertising rapidly and vividly. But there remains an enduring need for the community paper whose printed material is at hand to be discussed, preserved, reread. In a sense, small, independent paper represents a cornerstone of our free society.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Sinclair Merrill who passed away five years ago, September 5, 1962.
September brings sad memories, of the one we all loved.
None, but God in Heaven can see.
Some say time heals aching hearts,
But no, it isn't true.
For five long years have passed
And our hearts still ache for you
Sadly missed by Daughters,

PHARMACY PHACTS

from Clinton W. Englander

Question

I've always been told that cleaning wax out of my ears with a hairpin is dangerous. Is this really true?

Answer

What you've been told is correct. Cleaning the wax out of your ears with the rounded end of a hairplin or any other seemingly blunt instrument really can be dangerous.

Ear specialists advise that the skin which lines the inner ear is so thin that even the rounded end of a hairpin can cause injury which can lead to infection. If you're having problems with excessive wax in your ears, your doctor can prescribe medicines which will help you and which we will be glad to dispense to you. In the meantime the advice of our late Dr. McComas "Clean your ears with your elbows," really holds a great deal of truth.

Potomac River Flow Highest In Years

The average August daily flow of the Potomac river at Washington was at its highest (5 billion gallons) since 1955, the U. S. Geological Survey reported.

The high flow 12 years ago was caused by the heavy rains of Hurricanes Connie and Diane. This year's flow was eight times greater than last August when much of the river's basin was suffering from drought. Normal August flow is about 2.5 billion gallons a day.

Along with the increased flow of water the report said, had been an increased flow of sediment, much of it carried downriver by the flood flow of August 25.

The area's ground water table has increased in a month that usually shows a seasonal decline. At 154 feet below land surface the table is 15 feet above normal and 2.5 feet higher than last year.

Mostly routine business occupied the time of the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland at its September meeting on Tuesday night.

Collections also were meagre, the total amount being $3,586.96 with $1,242.40 from water accounts; $1,062.39 from taxes and $1,282.17 from miscellaneous items.

Expenditures amounted to $8,988.96, leaving a balance in the bank of $11,951.93. Among the expenditures were $1,225 for police; $1,155.90 for street labor, $567.95 for street supplies and $611.91 for street lights.

A delegation from the Orchid and North Second street areas appearing before council, obtained an agreement to put tar and chips on the two streets. A 40-foot right of way was granted to Homer L. Bennett to reach his property, east of the golf clubhouse.

The city agreed to purchase a tarpaulin for the town trash truck. Street committee reported work on improvements to Walnut and Arch streets in East Oakland and planned to purchase material from the Mt. Top Paving company. Council also agreed to pay $2,625 to Griffith Engineers for a feasibility report made concerning the sewage disposal system.

Application for a building permit from H. L. Bennett for Rolyans to construct a canopy over the sidewalk in front of the Rolyan store, was refused after a three months' investigation. The store planned to erect posts between parking meters on Third street.

American Textile Industry In Danger

While the exotic new industries associated with electronics and space age metallurgy receive much public attention and consideration, some of the most important basic industries of the country are accorded second-class treatment by the federal government and are more or less ignored by the public.

The textile industry, unfortunately, is one of these basic industries which continually gets a raw deal. For years, American textile companies have had to wrestle with unfair competition from Japanese mills which have modern equipment purchased with U. S. aid funds.

Sad to say, the State Department's disinterest in the fate of the U. S. textile industry is not the only problem afflicting this form of American enterprise. There is another serious threat against the prosperity and well-being of an industry which is a major employer, especially in the Southern States. This threat is a union takeover which, if accomplished, surely would render the industry uneconomic to the point where it could not compete against foreign textile concerns. The result of such a failure to compete would be damage to major investments in textile plants and the loss of thousands of jobs. The reactionary attitude of union leaders is evidenced by their desire for a law to restrict the making of synthetics which are among America's modern marvels.

The union war against the textile industry has been going on for a long time. A fresh offensive is under way, however. It is being led by the Industrial Union Department of the AFL-CIO and the Textile Workers of America. One company has been selected as the prime target—J. P. Stevens & Co., which gives employment to 44,000 persons at 51 plants in the two Carolinas. The union organization in charge of the new offensive already has reportedly spent in excess of $1.5 million to carry out its mission.

Walter Wingo, associate editor of Nation's Business, recently pointed out that "union bosses are angry because the firm's (J. P. Stevens) employes have consistently voted against joining the Textile Workers Union of America, AFL-CIO." Robert T. Stevens, president of the J. P. Stevens mills, recently told a House Labor Subcommittee that "the crime of which we are accused is that our 44,000 employes have not indicated a desire to join any union." He charged that the head of the TWUA "brazenly demands that free speech be silenced, and that our employes be delivered, willing or not, into the keeping of the union by government decree."

The pressure, to be sure, is not only from the union coalition. It comes in even more menacing form from the National Labor Relations Board. Anyone who has ever attended a NLRB hearing and seen one of the agency's trial examiners in action surely knows that free enterprise is the victim of anti-business bias. The businessman just can't win when he comes before the NLRB, which is oriented toward the aims of Big Unionism.

It is easy for liberal critics to dismiss the textile industry as a low-pay industry. Obviously, companies engaged in the manufacture of cloth—and facing competition from Asian textile firms—are not in a position to pay wages comparable to what is offered in the aircraft industry, for example. It is a fact of economic life that some industries, producing high-cost items for a developing market are in a better position to pay top wages than are firms in less lucrative fields.

The unionization of the textile industry in the South would reduce these companies' overall economic health. Investors would be scared away. In the long run, unionization of the Southern textile industry would prove to be a great breakthrough, not for the employes of the U. S. textile firms, but for the Japanese and Hong Kong firms. Unionization, in short, seems nicely calculated to put the American textile industry out of business by forcing them into an unprofitable position.

The textile companies have a hard time presenting these facts to their employes. Federal labor laws are rigged against employers, so that management is far from free to spell out the overriding economic facts to the people they hire. A textile company that aggressively presents the economic facts of life to its employes is sure to have a head-on collision with the NLRB officials who apparently are determined that people working in the industry obtain only one-half of the story.

Miss Sheffield Is Bride of Mr. Durst

Miss Linda Grace Sheffield, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Arthur Sheffield, Grantsville, became the bride of Ronald Lee Durst, Saturday, August 12. Mr. Durst is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Durst, also of Grantsville.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Earl Harper in the United Church of Christ, Grantsville. Mrs. Jack Northam, organist, accompanied Mrs. Donald Swauger, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of Alencon lace over taffeta, fashioned with a bateau neckline, long tapered sleeves, ending in points over the hands and a fitted waistline with modified bell skirt. The back of the gown was highlighted by a drop waistline ending in a chapel train. Her elbow-length veil of illusion fell from a pillbox trimmed in seed pearls. She carried a bouquet comprised of pink rosebuds, surrounded by white carnations.

Miss Karen Bernhard served as her cousin's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Beachy, also a cousin of the bride, and Miss Diana Murray.

Glen A. Durst served as his cousin's best man. Ushers were David Sheffield, brother of the bride, and Lowell Merrill, cousin of the bride.

A reception for 150 guests followed in the church social hall. Mrs. Robert Bernhard and Mrs. William Merrill, aunts of the bride, served the cake while Mrs. Harold Jenkins and Miss Patricia Jenkins, aunt of the bridegroom, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Richard Platter and Miss Nancy Jenkins registered gifts and Mrs. Glen A. Durst registered guests.

For a trip to Gettysburg the bride wore a two-piece beige dress with beige accessories and a rosebud corsage taken from her bouquet.

Prior to her marriage Mrs. Durst was employed at Naylor's Hardware in Oakland. A graduate of Northern High school she also attended Catherman's Business School.

Mr. Durst, also a graduate of Northern High School, is employed at Haribison-Walker refractories in Grantsville. The couple resides on route 2, Grantsville. There were guests from Ohio, Pittsburgh, Washington, Baltimore and Delaware.

REVIVAL SERVICES

NOW GOING ON AT

UNITED PENTECOSTAL CHURCH

OAKLAND, MARYLAND

EACH NIGHT AT 7:30 P.M. WITH

EVAN. JOAN CRUTCHFIELD

OF FRANKFORD, IND.

Everyone is Welcome to Come and Worship the Lord with Us

Little arms reach up. I stoop and lift the precious weight of baby son into my arms and smell his sweetness. Prayers of praise and thanks fill my heart.

Cuddling him close, I remember the night of his birth when Mary and I were told that our baby could not live until daybreak. How we prayed in those early morning hours, holding hands and clinging fast to our belief that God in His goodness would spare our son. How grateful we were for the courage and strength God's love and nearness supplied. How glad we were for the Church where we had learned to love and worship the God who gives us all life.

Do you wonder that Sunday morning finds us both in church joyfully worshipping and giving thanks to God?

Attend the church of your choice. Whatever your need, it stands ready to help.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read you Bible daily.

Mathias Attacks Hershey Order on Draft Deferment

Congressman Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., (R-Md. 6th) Friday night attacked General Lewis B. Hershey's "arbitrary and unjust action" in denying undergraduate draft deferments to full-time students in junior and community colleges.

"I was shocked to learn", Mr. Mathias stated, "that the Director of the Selective Service System, in an operations bulletin issued August 9, has told local draft boards that they may classify students at two-year colleges temporarily in the same category as apprentices and other job trainees". (Class II-A.)

Calling this order "totally unfair and inadequate", the Congressman pointed out that "first, the directive is only advisory, and not binding on local boards. Second, it is only temporary, pending the October meeting of the National Security Council to draw up a new list of critical occupations for deferment of apprentices. Finally, it is directly contrary to Congressional intent and Presidential order, both of which made no distinction in the new draft law between undergraduates seeking baccalaureate degrees, and those enrolled full-time in two-year courses".

Addressing the annual meeting of the Garrett County School Bus Drivers' Association at Northern High School in Accident, Congressman Mathias declared that "General Hershey's directive has thrown administrators at two-year colleges into confusion, and has tossed male students at these institutions into limbo". He urged the President to "clarify the situation at once".

The new draft law approved in June, the Congressman noted, sets "outer limits" for undergraduate deferments at attainment of baccalaureate degree, reaching age 24, or failing to pursue a satisfactory course of full-time study.

"Only a tortured interpretation of the law", he concluded, "could deny student deferments to the thousands of young men who are satisfactorily pursuing their studies full-time in undergraduate institutions which offer associate degrees. Junior and community colleges have always been considered an integral part of our system of higher education, and this equality should be maintained. Congress has drawn the line to encircle all higher educational institutions. It is not General Hershey's mandate to push some students out".

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Maryland State Teachers Association
September 5, 1967

Editor
THE REPUBLICAN
Second Street
Oakland, Maryland
Dear Sir

To answer all of the arguments of Mrs. Ruby Poulin in her letter of August 29 regarding teachers' salaries would require a lengthy publication. However, since much of the letter deals with a comparison of California and Garrett County salary schedules, perhaps a few facts are in order.

Mrs. Poulin states that "most of the districts voted to begin teachers at $4,500 a year..." This is incorrect since it would have been illegal for any district to offer less than the $5,000 which is mandated by California law. It should also be noted that, just as is the case in Maryland, few districts pay the legal minimum (Garrett is the only one in Maryland). Seventy-nine per cent of the classroom teachers in California earned more than $6,500 last year, and this happened in spite of an extremely high percentage of beginning teachers on the lowest step of the various salary schedules.

I agree that "much is said in praise of the California school", but must add that it is more than coincidental that California teachers earn the highest salaries in the nation.

Sincerely yours,
Robert L. Haugen

Miss Jennifer Ann Tarring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tarring, Jr., Knob Hill, Havre de Grace, Md., and Dr. Lutz Heinrich von Muehlen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walrat von Muehlen, Frankfort on Main, Germany, were united in marriage in The Lady Chapel of the Cathedral to Mary Our Queen, Baltimore, on Saturday, September 2, at three o'clock.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Father James O'Hara.

Robert F. Twynham, church organist, played traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white silk organza sleeveless empire gown, under a chapel length coat. This ensemble was accented with Alencon lace. Her bridal veil, a chapel length mantilla, was of illusion net outlined with Alencon lace. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white roses, Stephanotis and ivy centered with a white orchid.

Miss Sandra Tarring, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. Miss Jody Stonesifer was junior bridesmaid. Both attendants wore empire bodice gowns of deep rose chiffon over linen and carried old-fashioned bouquets of sweetheart roses, carnations, Stephanotis and English ivy.

The best man was David L. McManus, of Baltimore. Dr. Ahmid Anvari of Baltimore and Dr. Paul Stonesifer of Belair served as ushers.

The bride's mother was attired in a turquoise blue ensemble with matching accessories. She wore an orchid and Stephanotis corsage.

Also a member of the receiving line was the bride's godmother, Miss Romaine Smith, of San Francisco. Miss Smith wore a pale yellow dress with beige lace trim. Her corsage was a spray of orchids.

The reception was held immediately after the ceremony at Peerces Plantation in Duaney Valley. Following the reception Dr. and Mrs. von Muehlen left for a wedding trip to Mexico, where they will visit Mexico City and the Yucatan Peninsula. Upon their return they will reside in Baltimore.

The Tarrings were former residents of Oakland. The bride is a graduate of Boston university. The groom is a graduate of the University of Munich Medical School in Germany.

Thirteen Killed On State Highways

Thirteen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Eight of those killed were drivers and five were passengers. Alcohol was a contributing factor in four of the deaths; speed in six; and "driver error" was present in all but one.

In commenting on the accidents last week Lt. Col. George Davidson, Chief of Operations of the State Police, said: "The pattern of fatalities on Maryland highways was not much different last week than it has been all during the summer months or, in fact, for a much longer time than we care to contemplate. Failure of drivers to obey the basic rules of the road, and also the rules of common sense, continues to add to the unnecessary loss of life on the roads of the State.

"Alcohol was a prominent contributing factor, and in all but one instance the car was also being operated at an excessive speed; speed alone took its toll; the driver's ignoring a traffic signal was responsible for the loss of two lives; a driver crossed the center line and struck an oncoming car, adding one more to the list; a passenger attempted to adjust a trailer while in motion; a motorcyclist lost control and overturned; and a tractor-trailer ran off the road and down an embankment.

"The list of errors was, as usual, quite varied. However, they all had the same fatal end result.

"All of these accident could have been avoided", concluded Colonel Davidson. "This, in itself, is very tragic; it is even more tragic when we realize that with the apparent unconcern of many motorists there isn't much hope for an improvement in the situation".

WHEN TO SEE A DOCTOR IF WOUNDED

It is most important to know when to see a physician for first aid.

If there is real spurting bleeding, this is an emergency. If slow bleeding continues beyond four to ten minutes, medical attention is needed. If there is foreign material in the wound which does not clean out easily; if it is a deep puncture wound or is long or wide so that stitches may be required, a physician is needed.

Also, if the wound has been in contact with soil or manure, or if signs of infection such as pain, redness, or swelling develop, don't wait. Expert attention quickly will prevent hours of pain and possible infection.

CAPITOL COMMENT

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

Service Academy Appointments

Now that school days are here, many of us are thinking about opportunities for higher education. Recently I discussed with you some of the aids the Federal Government offers to students and their families, and proposals to expand this assistance to help meet rising costs. This week I would like to review the opportunities available to young men of the Sixth District who are interested in attending one of the service academies of the United States Armed Forces.

This year I will be nominating a number of qualified Sixth District men to compete for service academy appointments—for four appointments to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, three appointments to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, and two appointments to the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs. In addition, I will be nominating ten young men to compete with other Maryland candidates for six Maryland appointments to the Merchant Marine Academy.

In the past, Sixth District nominees have been young men of outstanding ability. Last year, in fact, the Naval Academy thought so highly of the Sixth District candidates that four were appointed by the Academy itself, in addition to the two appointments allotted to the District. This is an excellent record, and I have every confidence that the quality of the competition this year will be as high.

Most of you are familiar with the system of selection which I have used every year since 1961. It is a strictly competitive system, based on a young man's performance and the recommendations of a review board composed of distinguished citizens of the District. I have found this system to be quite objective, and thus fair and equitable to all applicants.

The basic requirements for candidates are: (1) he must be a resident of the Sixth District; (2) he must take an examination given by the Civil Service Commission, and receive a passing grade; (3) he must pass a physical examination; and (4) he must appear for a personal interview with the review board. These requirements are fairly strict, because they are designed to idntify those young men who have the mental ability and physical condition to complete successfully the difficult course of study and training at the academies. The personal interview is intended to help me and the review board identify the qualities of individual leadership which are essential for our future military leaders.

Last year I received more than one hundred applications for service academy nominations. The young men finally appointed on the basis of my nominations were: to the Naval Academy, John P. Cossick (Hagerstown) and William E. Zapf, Jr. (Cumberland); to the Military Academy, Joseph C. Rhyne (Ft. Ritchie) and Philip E. Lower (Rockville); to the Air Force Academy, Lafayette P. Temple III (Bethesda) and Lynn J. Kern (Rockville). In addition, the Naval Academy gave appointments to George A. Lippold (Cumberland), George E. Steel (Wheaton), Robert T. Futrell (Silver Spring) and Robert W. Jacobs (Bethesda).

I would encourage all young men interested in competing this year to write to me (Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D. C. 20515) for application forms and retailed information.

Injured Man Gets $490,000 Award

A damage suit brought by a LaVale man who was injured in a two-vehicle crash at Bruceton Mills, W. Va., April 27, 1964, has resulted in a settlement by agreement of $490,000 in the U. S. Southern District Court of New York.

The suit was brought in behalf of James Willetts, who was seriously injured when the station wagon in which he and some members of the West Virginia University baseball team were riding enroute to Richmond, Va., was struck by a car driven by a representative of the General Telephone Directory company near Bruceton.

Mr. Willetts was varsity first baseman on the WVU team, a junior student majoring in industrial management. The settlement ended nearly two and one-half years of litigation. The settlement was believed to be one of the largest ever negotiated in a local case of this kind.

Willetts initially was hospitalized in West Virginia university hospital in intensive care unit for two months, then was transferred to the Institute of Physical Medicine and rehabilitation, New York City, where he remained a year, returning to LaVale Aug. 27, 1965. He has been receiving physical therapy treatments at Memorial hospital, Cumberland. He also suffered from pneumonia and underwent abdominal surgery for a stomach ulcer.

Memorandums filed in the case showed the defendant's driver, ascending an incline and curve, lost control, went into a 900-foot skid and struck the plaintiff's vehicle. The vehicle in which the plaintiff was riding was as far over on its own shoulder of the road as it could get.

Steve Harrick, baseball coach at West Virginia, was driver of the station wagon in which Willetts was a passenger.

He and other members of the team were injured, but not seriously. Injuries suffered in the mishap included a dislocated vertebrae in the neck, and paralyzed Mr. Willetts. He has regained use of his right side, and can walk with a cane, it was revealed.

Teacher Committee To Study County Finances Named

The appointment of a "Blue Ribbon Committee" to investigate educational conditions and the financial structure of Garrett county was announced this week by Milson C. Raver, executive secretary of the Maryland State Teacher association.

Raver said the committee was appointed at the request of the Garrett County Teachers association following the refusal, last spring, of the County Commissioners to grant increased salaries to the teachers. The commissioners cut the property tax 55 cents in June.

Garrett County teachers are now the lowest paid teachers in the state and the only county offering the absolute minimum program required by Maryland laws, Mr. Raver said.

Appointed to the committee were John Barrett, supervisor of high schools, Talbot county; Thomas Bender, Grantsville business man and past president of Northern High school PTA, Wilbur S. Hoopengardner, superintendent of schools, Caroline county; H. McKee Price, supervisor of finance, Allegany county; John Thompson, vo-ag teacher, Frederick county and president of Frederick county Teachers association.

The committee is to meet next week to plan for a visit to the county. Following an investigation the committee will forward its findings and recommendations to the president of GCTA, Lawrence K. Myers. The report also will be made available to the public for distribution throughout the state. Mr. Raver said in addition the report would serve as a basis for future action by MSTA to alleviate the critical problems facing the teaching profession in the county.

Campaign Against Measles Begins

"Back to School, but not back to Measles", is the announced goal of the Garrett County Health Department, as an intensive Measles Vaccination Campaign opens here on September 20th and 21st in seventeen County Elementary Schools.

Every Garrett County child in kindergarten, and grades one, two, three and four will be given a Measles Vaccination request slip in School this week. Parents are asked to complete and return the slips before September 15th. If the child has never had Measles and has not yet had a Measles Vaccination, parents are urged to take him to the family doctor for this protection, or they may take advantage of the Health Department Campaign and request that the child be vaccinated at School on either September 20th or 21st.

Free Measles Vaccinations in the Schools will be given only to children who return the signed request forms, according to Dr. Arthur F. Jones, Deputy State Health Officer.

The vaccine to be used is described as a "one shot" vaccine that does not require a simultaneous injection of gamma globulin and one that causes only a minimal number of side reactions. The Measles Vaccine is believed, by health officials, to confer lifelong immunity against the red, hard, seven day Measles.

Garrett County Health Officials estimate that approximately 500 children in the first four grades of the County School system are still suceptible to Measles and it is this group that will be the goal of the "Back to School, but not Back to Measles" Campaign.

Parents in doubt about whether their children have had measles or have been vaccinated should contact the family doctor or Garrett County Health Department for more definite information.

Grand Jurors Are Charged By Judge Hamill

Points Out Duties; Cites Alleged Violations Of Liquor Laws

Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., delivered the charge to the September term grand jurors when they convened Monday morning in the Court House in Oakland.

He pointed out in general terms the duties of the jurors and also recent federal court decisions which had hampered officers in the apprehension of alleged criminals. He also cites alleged liquor law violations.

Excerpts of Judge Hamill's charge include these:

"It needs no emphasis from me to support the proposition that law and public order are the basic conditions of satisfactory social organization, and that the criminal law is the most fundamental of all the branches of the law. Owing to the character and integrity of the men and women who have comprised its membership in the past, and the careful and conscientious performance of their duties, the Grand Jury has obtained and merited the confidence of the public so that service on the Grand Jury is regarded as a high honor.

"There is a double duty cast upon you as Grand Jurors; a duty to society or to the public to see that parties against whom there is just ground to charge the commission of a crime, shall be held to answer that charge; and a duty to the individual to see that he or she is not subjected to prosecution upon accusations having no better foundation than public clamor or private malice.

"The responsibilities and powers of your body are broad and

Mr. Snyder's duties will involve training the field staff of the Farmers Home Administration in Delaware, Maryland and New Jersey on various phases of the Farmers Home Administration real estate activities. He will be assistant real estate loan officers and will have his offices in Trenton, New Jersey.

Mr. Tyson pointed out that because of Mr. Snyder's many years of experience and successful performance, especially in real estate financing, he is well qualified for these new duties.

He is being replaced by William H. Poffenbarger, who comes from Frederick county. He is a graduate of Frederick High school and received a degree in agriculture from Virginia Polytechnic institute in 1966. Mr. Poffenbarger is married and the father of one child.

Mr. Snyder will commute from New Jersey to Oakland on week-ends and does not plan to move to the New Jersey area until next summer, when his daughter, Barbara, will complete her studies at Southern High. A son, Richard, is in the

Father and Son Killed in Crash

A father and son who resided in the Terra Alta area, were killed early Monday morning when their truck apparently went out of control and wrecked along U. S. route 30 near New Oxford, Pa., near Gettysburg.

Everett Kent Laraway, 18, driver of the truck and Robert Leslie Laraway, 37, route 2, Terra Alta, were pronounced dead at the scene.

State police said the truck, traveling east, went across the highway, hit a utility pole and then rammed into a tree. Both men were iron workers for the Charles S. Bell company, Baltimore.

A joint funeral service is being conducted this afternoon from the Terra Alta Methodist church in charge of Rev. S. D. Sawyers and Rev. William Trowbridge. Interment will be in Terra Alta cemetery.

The father is survived by his mother, widow, two sons, a daughter, four sisters and a brother. The son is survived by his mother, his wife, two brothers and sisters, his two grandmothers.

Kitzmiller Man Dies In Crash

Killed Saturday Night On W. Va. Route 42 Near Elk Garden

Paul Howard Keplinger, Jr., 33, of Kitzmiller, was killed and three members of a Leesburg, Va., family were injured shortly before midnight Saturday when the cars in which they were riding collided on West Virginia route 42, between U. S. route 50 and Elk Garden.

Keplinger, driver of one of the cars, was killed instantly as a result, apparently, of neck injuries.

Leon D. Dodds, 29, of Leesburg, Va., driver of the other car, was admitted to Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser, W. Va., for treatment of a knee injury. His wife Mrs. Wilda C. Dodds, 29, was admitted to the same hospital for treatment of a shoulder injury, and a stepdaughter, Debra J. Hott, 12, for minor injuries.

West Virginia State police said they were told the injuries were not considered serious.

Trooper R. L. Johnson, who investigated with Cpl. J. R. Potts and Trooper J. I. Plybon, said the accident occurred as Mr. Keplinger was driving north on route 42, apparently on the wring side of the road. He said that when the Kitzmiller man cut the wheels of the car to get back on his side of the road the car was struck broadside by the Dodds car, headed south on a slight curve.

Born at Elk Garden Mr. Keplinger was a son of Paul H. and Josephine Sheetz Keplinger, Sr., Elk Garden. He had served in the U. S. air force and was employed by the D. and L. Coal company. He was a member of the American Legion post at Piedmont.

Also surviving besides his parents, are his widow, Norma Jean Paugh Keplinger, a daughter, Lisa M. Keplinger, at home; two step children, Kenny E. and Donna Fike, both at home; three brothers, Troxell and Eugene Keplinger, both Elk Garden; David Keplinger, Fort Bliss, Tex.; and four sisters, Mrs. Lois McCloud, McDonald, Pa.; Mrs. Ruth Paugh, Kitzmiller; Mrs. Essie Pennington, Elk Garden; Mrs. Karen Harvey, Baltimore.

The body was taken to the home of his parents in Elk Garden.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Nethken Hill Methodist church by Rev. Joseph Phillips, pastor. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Eight Lose Cash, Pants To Robbers

Three masked gunmen took about $5,400 in cash at the Owl's Club, a private club holdup early Saturday morning and fled after making the patrons, all men, strip to their underwear shorts.

State Police said a trio armed with a semiautomatic army carbine and two pistols staged the 3:30 a. m. holdup at the Terra Alta Owl's club on West Virginia route 7, about a mile west of the Maryland line, at Corinth.

Seven patrons and the club president, Harland Spahr, were in the establishment. Trooper H. W. Richardson said they gave this account:

The patrons were playing gin rummy in a basement room. One started to leave and when he opened the door the three bandits walked in.

They took the patrons' money, rings and clothing. They also took cash, 21 bottles of liquor, 18 cartons of cigarets, six T-bone steaks and pistol from the club, Richardson said. The bandits told the patrons their trousers would be left outside where they could be retrieved but the garments had not been found several hours after the holdup.

Spahr said the men were wearing hoods over their faces, similar to ski masks. They acted tough, he said, but did not harm anyone. They took no wrist watches, one of them remarking that the watches "were too cheap".

Robbed were Spahr, Robert Storey, Deep Creek Lake; Willard Lee, Terra Alta; Roy Jordan, Crellin, John Gibbons and Frank Diserio, Hopemont. Bill Frankhouser, Terra Alta, and Gaul Garbart, Kingwood.

PLANETARIUM OPEN—The new Soitz planetarium, to develop the soace and earth science program among county students, was opened this week. The machine shown here, projects the stars and planets on a 30-foot diameter ceiling area. The new machine will be demonstrated by Paul Frank, Jr., director of the program, and its actions explained to various groups of students and local adult groups. A complicated instrument panel is used in projecting the positions of the heavenly bodies. Mr. Frank is shown here pointing out a particular phase to representatives from The Republican office yesterday morning.

Freeway Plan Given Approval

Work On Nine-Mile Section May Start By End Of 1968

The State Roads Commission announced the receipt of Federal approval of location plans for the first section of the new National Freeway to be built in this county.

Jerome B. Wolff, Chairman-Director, said the Federal action "keeps us on schedule". The Commission, he said, still hopes to complete the 40-mile portion of the freeway from Cumberland to the West Virginia line before the Appalachian Act expires in 1971.

He said the Bureau of Public Roads approval of a 9-mile section from the Garrett-Allegany County line west to a point near Grantsville will allow negotiation of engineering and design contracts and a probable construction start by the end of next year.

But he warned that Maryland "will be able to complete only about half of the 78-mile freeway by 1971" due to a lack of funds. The total National Freeway from Hancock to West Virginia will cost an estimated $198 million.

"Unfortunately the Appalachian Highway Program is not, as originally indicated, a program under which the Federal Government pays 70 percent of the costs", Mr. Wolff declared. "Federal assistance will actually pay only 45 percent of the project's cost west of Cumberland".

"Unless additional funds are provided", he said, "the freeway's construction east of Cumberland to Hancock must be indefinitely deferred".

Ground Breaking Ceremonies Held at McHenry, Sept. 2

Ground breaking ceremonies for the new Deep Creek fire hall took place at McHenry on Saturday morning, September 2.

Master of ceremonies was Walter Wachter, president of the fire company. He was assisted by Stuart Kuhnle, member of the company and vice-president of the Allegany-Garrett Firemen's Association.

The opening address was given by B. O. Aiken, member of the Maryland House of Delegates. Then using a shovel painted gold with fire-truck red handle, Mr. Aiken turned over the first shovel of dirt.

Other guests who spoke briefly and in turn used the shovel in the ground breaking event were County Commissioners, Allen Paugh and Hubert Friend; Tom Johnson representing the Deep Creek Property Owner's Association, James C. Lemmert representing the First National Bank, George Comp representing the Deer Park Fire Company and Civil Defense; Mr. Skewers representing Gorman Fire Company; Mrs. Comp representing the Women's Auxiliary of the county; Mrs Mary K. Paugh and Mrs Frances Sweene representing the local fire company auxiliary.

Approximately 100 people were present for the occasion.

The men of the company are now in the process of getting the masonry work done in anticipation of having the building under roof before winter.

School Board Gives Progress Report on Building Projects

A progress report on new building projects in the county school system was among the items discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the county school board on Tuesday.

Approved and in the hands of the architect are one involving a $300,000 addition to Southern High school to provide new Home Economics and Business Education facilities, and the other a $90,000 expansion of the agriculture shop at Northern to include a greenhouse.

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent, said both projects are financed largely from Federal and State funds and are expected to be under contract by spring.

Among other items the board approved a contract with St. Peter's Catholic church authorities for rental of the school building for the year at $3,250 for use for the first publicly supported kindergarten in the county. The board plans to expand the kindergarten program for all children in the county as fast as facilities and teachers become available.

The board signed the contract with Johannes and Murray, architects for the proposed junior college, and authorized that it be sent to the County Commissioners for their signatures as soon as state funds for the college were officially approved by the Board of Public Works. Mr. Hawkins said he was

There are three critical vacanies still existing in the high schools, senior high school music and vocational drafting at Southern, and a vacancy in art at Northern.

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent, also told the Board of Education on Tuesday that additional elementary teachers were needed at Center Street, Red House and Loch Lynn but that neither rooms nor teachers were available.

He also announced heavy enrollments reported in the Oakland area schools which would call for extra classrooms from local money within the near future.

Jurors Return 13 Indictments; Meet Two Days

Kidnapping And Robbery Charges Result In Three Counts

The September Term grand jurors completed their work on Wednesday afternoon after being in session for two days. They returned thirteen indictments after examining thirteen witnesses. No true bills of indictment were found in two cases.

Three of the indictments were against Carl Andrew Trenum, two for kidnapping, and one for robbery with a deadly weapon. Trenum was arrested after a Grantsville area couple, Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. and Beulah Michael, reported they were kidnapped, robbed and taken as hostages around the middle of August.

He had escaped August 4 from the House of Correction where he was serving a sentence for assault with intent to kill.

The other ten Indictments are against one individual who was under bond for his appearance before a magistrate, but who had not yet been placed under bond for his appearance in the Circuit Court. Three of the indictments were on bad check charges and seven were on charges of fraud. His name will not be released until next week.

The jurors organized by appointing Arthur G. Coddington and Blucher F. Allison as clerks and Robert O Glotfelty as door keeper. H. Taft Oursler was foreman.

New Planetarium Officially Open

The new Spitz planetarium, which was recently added to the facilities of the county Board of Education, was officially opened on Tuesday, September 12, with a visitation by presidents of the Parent-Teacher associations and the Board members, along with the county superintendent.

The planetarium, a section of the old Oakland High school, on Green street, has a 30-foot diameter area with a dome rising above it for the projection of the stars. Projection at various times of day and night can be made, showing the heavens as they actually are at that time.

Paul S. Frank, Jr., former science teacher at Southern, is the director. Mr. Frank has arranged for visits by students of various schools during this month, and in addition is making the planetarium available to local groups.

The first public showings are to be this evening, at 7:30, 8:30 and 9:30. Sixty people can be accommodated at one time.

Besides the planetarium itself there is a classroom, a conference room and rest room facilities. Entrance to the planetarium it from Green street, using the former fire escape.

Funds were provided from federal sources under NDEA, Title III and from some capital outlay funds. Total outlay was $35,000. The board also has a grant of $25,000 under Title III ESEA for operational costs of the program.

Teachers will be invited to the planetarium on Monday and Tuesday, September 18 and 19, at 4 p. m., and 7:45. The Oakland Rotary club will visit on Thursday evening, September 21, the Lions club on September 25, and Grantsville Rotary on the 26th, with the Oakland Civic club scheduled for October 31, in the afternoon.

Repair Shop Is Destroyed by Fire

A repair shop on the Red Run road, owned by Elwood Savage, was entirely destroyed by fire of unknown origin on Tuesday evening about 10 o'clock.

Oakland fire department responded to the call and prevented the flames from spreading. Firemen estimated the damage at $500. Firemen remained on duty until about 11:20. Mr. Savage had been working with his forge earlier, and it was supposed that sparks from this must have ignited the building.

roads garage the following was emphasized. "We inspected the purchase of heavy equipment and found it in good shape and worth the price which was paid for it".

The report covered activities on the forestry camps, offices in the K. of P. building, jail and sheriff's residence, court house, county roads garages, hospital. Excerpts from the report include the following:

Backbone Mountain camp, in excellent condition with one exception. A sidewalk was needed between the two main buildings. A third supervisor and an extra cook should be hired, it was recommended.

There was need for top soil to build up the lawn at the Meadow Mountain camp and recommended it be brought to attention of the County Commissioners.

Complaints were registered about bulding rented from K. of P. lodge: no locks on doors, linoleum and baseboards in poor condition, some door sills cracked and dangerous. It was recommended that a vault be provided for storage of money; no files or storage area for records; recommended that shelves be built to hold docket books, office furniture old and mixed and presents a sorry appearance, magistrate's office has a poor and inadequate adding machine.

Grounds at jail and residence found in excellent condition; rusted out downspout should be replaced, jail itself generally sound but main floor needs painting and much work done on plumbing. Men's shower "is a disgrace" to Garrett County and should be brought to the attention of the Health Department. Heating system too old to be serviceable. This has been noted and ignored by previous Commissioners. Should be replaced by automatic system, masonry work needs to be repaired.

Recommended that civil defense department connect its auxiliary power unit and make ready for emergency use. Grand jury asked what "is being done with the State grant for Police and law enforcement of $17,500." Sheriff Frantz was highly commended for doing a good job with existing facilities.

Court House appearance and condition generally good. It asked for consideration in landscaping the grounds. Recommended a full time custodian be hired.

Balance of report in full:

The County Treasurer's Office remain very crowded. It was noted that there are now three vacant offices on the third floor and we recommend consideration be given to possible juggling office space to relieve crowding. The County Assessor's office still needs to be painted. Several recommendations of previous Grand Juries have already been taken care of, the County Commissioners and Custodian are commended for doing a good job in this respect. The Probation Office on the third floor needs painting.

Hospital

We found the Hospital in excellent condition and operation. The Staff should be highly recommended in the job they are doing. We recommend that the County Commissioners incorporate in their levy this coming year money to help equip the new wing of the hospital which is being built.

Conclusion

It is recommended that the County Commissioners take steps to control the operation and formation of junk yards, trash heaps, etc., it being recognized that the rights of one citizen shall not infringe on the rights of another or the general public.

Accident County Roads Garage

The County Roads garage was found to be in good condition and well kept. We recommend the gas and oil room be ventilated on the floor level to let the gas fumes escape which now cause a fire hazard where fumes go down to the basement.

Oakland County Roads Garage

We have found several previous recommendations not carried out. The oil building has not been built but planning is in process. Seat belts have not been installed in vehicles. Repair of floor has not been made but some materials have been bought for same. We found that signs have been erected at the Park bridge as was recommended and also the fence has been erected around the supplies. We inspected the purchase of heavy equipment and found it in good shape and worth the price which was paid for it. There are no further recommendations.

After the roast beef dinner, "The Crestmen", an area Christian recording quartet sang two numbers. After a welcome and introduction of Mt. Peet; and teenager, Jon McCoy; all from Tri-State YFC, Cumberland, and they told what YFC has meant to them. Following two more numbers by the "Crestmen", Jay B. Katz, executive director of Eastern Area YFC International, spoke about "What is Youth For Christ" and unveiled "Mt. Top YFC's Design for the Future", giving those in attendance an opportunity to support the local ministry.

Robinson, who was in charge of the committee making the arrangements. Mr. Wentzel was to have followed the dinner with an illustrated lecture on a conservation topic.

Miss Offutt, Mr. Dean Wed

Miss Fannabelle Gosnell Offutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Humbird Offutt of Arlington, Va., and John Alan Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Dean of Leonardtown, were married in a double ring ceremony Saturday, Sept. 2nd, by the Rev. John S. Wysocki in St. Agnes Catholic church, Arlington, Va. The soloist was Mrs Russell Dean, aunt of the groom.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ful length empire gown, with bell sleeves, of imported ivory organza over ivory moire, appliqued with imported lace and seed pearls. The circular detachable train was edged with lace. Her shoulder length silk illusion veiling fell from a crown of appliqued lace with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white gladmelias with pink roses and stephanotis.

Miss Deborah Ann Pestell of Arlington, Va., was maid of honor. She wore a full length empire gown of chiffon in hot pink with wrist length sleeves. The bodice was edged in appliqued lace. Defenders Day Observed Here

Defenders day commemorates the Battle of North Point which occurred September 12, 1814. In that battle the British were halted in their effort to invade Baltimore by land.

Church Women Meet

The LCW of Zion Lutheran Church, Jennings, met on September 10 in the church.

Leota Baker presided and led the topic, "The Caretakers". The topic endeavored to help the group discover and see God anew as the Creator, to find their appointed place in helping to care for the earth wisely and according to God's plan; and to see what happens when man forgets that God created the earth for the sustenance and enjoyment of all mankind.

A brief business meeting followed the discussion of the theme.

The group had paid tribute to the memory for a former pastor, The Rev. James M. Allan through the presentation of altar flowers on August 27.

"Guidelines", the LCW periodical, was distributed to those present.

All who are serving for the Old People's Home in Zelienople are asked to have their work completed by September 24 so it can be packed for shipment.

Mrs. Herman C. Meyers will lead the topic, "Time for Living" when the group again meets on October 8, in the church.

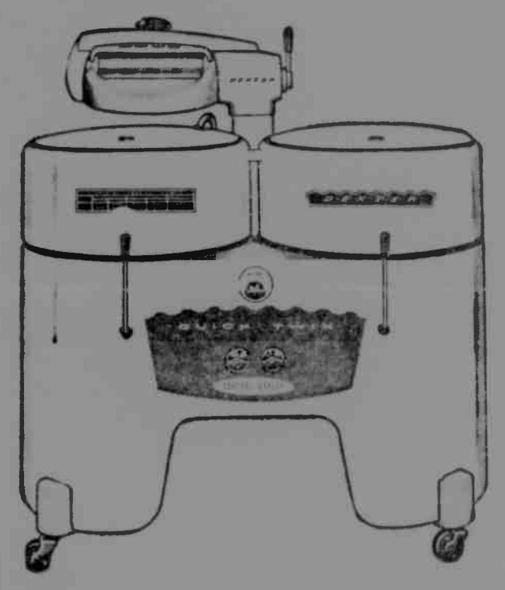
Question

The other day at a card party, I heard a woman refer to her prescription as a "medicament." Is there such a word, and if so, what does it mean?



Answer

There is such a word as "medicament," and it means any substance which is used in curing or healing, so using this word to refer to a prescription is, of course, correct. On the other hand, we'll agree that the word is rarely heard in general conversation. This word, as well as the words "1" medic, "2" medical, "3" medicate, "4" medicinal and "5" medicine are based on the Latin word "medicus" which meant doctor or physician.

Freeway Plan

Mr. Wolff said it was decided in 1966 to "concentrate all available funds" on completion of the four-lane dual highway from Cumberland to the West Virginia line. The decision, he said, was fully supported by the Maryland Port Authority, the Baltimore Chamber of Commerce and local government and civic groups in Maryland's Appalachian counties.

"We felt that west of Cumberland the need was particularly urgent for a 'developmental' highway, one which could provide maximum traffic services as does the Pennsylvania Turnpike and thus help the development of Western Maryland's economy and tourist industry", he said.

Between Cumberland and Hancock, where the remaining 38 miles of the National Freeway are to be built, Mr. Wolff said "only limited steps can be taken at this time" to upgrade existing US 40 to freeway standards.

As "quick start" projects authorized by the Appalachian Regional Commission to begin the freeway program, the Commission is completing the addition of dual lanes on about six miles east of Cumberland.

Lack of funds, Mr. Wolff said, has also caused deferral of two projects to build short spur roads from the National Freeway up to Pennsylvania. One of these is planned along existing US 220, just east of Cumberland, and another along US 219, at Grantsville in Garrett County.

Mr. Wolff pointed out that the Appalachian Act of 1965 appropriated $840 million for Appalachian highways, later reduced to $804 million after deducting administrative costs, of which Maryland was to receive some $69 million for 101 miles of freeway construction. Maryland's mileage was later cut to 78 miles.

He said a comprehensive 1966 study by the Bureau of Public Roads, however, showed that the total cost of the Appalachian system would be $2.3 billion. Although the same study indicated that Maryland's freeway would cost $198 million, its program share was cut to about $48 million.

Matching funds are provided by Maryland in part from its current Six Year Program of primary and secondary highway construction and in part from a portion of a $60 million bond issue authorized by the 1966 General Assembly.

"In view of this situation", Mr. Wolff said, "we have only enough funds to complete half the program unless additional funds are provided at the Federal level and, on a matching basis, by the State".

To assure completion of the National Freeway from Cumberland to the West Virginia line, Mr. Wolff said work on two sections is being pushed.

Just west of Cumberland, four miles of freeway are under construction from the end of the existing Cumberland Thruway, at Lee Street, out to Vocke Road, near LaVale. The project was about 10 percent complete at the end of July and should open by the spring of 1969.

Beyond this point, to the Garrett County line, surveys are about 50 percent completed and negotiations underway for engineering and design contracts. A construction start is expected by the end of 1968.

Mr. Wolff said it is hoped the balance of the National Freeway west of Cumberland will be under construction no later than the spring of 1970.

West of Grantsville, it will pass near Keyser's Ridge en route to the West Virginia line. Location studies for this final section may be submitted to the Bureau of Public Roads by the end of this month and engineering and design started by the end of December.

Trail Ride Well Attended

Approximately seventy persons attended the 3-day trail ride of the Garrett County Horsemen's Association, Inc., September 2, 3 and 4.

Camp was set-up on Saturday on property owned by Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Smith on Boy Scout Road, Deep Creek Lake.

Twenty-two horses and riders viewed the trails. A wagon was provided for the non-horseback riders.

Contests and games were held on Sunday morning.

hoping for this approval not later than October 1.

NDEA funds for materials and equipment are to be reduced this year from $35,000 to $22,000. This sum on a matching basis becomes available for instructional equipment and materials at all grade levels and for all schools in proportion to enrollment. Last year the full $35,000 was used to purchase the new Planetarium, installed this summer.

Mr. Hawkins reported that approximately $7,500 would be available this year from Title II funds for additional library books. This hinges on condition that the county budget for school library books of some $12,000 annually is not diminished.

The board approved purchase of a school bus to be used for Title I schools and outdoor education, to be paid for from Title I funds.

The bid on fire, boiler and liability insurance for a three-year period was accepted from Harold Holsopple, low bidder, in amount of $20,311. The insurance covers over seven and a half million dollars worth of school buildings and equipment.

Completed audit of school board accounts were approved and payment to George McLaughlin, CPA., approved. Copies of the audit were sent to the County Commissioners and State Department of Education and that auditor's report would be sent to The Republican for publication in November. Mr. McLaughlin complimented the financial secretary, Mrs. Mary Grace Umstot on her records.

The superintendent will solicit bids for replacement of front steps and concrete walks at Northern.

Bus contractors had complained to the board about being cut from 186 to 184 days. It was explained contractors were paid for the number of days in the school calendar which varies one or two days each year. The board was told the state would not pay for more days than their services call for.

The board met with presidents of PTAs and discussed salary needs and building needs. The group felt something had to be done to improve the teacher salary scale before another contract period.

Thirty-five teachers resigned from last year's staff with low salary scale listed as chief cause. The presidents were then taken to the new Planetarium where a preview lecture was given by Paul S. Frank, Jr., director. Lunch was served at the Crellin school.

Members of the board and superintendent plan to attend the annual meeting of the Maryland Association of School Board members at Gaithersburg September 28 and 29. Mr. Hawkins said he also would attend a meeting in Frederick two days next week, called by the State superintendent of schools of all superintendents in the state.

Man Sentenced On Charge of Assault

Kenneth Bushrod Hardesty, of the McHenry area, was tried in court last Friday on two charges of assault upon juveniles. He was found guilty on one charge and not guilty on the second.

Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill sentenced him to two years to the jurisdiction of the Department of Correction.

The assaults were alleged to have occurred around the middle of June upon a girl and a boy. The Judge found him not guilty of the assault charge against the boy, but guilty of the charge against the girl.

Hardesty had been scheduled for a hearing August 22 and when he failed to appear in court a bench warrant was issued bringing him to the county jail where his bond was increased. The man had pleaded not guilty to both charges. The court ordered that the Garrett County Welfare board supervise the home where the stepchildren are living.

Custody Case Heard

A case involving the custody of five minor children was also heard last Friday involving Donald DeWitt, of the Underwood section. Three of the children, all sons, were placed in custody of the father, and two daughters were given over to the custody of the mother.

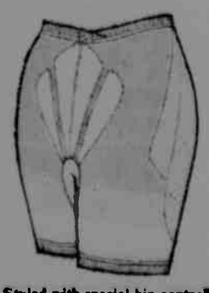
THE ONLY PANTIE GIRDLE WITH 3 KINDS OF CONTROL FOR YOUR KIND OF FIGURE

Perma-Lift "Technique"



THE ADJUSTABLE THIGH PANTIE

"Technique" is unique. It not only holds you, it molds you. As no other girdle ever has, and possibly never will. It's a multi-control pantie made of an ingenious new stretch fabric of spandex and nylon that has control knitted in for every kind of shape.

Control 1 : maximum support around the hips, tummy and backside, preventing those spreadable areas from spreading. And, for even greater control, panels in front and back.

Control 2 : medium support around your upper thighs keeps them firm. Because the control is decreased gradually, you get a smooth silhouette. No unsightly bumps or lumps that poke out of snug knits.

Control 3 : minimum control at the pantie leg-bands. Where other panties bind and pinch, "Technique" support relaxes and lets you do the same. Control is light, allowing each leg to adjust to your thigh size without unsightly bulges. Just $11.00.

Styled with special hip controlling panels $13.00.

A POEM WRITTEN BY A MARINE

P. F. C. Danny E. Nicklow, U. S. M. C., left his home one year ago, September 13, 1966, for service to his Country in Vietnam. The following poem was written by Danny and sent home by him prior to his death March 16, 1967. He was a Radioman with the First Battalion, Ninth Marines, Third Division, on patrol duty at Ka-Son Air Base when he was killed in action.

Who Is He?

You sit at home and watch T.V.
You're sipping a refreshing, cool iced tea.
The news comes and then you hear,
The All-Star game is drawing near,
And that men are dying in the sand.

A frown appears upon your face,
You're tired of hearing about that place,
Who cares about Vietnam across the sea?
It's far away and doesn't concern me.

You would rather hear the Beatles play
Than learn about the world today.
But stop and think a moment or two
And ask yourself if this concerns you?

It's great to be alive and free.
He's giving his life for me
So that I may live under Liberty.

He is far away fighting the war,
Instead of fighting at my front door.
This guy who lives in filth and slime,
How can he do it all the time?

He is about my age so why should I care
About a war someone else should share?
Civilians call him vile names and make fun of his cause,
Yet he is always the first to enlist for the war.

You're a lucky guy, you can laugh with cheer,
Because you have not faced such fear;
He faces death each and every day
But he has always got something funny to say.

No mail again, a twang of sorrow,
But what the hell, there is always tomorrow.
But still he wonders about home,
His girl is there and he's all alone.

He hopes and prays that that day will appear
When he is with her and will have no fear.
To hold her hand and listen to the sounds
But over here all of this is not to be found.

Loneliness faces him, but he wants no pity
For he is a man and has his pride.
The morale is low and the tension high,
Some men even break down and cry.

He walks all day and stands guard all night,
He is sick and tired but continues to fight.
The college crowd thinks he is a fool,
This is one thing that makes him mean and cruel.

You don't appreciate what he'll do for you,
Like giving his life for you.

He gives up so much and asks nothing in return,
Just so you can stay in school and learn.
No parties and dances for this young man,
Until he returns to his home again.

The days are hot and the nights are too.
He wonders what a cold beer would do.
He dreams of cold beer and a thick, juicy steak,
Then someone shouts, "There's a hill to take."
Some will be heroes because they are brave,
While others will get wreaths upon their grave.

You will recognize him when he walks by,
There is a saddened look in his eye.
He walks so proud and so very stern,
And one day all the people will learn,
And then you will realize, this is a MARINE'

The running of backs Dana Umbel, George Layman and Doug Carey carried Northern High School Huskies to 20-0 football victory over Valley High of Lonaconing last Friday night at Accident.

Umbel scored the Huskies' initial touchdown midway through the second quarter when he broke off tackle and romped eleven yards to score. The TD broke a scoreless duel as both teams appeared evenly matched throughout the opening period. A seventeen-yard run by Carey set up the TD.

In the third period quarterback Wayne George connected with end Gary Reichenbecher on a short two-yard spot pass which scored the Huskies' second touchdown. The final TD was made when Northern defensive tackle Dwight Eichorn picked up a loose ball at the Valley ten yard line and scrambled in for the score. The ball was knocked loose by the other tackle, John Leonard.

Layman paced Northern rushers with 74 yards on 15 carries. Umbel had 71 yards on 13 carries and Carey had 47 on eight tries.

The Huskies will play Terra Alta at Terra Alta, on Friday.

You're Looking At a CLOSER

Here is an example of a one-sided battle! It's that same old battle between the irresistible force and the immovable object.

Study the rounding edges of this massive granite formation. The wind is winning—persuasively and very definitely.

Note the deep clefts where chips have fallen from the old block. Rain, snow, ice are the victors here.

And see the pines growing topside on this barren bulk. Each year their roots press deeper into the hidden faults.

What does this prove? Well, for one thing it shows that the lifeless rock is no match for the moving, living, growing forces in God's creation. So never overestimate the strength of that stubborn secularism that sometimes appears to dominate our world.

In worship and religious pursuit, millions are linking their souls with the vital spiritual forces which shall prevail!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WHAT TO EXPECT

Lesson for September 17, 1967

Background Scripture: [illegible]
Devotional Reading: Psalm 107:23-32.

What can a man expect from God when he is in danger or trouble? Some people believe that God doesn't help his children at all. Others are convinced that he guarantees us immunity from all harm.

Rev. Althouse

Either of these points of view is quite inadequate for the Christian. Actually, God always helps us when we are in need, although the "help" may not always appear in recognizable form. The help we receive may be deliverance, or it may give us the strength to endure, or even to die victoriously. That we prefer help of the first type, is understandable. That God often sends us the other kinds of help, is quite evident, particularly in the Bible.

PREMATURE THANKS?

What, then, can a man expect when he is in danger or trouble? The basis of our faith is not guaranteed escape, but the knowledge that, whether in life or death, escape or suffering, we are in his hands.

Paul was a man who certainly possessed such a faith. It shines through in Acts 27 where we find that, in the midst of danger from sinking on the high seas, Paul encourages the people to take some nourishment. As he breaks the bread, he gives thanks to God in the presence of everyone.

This must have seemed a strange attitude to some of the people who watched. How could he give thanks while he was still in danger? What did he have for which to be thankful? Why didn't he wait until God had saved him before giving him thanks and praise?

Paul was thankful because he knew that his life was in God's hands. He did not discount the danger before them. In fact, he forecast shipwreck. Yet, he was assured that God was with him in this danger and nothing could separate them.

PAUL, THE FRUSTRATING

Some people, however, might object that Paul was confident only because God had already assured him that he would be spared death and sent to Rome (to face, perhaps, a more cruel death). It is true that God had revealed this to Paul, yet Paul's attitude in this situation was no different from the many times when he had faced danger before.

This is why his enemies became so frustrated with him. Ignore him, let him walk the streets of your town and he thanked God for the privilege of preaching to the crowds. Throw him behind bars and he thanked God for the opportunity of testifying to his jailors and fellow-prisoners. Threaten him with execution and Paul praised God and thanked him for the chance to witness to Christ with his own suffering and death. He was unbeatable, you see, not because his safety was assured, but because he knew he was in God's hands. If he lived, he would continue his work; if he died, he would share the same fate as his Master.

NOT RELEASE, BUT POWER

The answer to our prayers for help may come, not as the release from some burden we carry, but as the power to bear it triumphantly. The burden may be painful and humiliating, but if we carry it, not as victims but as victors, what a testimony for Christ!

Fabian von Schlabrendorff was one of those arrested because of the unsuccessful attempt on Hitler's life. He was cruelly tortured; even his guards were horrified. Afterwards he wrote: "Those of us who had never learned to pray, did so now, and found that prayer, and only prayer, can bring comfort in such terrible straits, and that it gives a more than human endurance." (Manvell & Frankel, The July Plot, Pan Books, Ltd., London.)

What may a man expect from God when he is in danger or trouble? Whether in life or in death, let him remember that he is in God's hands and will not be left without an answer to his prayer.

DIABETICS ENDANGERED BY FOOT PROBLEMS
Infected corns, calluses, problem ingrown toenails, thickened toenails with ulcers at shoe pressure points, fungus and bacterial infections are the most common foot problems associated with diabetes.
To help overcome the lesser healing powers of most diabetics, strict cleanliness is a must. Strong antiseptics, and the usual patent corn and callous remedies should be used only with the approval of a physician or podiatrist. Ulcers and infections require immediate attention by a physician. We can cooperate with your physician and podiatrist by supplying any product they may prescribe or suggest.

Dates For Folk Festival Are Set

October 6 and 7 are the dates set for the Springs Folk Festival, known as the Dutch Mountain Festival, now in its tenth year. Again as in former years, this occasion is expected to draw capacity crowds to the village of Springs in southern Somerset County, on Route 669, between U. S. Route 40 at Grantsville, and U. S. 219 at Salisbury, Pa.

Again a huge tent will house scores of demonstrators intent on entertaining the people. If weather permits seasoned "oldtimers" will ply their ancient arts in shelters at the margin of the demonstration area, while others are spread across the grounds or in other shelters.

Mountain men will be splitting rails, hewing timbers, dressing beams with a broad axe, hollowing out troughs with an adze, splitting shingle blocks with froe and mallet, shaving shingles, brooms, and axe and tool handles on a shaving horse ("schnitzelbank") with a drawing knife, making old-time whistles and maple sap spiles, shoeing horses, and boring wooden water pipes.

Traditionally, a two-horse treadmill will be clanking rhythmically and grain flails will whistle in the autumn air as a handful of pioneers thresh grain like their ancestors did. A hot air engine and a steam roller will add interest to the Festival grounds. Again there will be hay-rides for children.

Man and woman teams will be boiling down apple cider to make apple butter in a copper kettle, and boiling maple syrup to produce the spotza, long famous in this mountain area. The aroma of boiling piccalilli will rise from the pioneer kitchen, where loaves of home-baked bread and Dutch cookbooks are also for sale.

Craftsmen will demonstrate the whole wool story, including pulling, carding, spinning, reeling and weaving. Potters will demonstrate their ancient art on the wheel, artists will be working in wood, metal, stone and fabrics. Corn-husk doll markers; basket-weavers; cloth weavers working on 2-harness, 4-harness and 8-harness looms; rug-hookers, braiders and weavers and quilters will perform.

The arts of tatting, crocheting, knitting and cross-stitch, will be demonstrated. Bonnet-making and doll-dressing will serve as reminders of grandmother's time

Pennsylvania Dutch smoked sausage dinner will be served both days, and concession stands will serve those who prefer lighter fare or quicker service. The historic scenic tours - two into Pennsylvania and one into Maryland - will serve guests who wish to round out their day with a trip thru the countryside. The renowned Springs Museum, since 1964 on the Festival Grounds, will be open to visitors all day to view the collection of early artifacts of the Casselman Valley.

An evening program of song and folklore will be provided

Preparing For Buckwheat Festival

Preparations for the 26th annual Preston County Buckwheat festival at Kingwood September 28 through October 2 will enter the home stretch this evening when the Steering committee begins its once a week meeting schedule.

The Buckwheat ball will open the affair on Sept. 27 with Tommy Carlyn and his orchestra of Pittsburgh providing the music.

Firemen's Day will be observed Thursday, Sept. 28 with an evening parade of firefighting equipment and bands. Walter Hauser, Aurora, W. Va., will be crowned King Fireman. There will be judging of exhibits in the Community building that day.

Miss Lynn Taylor, Terra Alta High school senior, will be crowned Queen Ceres XXVI by State Congressman John D. Rockefeller IV, following the annual school day parade on Friday, Sept. 29. Two maids of honor are Miss Nelda Gilmore, Terra Alta; and Miss Roseann Carrieo, Kingwood, and two princesses will serve from each of the county's nine high schools. There will be an honor guard of ROTC cadets from West Virginia university.

Champion buckwheat farmer in the county will be crowned on Farmer's Day, on Saturday, preceded by a parade. A special tribute to senior citizens will round out the festival on Sunday, October 1. An antique car show will be featured Sunday.

Auxiliary Meets At Deer Park

William Clatterbuck, fire chief at Deer Park, was the speaker at the meeting of the Ladies' auxiliary to the Allegany-Garrett Counties Volunteer Firemen's association at Deer Park Sunday. He spoke on ways of practicing fire prevention in the home.

Fire hazards in and around the home were also discussed and home safety check list distributed.

Each auxiliary or fire company is eligible to sponsor an entry in the fire queen contest scheduled at Barton October 9. Mrs. Connie Dayton, delegate to the state convention, reported on her activities. A fall conference is set for September 21 at Ali Ghan Shrine club.

The next county executive meeting is set for December 1 at Cresaptown. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the Deer Park auxiliary.

Methodist Plan Laymen's Institute

A capacity attendance of more than 450 is expected at the 27th annual Laymen's Institute of the West Virginia Conference of The Methodist Church when it convenes at Jackson's Mill State 4-H Camp at Weston, Sept. 15-17.

The convocation this year will be centered around the theme, "People-Poverty-Plenty— The Gospel to the Poor".

Heading the program for this state-wide meeting of Methodist laymen will be Bishop Fred G. Holloway, bishop of the West Virginia Area, Dr. G. V. McCausland, director of spiritual life for the Council of Churches, Pittsburgh, Pa.; and, Dr. David M. Graybeal, associate professor of church and society at Drew University, Madison, N. J.

Officials of Greece and Turkey agree to settle the Cyprus problem peacefully.

...AND DAD APPROVES.

Any new flame who passes out mink stoles doesn't have to be good-looking. But Mom's is.

Mom's new flame is her handsome, compact Gas furnace. Every time she thinks about it she feels warm all over.

But about that mink. Gas heat saves Dad up to several hundred dollars every winter, thousands of dollars over the life of the mortgage. And that's enough for a mink stole or two, or a new car, or a college education in anybody's bankbook.

Maybe you could use a new flame, too—a modern, dependable Gas flame. Think of all the things you can do with the money you save with Gas.

Co. Commissioner Minutes Approved

Minutes of the meeting of the County Commissioners for the week of September 5, were approved at a regular board meeting on September 11.

A motion was made by Ross Sines that all towns in the county be given the privilege of purchasing road paving material from the Roads department but the motion failed for want of a second.

George McLaughlin, CPA, appeared to discuss a recent motion of the board by Hubert Friend concerning the auditing of the county school records and accounts by an auditing firm employed to audit other county records. He said he felt the intent of the motion cast a reflection on his work. He was assured by Mr. Sines and Mr. Friend that past performance of audits of the school records did not enter into the matter and they stated their intention of going ahead as planned according to previous motion.

Effective September 5 all employes are to take their earned vacation at approved time with notice of intention 30 days in advance.

The state allowance for police protection was discussed by State's Attorney Fred A. Thayer and James E. Frantz, sheriff. Mr. Frantz recommended a radio be purchased for the car of the newly appointed deputy and suggested a deputy be given training in investigative work. Such a course is to be given soon in Cumberland and it was agreed that Delbert Swartzentruber would take the course which runs five days a week for five weeks.

It was decided to sell the quarry property on the Underwood road to the highest bidder.

Junior Women Will Meet October 5th

The first meeting of the Junior Woman's Civic club for the ensuing year will be held on Thursday evening, October 5.

Plans for the initial meeting were made at a recent meeting of the club's executive board at the home of Mrs. Homer Bennett.

The group prepared a proposed budget for the coming year, discussed club projects and gave approval for the club handbook. A report made on the "Fritter Critter" project at the recent county fair indicated a successful undertaking.

Wed August 12 In Deer Park

The marriage of Miss Mary Lee Rodeheaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lee Rodeheaver of Deer Park, and Reverend John Samuel Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Moore, Oakland, took place on Saturday, August 12, at two o'clock in the Methodist Church in Deer Park.

The Reverend Lawrence Sherwood, D.D., pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Oakland, and the Reverend William Markley, pastor of the Corinth Methodist charge, performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with white asters in two candelabras, and matching vases of snapdragons, pompons, and asters banked with palms.

Preceding the ceremony, sacred piano selections were presented by Mrs. Anna Reall of Gormania, West Virginia. She also accompanied Miss Eula Gillette of Towanda, Pennsylvania, who sang "Take My Life and Let it Be', "The King of Love My Shepherd Is', and "A Wedding Prayer'. During the ceremony she sang "O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee', assisted by the Youth Choir of the Deer Park Methodist Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her floor length A-line gown of white peau de soie featured a bodice and elbow-length sleeves of white lace, with matching detachable floor length train. Her shoulder - length veil was attached to a headpiece of roses fashioned of white organza. She carried a white Bible on which was a cascade of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Nadara Welling, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Mrs. Mary Jean Yoder, Uniontown, was bridesmaid. They wore floor length gowns styled as that of the bride fashioned of lavender organza over taffeta, with lavender lace bodices. Their matching flower headpieces were fashioned of lavender organza. The attendants carried colonial bouquets of pink sweetheart roses and purple statice.

Anne Welling, niece of the bride, and Jeff Yoder, Uniontown, were flower girl and ring bearer.

William Moore of Elkton, served as best man for his brother. Ushers were James Moore, brother of the groom, Oakland, and James Smith, cousin of the bride, Mentor, Ohio.

Mrs. Rodeheaver wore a dress of pink silk linen over which was a bolero of matching pink lace. She had pink and white accessories and a corsage of white roses with pink background.

Mrs. Moore chose a blue and white dress and wore a corsage of white roses with a blue background.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride. The tiered wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Janet Smith, aunt of the bride, Mentor, Ohio, and Mrs. James Nordeck, aunt of the groom, Oakland. Presiding at the punch bowls were Mrs. Phyllis Myers, cousin of the bride, and Miss Gertrude Aronhalt, aunt of the groom, of Oakland.

The couple left immediately for a trip to the Smokies in North Carolina. They are residing in Gormania, where Reverend Moore is pastor of the Methodist churches of the Gormania charge.

19 Are Killed On State Highways

Nineteen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Eight of those killed were drivers; eight were passengers; and three were pedestrians.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in seven of the fatalities, speed in seven, and "driver error" was present in seventeen.

"At the present time there is considerable highway construction under way in Marvland", said Lt. Col. George E. Davidson, Chief of Operations of the State Police. "Many new roads are being built, many more are being improved.

"Obviously while this work is going on, traffic tie-ups and other inconveniences will be experienced. Also at times certain hazards may be encountered. However, if motorists cooperate by obeying all construction markings, as well as the manual directions of the construction men, the work will proceed safely, effectively, and quickly".

Ship Observes Its 23rd Anniversary

The Game Warden LST, USS Garrett County, stationed in the Bassac river, South Vietnam, marked the 23rd anniversary of its commissioning the latter part of August.

Built at the Dravo corporation, near Pittshurgh, in 1944, the ship was commissioned as LST-786 at the Algiers naval station, New Orleans, August 28 of that year. It was decommissioned shortly after WW II and remained in the Pacific reserve fleet in California until December, 1965 when it was taken out of mothballs for service in Vietnam as a PBR and helicopter support ship and named Garret County.

Following reactivation and major conversion to fit its new mission the ship was recommissioned in October, 1966 and sailed for Vietnam in January, 1967.

Rescues Crew

The ship rescued a four-man crew of a navy seawolf helicopter which had ditched in the Bassac river a mile southwest of Saigon. The helicopter was on a routine flight from the USS Jennings County to Can Tho in the Mekong delta. It experienced fuel difficulties and radioed the Garrett County for an emergency landing. The Helo approached the ship but fuel loss prevented landing. It ditched a quarter mile from the ship and rescue boats were on the scene immediately. All four crewmen were recovered uninjured.

Friend-Goldsbery 55th Reunion Held

The 55th Friend-Goldsbery reunion was observed Sunday, September 3, at the Old Homestead at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Friend, on Pleasant Valley road in Huntington township, route 3, Waverly, Ohio. Some 76 persons were present, all relatives but four.

Presents were distributed: traveling farthest, Col. W. R Hubbard, Dover, Florida; Mr and Mrs. Walter M. Friend, oldest married couple, since September 7, 1901; Mr. and Mrs. John Fadden, youngest baby; Jesse Hubbard, guessing nearest number of beans in a jar. Officers in charge included Walter M. Friend, president; Rev. Eileen Friend Kellough, vice-president and secretary; Mrs. Rachel Friend Brooke, treasurer.

Plans were made for next year's reunion to be the Sunday before Labor Day in September.

The occasion was also the 50th wedding anniversary of the late Hiram M. and Rachel A. Goldsbery Friend. At the first reunion in 1912 there were guests from four states, including five generations with some 68 in attendance. Plans were made at this time for the reunion to be continued at the "old homestead" in honor of their ancestors which began with Sea-Captain Nicholas Friend, born in 1570.

1st Mental Hygiene Clinic Is Held

After many years of frustration, Garrett County has finally been able to launch its own Mental Hygiene Clinic, it was announced by the county health office.

The first clinic was held on Friday afternoon, September 8th, with Dr. Frank J. Fagan, Jr., as Psychiatrist. In the past it seemed that procurement of a Psychologist and Psychiatrist, or Clinic in Garrett County was entirely impossible; since there have been none available.

With Miss Mary I. Love moving to the County it solved the first problem, a Psychologist, and then when Dr. Fagan started a practice in Cumberland with time to spare the department was able to get a Psychiatrist.

More clinics will follow in a pattern dictated by growing needs. Miss Love is clinic director and all correspondence should be addressed to her in care of the Health Department.

Thomas D'Alesandro III, 38, won Democratic nomination for mayor of Baltimore. Republican opponent will be Arthur W. Sherwood.

No. 5613 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain custody of two minor children by the complainant from the respondents.
The Bill recites that an absolute divorce was granted to the said complainant on June 10, 1963, at San Antonio, Texas; that custody of the two minor children was granted to the grandparents, that the complainant is now re-married; can provide a proper home environment for the two said children and requests a final decree granting her permanent custody of the said children.
It is thereupon this 7th day of September, 1967, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ORDERED that the complainant, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 6th day of October, 1967, giving notice to the said absent respondent, Merlin Bement, Jr., Merlin Bement, Sr. and Clarice Bement, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint, and warning them to be and appear in this Court, either in person or by solicitor, on or before the 6th day of November, 1967, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Grand Jurors

great, limited only by certain provisions of the law and the geographical boundaries of the county. To you is committed the preservation of the peace of this county, and whether or not an accused is brought to trial on any charge requiring your attention depends solely upon your determination and no one may even suggest to you what your decision shall be.

"Recent Federal decisions have severely hampered law enforcement officials in apprehending persons suspected of a crime and seriously limited the evidence which may be produced at their trial; . . .I do not concur with the general concensus that all of these decisions are wrong, and in fact agree wholeheartedly with many of them, however, needless to say, these decisions must be followed and complied with in all state courts.

"As pointed out in your oath, the deliberations of the Grand Jury must be secret, and neither the accused nor any member of the public should know what transpires in the jury room, except that which is shown by the records of the court. This rule of secrecy is a most vital provision for the protection of the persons accused, as well as those against whom no presentment is made. The records of the Grand Jury are NOT open to public inspection and the results of your proceedings, insofar as they may be made public, are embodied solely in the indictments made by you or in the dismissal of cases referred to you.

"I have long advocated the legalized sale of liquor in Garrett County, primarily for two reasons: first and foremost is that by legalizing it, the sale of liquor can be controlled and thereby eliminate the bootlegger the sale to minors and indiscriminate sales of liquor at all hours of the day and night. The second reason is to enable the county to obtain revenue from the sale of liquor which has always persisted on a large scale in this county in spite of the fact that it was illegal.

"I have received some reports and complaints of illegal liquor sales in spite of the fact that we now have legalized liquor in the county. If any member of the Grand Jury knows of such sales or has any information whatsoever concerning illegal sales of liquor that may require investigation, please report this to the State's Attorney forthwith.

"Since I advocated the legalized sales of liquor for reasons stated above, I feel that I owe a duty to the citizens of the county, both wet and dry, and a special duty to the liquor licensee who pays $800 for a license and who abides by the law, to see that persons who are convicted of liquor or beer violations will be discouraged from any further infractions of the law.

I expect the State's Attorney and the law enforcement officials of this county to diligently perform their duty along this line; I expect to do my duty to enforce these laws and earnestly recommend to the Liquor Control Board that they do their duty with regard to those convicted of violations of the liquor laws; all of which should tend to discourage further illegal infractions.

"I should like to most highly commend the State's Attorney, Fred A. Thayer, the Maryland State Police, the Sheriff's office and all of our local law enforcement officers for their most competent, capable and exemplary performance of their duties in the enforcement of our criminal law. Our juvenile delinquency is at a minimum; there is no evidence whatsoever of any organized crime in the county, nor are there any unsolved crimes of any import. This is the result of the competent and dedicated work on the part of these law enforcement officials".

After the jurors were sworn they retired to the grand jury room to begin their investigations. They took a recess on Tuesday to observe Old Defender's day and reconvened on Wednesday to complete their work

Highlanders Lose Initial Game 33-13

Southern High Highlanders will endeavor to break into the victory column on Friday when they play Valley High of Lonaconing in the Allegany county town.

Last Friday night they were defeated by the Kingwood Stags by a score of 33 to 113.

The Stags built up a 33-0 lead and then coasted to victory. A large crowd attended.

Halfback Max Elliott scored twice to lead Kingwood eleven, coached by Ron Richardson. The Stags registered 12 first downs to 8 for the Highlanders and dominated play until the fourth quarter. Southern scored two touchdowns in the final period. Dunbar and Browning carried for the Highlanders. Thomas failed on his three attemps at passing for the local team.

The one score was made on a nine-yard run but the kick after touchdown failed. Browning ran for two yards for the final score and also got the extra point on an end run.

Mike Buric ran 20 yards for the first td for Kingwood in the opening quarter. Elliott got the second on a six-yard run in the second period. Two touchdowns in the third came on runs of eight yards by Jan Light and 25 yards by Elliott with Wold winding up the scoring on a six-yard run in the fourth period.

Two of Southern's first stringers were ill and could not make the trip but were expected to be in action this Friday.

VOLUME 91. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., SEPTEMBER 21, 1967 PER COPY 10c NUMBER 30.

Who Pays Whom? . . .

In order for business to survive we are told it must have earning power, and for it to grow it must have a plentiful supply of risk capital. Business also must produce things people want and are willing to pay for—voluntarily.

The federal government, on the other hand, doesn't have to make sure what the people really want, or how much they are willing to pay for its services. Since it has the power to tax, it can force-finance, and force-feed its own growth.

Although public opinion polls indicate the American people want to decrease public spending, some members of Congress continue to introduce vote-bait bills. Many of these would add billions to federal deficit spending as the states, counties, and municipalities sidestepped their responsibilities and let the federal government foot the bills.

It's your money and mine they are spending—the money you pay, and pay, in taxes. When the community or state obtains federal rather than local funds, costly bureaucratic paperwork and controls result in less value received.

We often wonder: Has the administration created a perpetual motion juggernaut in non-defense spending? Can it be stopped? Is this heavy moving vehicle beyond the control of the Administration and Congress? If so, have the people, the voters, the taxpayers, lost their grip on government?

Federal spending is no longer a topic reserved for discussion by professors, economists, public officials and politicians. It is becoming street-corner conversation today as the average man begins to realize the enormity of the $135 billion federal budget. It certainly would be wise for Congress to avoid passing new legislation and to do everything within its power to curtail non-military spending before the public hits the ceiling in angry protest.

College Funds Again Delayed By Technicalities

A further delay in obtaining the extra appropriation for the proposed junior college to reach the amount needed from the state, because of technicalities, was announced this week by Willard L. Hawkins, superintendent of schools.

An amount of $175,000 had previously been approved. The State Board of Education on August 30 approved a recommendation by the Board of Public Works to grant an allocation of $812,500 for construction of the junior college, based on an estimated 65 percent participation in school costs for the year.

In order to provide for the county the same consideration that is given to counties under the regional Junior College bill the legislature at its last session authorized the Board of Public Works to grant to Garrett county for construction of the college an additional $175,000 from the State Capital Construction fund.

Mr. Hawkins learned this week that the procedure adopted by the Board of Public Works requires that the request for this money be made through the State Department of Education and the Department of Public Improvements. In a letter to Dr. James A. Sensenbaugh, State superintendent of schools, Mr. Hawkins said he was hopeful this matter could be acted upon promptly so that it could be placed on the agenda for the next meeting of the Board of Public Works.

Mr. Hawkins suggested to W. Dwight Stover, attorney to the Board of County Commissioners, that this should not delay the county in clearing the title to the property and preparing to pick up the options. The land was purchased from Robert L. Glotfelty. The land needs to be

Father and Son Guilty of Assault

A father and son were charged with assault and battery and brought before Trial Magistrate Robert Maroney on Tuesday, September 19.

Charles Thomas and Charles Russell Thomas were charged by Steward Savage with assault and battery. Both entered a plea of guilty, and each was fined $15.00 and costs. In each case, costs and fines were suspended.

In a case tried on Monday, September 18, Ivan Rhodes was charged by Leona Rhodes with non-support of herself and one child. Rhodes pleaded not guilty; however, he was found guilty and sentenced to 90 days in the county jail. The sentence was suspended on the condition that he pay $25.00 every two weeks toward the support of the child.

Aged Man Found In Good Condition

There was some unusual activity in the Sanders Lane area this past week, as forty to fifty people joined in the search for Frank Severe, aged 76, who had wandered from his home.

Severe, who lived alone, had wandered from his home at approximately 5 o'clock on Sunday evening. Searchers were called in to help comb the section of woods between Sanders Lane and the Cranesville road. Severe was found around 6:30 Tuesday evening in the Youghiogheny Mountain Club property, almost eight miles from his home.

He did not appear to have suffered unduly, and said only that he was "a little thirsty."

The State Department denied charges by Harry S. Ashmore that President Johnson squelched peace probes from Hanoi.

Four-H Council Elects

At the regular quarterly meeting of the 4-H County Council Monday evening, officers for the new 4-H year were elected. Miss Jane Gibson, member of the Monte Vista Senior Club, Oakland was elected to head the group for the new year. Pictured left to right are (seated) Sherry Frantz, Vice President; and Jane Gibson, President. Standing left to right are Cynthia Tusing, Recreation Leader; Robert Messon, Reporter; Pamela Frantz, Secretary-Treasurer; and Rodney Glotfelty, Recreation Leader.

Regular business included planning for the fall events which include Fall Roundup, scheduled for October 21 at the Western Maryland 4-H Camp, Autumn Glory Sales, October 7, 8 and 15 at Swallow Falls, Annual 4-H Achievement Night scheduled for either November 3 or 11, and National 4-H Club Week, September 30 to October 7.

Auto Dealers Plan Display Of New Models

Week-End Showings Set; Porade Scheduled Saturday Afternoon

County automobile dealers have recently begun holding open house for display of their new models. Visitors to the various garages will receive favors, etc., for stopping in to see the new cars. Some of these showings were held last week and some are being held this week.

To help create interest, dealers for Ford, Chevrolet, Dodge, Oldsmobile, Pontiac, Plymouth, Chrysler and Buick have planned a parade for Saturday, September 23 at 1:15 p. m. James J. Helbig is Parade and Activities chairman, and Willis Shaffer is acting as Parade marshal. Four bands will provide the marching music: South High school, Northern High school, Southern High Junior Band, and the Mountain City band of Oakland.

Following the parade, the new models will be parked in the Garrett National Bank drive-in facility on Green street, and will remain there for customer viewing until late afternoon, weather permitting.

Dealers for the various automobiles are:

Dodge: Ralph Pritts Garage, Oakland; Grantsville Garage, Grantsville.

Chrysler-Plymouth: Ray Teets Garage, Oakland, Spoerlein's Garage, Accident.

Chevrolet: Sharps Motor, Oakland; Casselman Motor, Grantsville.

Buick: Leighton Brothers, Oakland.

Ford: Shaffer Ford Sales, Oakland; Motor Service Company, Grantsville.

Oldsmobile and Rambler: Sanders and Hershman, Oakland. The Rambler showing is scheduled for Tuesday September 26.

Pontiac: C. and M. Pontiac Sales, Oakland.

Autumn Glory Excursions Set

The 16th annual Autumn Glory excursions to the mountains of the Oakland area will be operated by the affiliated Chesapeake and Ohio and Baltimore and Ohio railroads for fall foliage sightseers of the Baltimore-Washington area on two Sundays next month, October 8 and 15.

Tickets are now available for these trips, which will originate in Baltimore and make stops to pick up Washington area passengers at Laurel and Silver Spring.

Each year, more than 1500 nature lovers, camera enthusiasts and railfans make the day-long trips through the Potomac River Valley to the Deep Creek Lake area near Oakland.

Following arrival at Oakland, sightseers will be taken on a 30-mile motor coach tour of Swallow Falls State Forest, Muddy Creek Falls and Deep Creek State Park. At the park, tourists will be entertained by the Southern High School Band of Oakland, in the newly-constructed bubble-top concert pavilion.

The route will follow winding roads with bright-hued foliage.

Before the trains' departure from Western Maryland, excursionists will be served a turkey dinner at Southern High, Oakland. Sandwiches, snacks and beverages also will be available on the trains.

Because of the popularity of the Autumn Glory trips, a third train will operate on Saturday, October 14, in the event of sell-outs of the two Sunday specials.

The trains will leave Baltimore's Camden Station at 8:00 a. m.; Laurel at 8:20 a. m., and Silver Spring at 8:50 a. m. — arriving in Oakland at 1:15 p. m. Returning, they will depart from Oakland at 5:15 p. m.

Prices of the tickets, including round-trip rail transportation, sightseeing and the turkey dinner, are $13.50 for adults; $9.95 for children five through eleven years of age, and $4.95 for children under five.

Tickets must be purchased in advance.

Commissioners Look Into Bus Service. Nuisances

The Board of County Commissioners met in a special session on September 6 to hear Charles Lee of the Bloomington area request better school bus service on the Seldom Seen Road.

In the Board's regular meeting on September 11, it was motioned that Edward Simmons of Gormania, West Virginia, be asked to appear before the Board on September 18 to discuss his low bid on maintaining county trash dumps.

Harry Stemple, George Littman, Mrs. Helbig, and Mrs. Bertie Thrasher complained of dog nuisance in Oakland. Mr. Stemple suggested that a full-time dog warden be appointed.

Dale Custer asked for and received deeds for return of right of way given to Garrett County in the Totten addition.

George Comp, director of Civil Defense for Garrett County, informed the Board that Civil Defense will conduct a National Exercise for the Civil Defense staff from October 24 through November 1. The exercise will stress shelters and shelter living.

John O'Haver, Dr. Joseph Alvarez, Clay Upole, and Ward Hinebaugh discussed the requested return of the right of way deeds to Mr. O'Haver for the Davis-Barr road. It is desired that the road remain available to all parties with relocation of a small part of the road. The Board will investigate before returning right of way.

Burns Are Fatal To Mrs. Marley

clothing caught fire from her kitchen stove last Wednesday morning at her home in Deer Park, died Thursday afternoon, September 14, in West Virginia University Medical Center in Morgantown. She was 91.

Her 61-year-old invalid son, who resided with her, was a patient in Garrett County Memorial hospital with burns of the hands and arms received when he attempted to aid his mother.

Mrs. Marley was taken to Garrett County Memorial immediately after the accident and treated in the emergency room, and later transferred to the University medical center.

Mrs. Marley was born Cora Belle Shreve, daughter of the late Cyrus and Sarah Holloway Shreve, on October 23, 1875, in Pendleton county, W. Va. Her husband, George P. Marley, died in 1944.

She was a member of Loyal Order of Moose auxiliary 700, of Morgantown; and of the Deer Park Volunteer Fire company auxiliary. She was the oldest member of the congregation of St. John's Episcopal church.

Surviving are three sons, Theodore (Ted) Marley, who was burned trying to aid her; Walter Marley, Deer Park; Clarence Marley, Swanton; one daughter, Mrs. Raymond Paugh, Deer Park; 18 grandchildren, 30 great grandchildren and two great great grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Leighton-Durst Funeral home in Oakland. The body was taken to St. John's Episcopal church at 1 o'clock Sunday for services there at 2 p. m. with Rev. Thomas Staup, vicar, officiating. Interment was in the Deer Park cemetery.

Bridge Change To Affect Flow of Traffic In Spring

There will come a time when the replacement of the bridge on South Third street, across the Little Youghiogheny river, will cause an interruption in the flow of traffic over the structure, but this will not occur until next spring, it was learned this week from Mayor Russell L. Smith, of Oakland.

Mayor Smith said there was quite a flurry of speculation about the traffic interruption but he said it was in the contract that continuous traffic was not mandatory during the replacement of the bridge.

Some clearing work has already taken place at the site. As the result of conversation between Mayor Smith and John D. Bushby, district engineer for the State Roads commission, a letter clarifying the project has been sent to the George F. Hazelwood company in Cumberland, contractor.

The letter says: "In view of the late date of the Notice to Proceed on this contract, it will not be possible to complete the contract before weather requires a shutdown. This would impose an inconvenience on the residents of Oakland in that they would not be able to use the bride for approximately five months while no work was being performed.

"At the request of Mayor Smith of Oakland and in accordance with our recent telephone conversation, we are requesting that the existing bridge be allowed to remain in place until work resumes in the spring of 1968.

"Since this procedure would limit the amount of work which can be performed, effective September 18, the contract will be placed on a Partial Shutdown basis and time will be charged against the contract in direct ratio to the amount of work performed. Time charged on partial shutdown will be in accordance with the provisions of the General Specifications.

"When all of the work which can be done at that time has been completed the project will be placed on Complete Shutdown until work can be resumed in the spring".

Mr. Smith was unable to say just how long the bridge would be out but said it might be as long as four or five weeks. But the bridge will not be moved until next spring.

General Motors announced that auto prices will average 3.1% more than 1967 prices.

Local Man Reports Assault, Theft

Henry Friend, Deer Park area man, notified county authorities last Thursday that three men entered his farm home last Wednesday evening, roughed him up, and took approximately 100 pounds of ginseng roots which he valued around $4,000, and about $10 cash from him.

They pretended to have ginseng in a bag they wanted to sell him.

Mr. Friend is in his 60s. He said one of the men had a gun. An investigation was underway by Sheriff James E. Frantz, and Maryland State police.

Sheriff Frantz said that the man lives alone. He buys and sells ginseng roots as well as furs.

Attaches at the Garrett County Memorial hospital said the man was not treated at the hospital. The incident was reported to have occurred just after dark and was not reported to authorities until the following day.

Authorities were told the men tied his hands and feet, took him outside and placed him face down on the ground. He was bruised about his head and body. They broke down the door to get into the room where the ginseng was kept. The men threatened to come back and burn down the house with him in it, if he notified authorities. Mr. Friend was able to free himself. His brother, Asa Ray Friend, Deer Park, brother of the man, reported the incident.

No suspects have been picked up by authorities.

Annual Historical Tour Set for Sat.

The Garrett County Historical Society has completed plans for its thirteenth annual Historical Tour, to be held Saturday, September 23.

The "tourists" will visit places of interest in and around the Accident area, such as Walter Richter's gardens and cider press; the site of Captain West's tobacco barns; the Melchoir Miller Distillery; the grave of Lt. James Drane, the founder of Accident; the Bear Creek Fish Hatchery; Kaese's Mill; and various homes of historical interest, including those of Dr. F. H. Glotfelty, Eli McMillan, Harvey Speicher, and Jacob Boyer.

As its final stop, the tour will visit Spoerlein's Grove, one of the better known picnic grounds in the county. Here the touring party will have its picnic luncheon. Mrs. Gertrude Dean, Oakland, will have a group of fiddlers to provide entertainment during the luncheon hour. In case of rain the lunch will be held in the Accident fire hall.

Those attending the tour from the southern part of the county are asked to be at the Ruth Enlow Library before 9:00 a. m. on Saturday. From there, the tour will proceed to the McHenry post office to pick up those attending from the northern part of Garrett County. These people are asked to be at the rendezvous spot around 9:20 to 9:35.

All those who plan to attend are reminded to bring a picnic lunch.

Rotarians To Host Foreign Students

The Oakland Rotary club is planning to entertain twenty-five or more foreign students from West Virginia university during the next week-end, September 29 and 30 and October 1.

The club is again seeking the assistance of other citizens of the area to supply housing and meals for some of the students. Persons interested may contact Gordon Douglass, who is in charge of the week-end activities for the club's guests.

With the exception of last year, this has been an annual affair for a number of years, with a number of citizens being enthusiastic about the opportunity to promote friendship with people of other nations, and to exchange views on culture, customs and thoughts.

These students in other years have come from Japan, Korea, Formosa, Turkey, Pakistan, India, Iran, Italy, France, Argentina, Indonesia, Britain, and the north European countries.

Gets Scholarship

John Wayne Fitzwater Harris, son of the late Capt. E. Wayne Fitzwater, USMC, and Miriam Stick Harris, of Franklin Square L. I., New York, has been awarded a scholarship to the Graduate School of Business at American University in Washington, D. C. He was a June graduate of the University of Maryland, College of Business and Public Administration.

While at the University of Maryland, he was President, Vice President and Secretary of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, member of Kolegethoes, mens honorary fraternity; and was named the outstanding senior and intramural athlete of ATO fraternity for 1966-1967.

He was also active in sports in high school and played varsity football, basketball and golf. He graduated in 1962 from Gordon Garrett High School, Charleston, South Carolina, where his step-father, Lt. Col. John P. Harris, USAF, was stationed at the time. While in high school he was president of the Student Council and member of the National Honor Society and named outstanding senior of Gordon Garrett High School.

His father was well known in Garrett County, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Fitzwater, Sr., of Swanton. He was a graduate of Oakland High School, class of 1932, Bridgewater College in 1935, and University of Maryland, College of Agriculture, 1939. He did his practice teaching at O.H.S. under O. T. Graser, but upon graduation from University of Maryland became associated with the Southern States Co-operative of Richmond, Va., and was largely responsible for the opening of the Oakland Store. He joined the Marine Corps in 1942 and was killed in action, Sept., 1944, at Peleliu Island. John Wayne was just six weeks old when his father was shipped to the Pacific Area.

Local Sportsmen At Public Hearing

Members of two local sportsmen's clubs were able to make the opinions and feelings of their membership heard at a meeting of the State Game and Inland Fish commission hearing in Cumberland Monday night.

The occasion was a public hearing by the commission held at Fort Hill High school. Purpose was to allow local sportsmen's clubs a voice in determining Game and Fish laws.

Two local clubs were represented: William W. Nace, Ted Thompson and Dr. W. G. Savage representing the Izaak Walton league; and Walter Kamp representing the Casselman Valley Sportsmen's club.

Opinions were voiced on questions regarding [illegible] laws, fish stocking and game laws. The most controversial regarded the antlerless deer season, according to Dr. Savage who said the majority of the approximately 50 men in attendance strongly opposed a doe season in the four western counties this year.

Ralph Bitely, chief of wildlife management, in answering charges that the deer population was all but diminished, stated that his surveys and observations showed that there was a plentiful supply of deer, that hunters were becoming "lazy" and weren't venturing into the more heavily wooded areas to find them. He conceded there were areas where deer may not be so plentiful but said the deer definitely were in good supply.

Dr. Savage said the commis-

Tax Collections Top 55 Percent

Over fifty-five percent of the 1967-68 tax levy of $1,496,000 was collected during the first two months of the discount period, it was announced this week by Mrs. Arzella Parsons, county treasurer. This did not include any tax payments from Texas Eastern, which were expected at any time. The assessable basis for the gas corporation is in the neighborhood of $12 million, which would provide over $250,000 in additional taxes.

The discount allowed over the months of July and August was five percent and collections were as follows:

Real property, $367,467.22; personal property, $35,897.38. Public Utilities, $231,952.10, making total taxes collected $835,316.70. The figures showed there was a 72 percent collection of the real property, over 50 percent of the personal property, and over 30 percent for public utilities.

D. E. Lackey, vice president of operations for the Texas company informed Jerry Moyer, supervisor of assessments, that the company was accepting a tentative assessment of $12,105,000 on their storage field at Accident. Mrs. Parsons forwarded a tax bill to the company Wednesday in the amount of $292,941 for county and state tax.

Mr. Moyer said there was a possibility that the assessment on the Texas Eastern corporation may be more. He said the assessable basis of the county is now over $70 million, although the county is operating on a basis of $68 million.

Questions And Answers

Q. I filed my return last week and am expecting a refund. However, I just got a W-2 statement from a former employer I thought had gone out of business. What should I do?

A. If you included the income and withholding information from this W-2 on your return without attaching an explanation wait until you are contacted by IRS. When your return is processed, the missing W-2 will be noted and you will be requested to supply it.

However, if you neglected to include this information and you discover this before the due date for filing, file a corrected return. To do this, fill out another return including all information previously reported plus the information that was missing. Type or print "corrected return" in the top margin of the form.

If this error is discovered after the due date for filing, follow the same procedure except that the return should be clearly marked "amended return" rather than "corrected return".

Q. We hired a housekeeper to take care of the kids several weeks last year while my wife was in the hospital for an operation. Can we claim the child care deduction?

A. To be eligible for the child care deduction, your wife's illness would have had to last at least 90 days. Check Page 9 of the 1040 instructions for further details.

Q. Our interest income was over $10 last year but it was split up among several different banks. Do we have to report all of this or just the amount over $10 received from any one bank?

A. All interest from savings accounts must be reported as taxable income, whether or not it was reported to you on a Form 1099.

Q. I understood IRS had prepared a questionnaire-type tax form. Where can I get a copy?

A. This is an experimental form being used only by a small sample of taxpayers in the Southwest this year. If the form proves satisfactory, it may be adopted for wider use next year.

Only taxpayers who received the questionnaire form in the mail should use it this year.

Q. Is state inheritance tax deductible?

A. No, it is not.

Q. Are dividends from a credit union savings account really dividends or are they considered interest?

A. They are considered interest and fully taxable.

Q. Is the $5 a month I pay for supplementary medicare insurance deductible?

A. Yes, this is considered an allowable medical expense along with other premiums paid for hospital and medical insurance.

Q. I took a net loss of more than $1,000 on some stock I sold last year. Since I can only deduct $1,000 of the loss on my 1966 return do I lose the rest of it?

A. No, the excess over $1,000 may be carried over to future tax years.

Q. I just started work last year and am still waiting for a Social Security number. What should I do about my return?

A. If you have not received your number by the filing deadline, send in your return without it. Indicate that you have applied for the number in the box where it should be entered.

Q. I support my mother's brother but my friends tell me I can't claim him as a dependent since he does not live with us. Is that right?

A. A person does not have to be a member of your household to be claimed as a dependent if he is closely related to you. The law considers an uncle to be a close relation. Therefore, he is not required to be a member of your household.

Remember that other requirements for a dependency claim must be met, too. These are the support test, gross income test, citizenship or residence test, and the joint return test. They are all explained in the 1040 instruction booklet.

Q. My wife is filing her own return. Can I still claim her as a dependent?

A. No. When she files her own return she takes her own exemption. You may not take an exemption for her unless you file jointly.

Rember that when separate returns are filed, each must handle his deductions the same way. If one itemizes so must the other. If standard deductions are used, both must use the same type, either the 10 percent or the minimum. The use of the 10 percent standard deduction by one spouse obligates the other to do so.

Also, be sure to use the tax table or rate schedule for married couples filing separately. An error frequently made on separate returns is to compute the tax using the rates for married couples filing jointly.

Q. I received a sizable amount of severance pay last year. Is that taxable?

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

According to recent survey figures from the computers of the National Federation of Independent Business small and independent proprietors in the East South Central states, those bordered on one side by Texas and on the East by states along the Atlantic, are spending an average of $21,300 on new equipment.

C. W. Harder

Heavy equipment investment in Southern regions appears due largely to the impact of new minimum wage law imposition, since this area dismissed the largest number of workers after passage of the wage law.

Although small business in these areas is creating new jobs at almost three times the national average, individual employment per firm has dropped from 17 to 15 persons. Federation researchers believe this transition illustrates the rapid replacement by Southern firms from unskilled, low-calibre labor to modern machinery.

The Chicago Daily News recently syndicated a story concerning the effects of the new minimum wage law upon Mississippi Delta cotton pickers. The story told of a weather-beaten 60-year old sharecropper who had spent most of his life tilling the rich black soil of the Delta, but who was recently given the sad news that there wouldn't be enough work available for him next year.

The new wage law which on Feb. 1st was extended to farm labor has caused alarm in such areas. According to the Daily News, Delta cotton planters state flatly that they are unable to pay the new $1.00 an hour minimum to day laborers who chop cotton—mostly women, children, and the elderly. Most planters intended to replace human labor with chemical weed controls and mechanical cotton pickers. "We picked 90 per cent by machine last year," a spokesman for the Delta Council of Planters announced, "and can easily pick it all by machines." Calvin Beale, noted U.S. Agriculture Dept. researcher estimates that at least 50,000 persons will be affected by layoffs in the Delta counties of Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Missouri. Again, additional examples of how the minimum wage law, intended to help low income workers is in actuality causing work loss.

Tractor drivers will be least affected by the minimum wage boost, and, in fact, will now receive a two dollar per day increase, or more.

But farmers and planters who previously furnished rent and utilities to sharecroppers will now charge for these services. Income loss from layoffs of wives and children will further hurt the tenant farmer.

Delta Council executive B. F. Smith sums up the situation: "The very people most in need of help will be hurt the most."

CAPITOL COMMENT

Fighting Organized Crime

Organized crime has received a large dose of publicity in the past few weeks. Its extent, variations, profits and procedures have been outlined in reports which should educate many Americans who had been unaware of the depth and persistence of this nationwide plague.

Relatively little attention has been given, however, to one of the most serious aspects of organized crime — its impact on the urban poor. Recently seven other Members of the House and I issued a report emphasizing the great drain which organized crime imposes on the slight resources of poor neighborhoods. In essence, we found that many of the honest, sincere efforts to help poverty-stricken Americans are being undermined, if not nullified, by the continued operations of organized crime.

The annual profit from gambling and the numbers racket is at least $6 billion—three times the funding for the "war on poverty" last year. The earnings from narcotics sales total about $350 million per year, and an equal amount is gained from loan-sharking. Most of these activities are widespread in poor neighborhoods, where their victims are small businessmen, poor families, and others who can ill afford the price.

There are other grave dangers, too. The narcotics traffic is a major cause of street crime, which endangers life and property and has created an atmosphere of fear in so many areas. Organized crime also breeds corruption, and contributes to a general disrespect for authority, law enforcement, and public officials.

My colleagues and I have made a number of recommendations to increase and improve the fight against organized crime. For example, we strongly suggested expanding and upgrading the Organized Crime Section of the Justice Department, which — as shown by that office's own statistics—has been less active during the past few years than in 1963 and 1964.

Much attention has focused on the controversial area of wiretapping and eavesdropping. The development of extremely small, sensitive and sophisticated devices has made electronic surveillance a very useful tool for law enforcement — and for illegal purposes. It has also become a grave threat to individual privacy.

The Administration has recommended a bill which would prohibit wiretapping and eavesdropping by all persons, including law enforcement officers — but would give the President unlimited freedom to wiretap or eavesdrop whenever he determined that it was justified on national security grounds.

In Judiciary Committee hearings this spring, the Attorney General admitted to me that this bill would give the executive branch a clear monopoly on electronic surveillance — subject only to whatever restraints the President himself imposed, and beyond the reach of judicial review. I feel that such a license would be extremely unwise, and that it would seriously retard the cause of civil liberties to give any official such a blank check to spy, without any practical guarantees against abuses by a future administration.

Instead of this approach, my colleagues and I have proposed consideration of tightly drawn legislation which would permit the judiciary to authorize wiretapping and eavesdropping, in carefully defined circumstances for limited periods of time, where it was essential to law enforcement and the prevention of serious crimes. Such a bill would be responsive to recent Supreme Court opinions. It would advance the cause of personal freedom, and would also further the difficult fight against organized crime.

Ency Is Upheld On News Releases

The Rules committee of the Constitutional convention refused yesterday to take away from President H. Vernon Eney control over the convention's information service.

The committee approved a resolution which would create a new committee on public information, but it withheld from the committee any administrative powers.

The rules committee action will go to the floor of the convention for consideration early next week.

Delegate Robey of Baltimore had argued for a stronger group which would set policy and have direct control over the director of information.

A resolution dealing with another aspect of information was introduced yesterday by Frederick C. Malkus that would prohibit spending any tax funds after the conclave ends to try "to influence the voters of Maryland" to vote either for or against the proposed constitution.

Eney already had called for a vigorous campaign paid for by convention funds to inform voters about the proposed constitution before balloting next May.

Seeks Penalty Rule Change

The Rules committee has recommended adoption of a liberal definition of what constitutes attendances at the convention to avoid a $15 penalty for delegates who miss sessions.

The General Assembly included the penalty clause for members with an unexcused absence from the session of the convention or meetings of authorized committees or subcommittees . .

The rules committee voted to propose a rule that a delegate be considered present for the day if he attended either the convention or a committee or subcommittee meeting.

There had been some speculation that a delegate could be docked the $15 from his $2,000 salary if he missed any one of the several meetings during the day.

The rules committee also will propose that the same definition of present, that is attendance at any one meeting, be adopted for the purpose of collecting the $25 a day expense allowance.

A third rule provides for excused absences which would do away with the $15 penalty, because of illness, death in a delegate's immediate family or "other reason beyond the control of the delegate". President Eney would be authorized to approve excuses.

A far reaching proposal was put before the convention Tuesday. It would declare as the responsibility of the state a provision of a free education "irrespective of length" for every citizen.

The measure said that every individual in a democracy is entitled "to a free education, irrespective of its length, to be determined by the duties and responsibilities he shall have to share as a citizen and by his needs and particular abilities".

Another radical proposal would lower the Maryland voting age to 16 years. Also coming in Tuesday was a proposal to permit convictions on a vote of 80 percent of the members of a jury.

surveyed and a topographical survey made for use by the architects.

Mr. Hawkins felt this should be done without delay since the architects cannot start work until they have the topographical survey.

The board of Education recently signed a contract with Johannes and Murray, architects, for the proposed junior college, and authorized it be sent to the County Commissioners for their signatures as soon as state funds for the college were officially approved by the Board of Public Works.

In additional communications between interested parties this week Mr. Hawkins was informed by George A. Myers, coordinating supervisor of School Facilities Unit, that the action of the State Board of Education in respect to state financial assistance for the new college had been reported to the state department of public improvements and should appear on the agenda for the October meeting of the Board of Public Works.

In the meantime he talked with Roland Piel in the department of Public Improvements, and it was felt the size of the campus should be 55 to 60 acres. Present purchase was for 32 acres. It was indicated that before recommendations could be made on the two optioned properties, that clarification would be needed.

Mt. Top Still Free From Killing Frost

With another week gone by, there are still no reports of any damaging frosts here on the mountaintop. The lowest temperatures recorded were 38 on Thursday, September 14, and 36 on Friday the 15th.

The majority of days saw clear, dry weather with daytime temperatures around 78 degree mark. On Tuesday, the mercury dropped only to the 50's, with a high near 80 during the day. Wednesday dawned with partly cloudy skies and remained overcast all day. Thunder was heard in the Oakland area around 6:00 p.m., and a brief rain fell Wednesday evening and early Thursday morning, with the temperature remaining in the moderate 50's.

Evidently Mr. Frost had granted the county a reprieve as far as fall is concerned.

Defense Dept approved $322,874,000 for research and development of Nike X anti-missile.

Among the hundreds of Russian missiles, manned by Spanish-speaking Russian launching crews and kept in Russian-built and Russian-commanded arsenals deep beneath the mountains of Southwestern Cuba (scarcely more than 100 miles from Miami) are three species which are labeled in Spanish: "Washington Derecha", Washington Centro", "Washington Izquierda". Translated, the labels read: "Washington Right", "Washington Center", Washington Left". The labels indicate the various regions of sprawling metropolitan Washington, D. C. towards which the Cuban-based Soviet H-bombs are to be fired.

The missiles, approximately 70 feet long and 7 feet in diameter, are capable of hurling their H-bombs 1200 to 1500 mi. They are Russian IRBM, and they (together with some larger ones) are today pouring into Cuba in ship bottoms camouflaged to fool American U-2 "spy" planes and "spy" satellities. Beneath vast areas of Cuba there have been constructed subterranean missile complexes and arsenals, reachable by truck convoys on double-lane highways penetrating to the heart of mountain ranges. These underground arsenals and fortresses are commanded and manned by Russian technicians and soldiers.

The above information (not confirmed by the U. S. Department of Defense) has come from private intelligence sources which have earned the respect of authoritative witnesses interviewed by Congressional committees. The reports have been corroborated by some 50 "credible" Cubans who claimed, after escaping from Cuba, to have personally seen the missiles, the Russian ships, and the sprawling underground arsenals built by the Soviets. One of the intelligence sources is Paul Bethel, 48, a newspaperman who worked in Cuba for the State Department and as a Cuban "expert" on the staff of President Kennedy.

One of the "eye witnesses" is Antonio Apud, 61, a newspaperman for 17 years with the Havana Post, and for 25 years manager of the Cuban sugar mill, owned by an American company, the Atlantic Sugar Gulf Corporation. He was forced by Castro to help run (for two years) the Department of Supplies for the Plan for Industrialization in Cuba. He fled Cuba only after 115 members of the Apud family clan had been spirited out. Following a part of his testimony to the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee:

"I saw four (long-range) missiles in November, about a week before I left Havana, about 1 o'clock in the morning; four of them. . . The range of this missile is about 1,210 to 1,300 miles. . . They passed just about the distance that I am from you. The information we have is that these missiles, on Andros Island and the (Russian) submarine base near Cape Lucrecia, they cover the entire Carribbean zone".

Bethel, now Director of the Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba, testified that he had interviewed more than 2,000 Cubans; several hundred told him of the big missiles, the Russian-commanded underground complexes, etc. He said 50 such reports had been "completely credible stories" of eye-witness observations. He said: "We have completely credible accounts of missiles between 80 and 100 feet (1500 mile range) . . . Missiles of great size are constantly being moved in Cuba under cover of darkness. Their movement is so well organized that sections of cities and towns are systematically blackened out as they pass through. I think this is related to some of the tunneling that the Russians are doing. I believe that in many instances, they are moving those missiles to try to keep the U-2 flights from pinpointing the fixed bases".

sion promised that if the buck kill was down significantly this year the doe season may be eliminated in 1968.

It was said that further consideration would be given in the future to feelings of the various counties regarding game laws.

It was proposed that grouse and rabbit season be moved earlier to November 1 in 1968, in the western counties. Considerable emphasis was placed upon the fact that stream pollution in this county, while improving generally, had worsened enough in certain areas to affect fishing. Woltden Creek near Kitzmiller will not be stocked due to strip mine pollution, until steps are taken to clear up the situation.

Some comment also was made concerning pollution in Cherry Creek on Meadow Mountain.

Legal help and advice were promised to the local Izaak Walton league to combat this situation. George Shields, director of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish commission, volunteered services of the Maryland State Fish Biologist at the next monthly meeting of the club on October 19, to explain purposes of the local stocking program and methods of combating pollution.

Methods of stopping illegal deer hunting were discussed with Warden Robert Brown promising increasing pressure by his department.

Queen, Princesses Ready For Festival

There will be 18 princesses, 18 flower girls, three train bearers, a crown bearer, two maids of honor and a queen in the annual coronation ceremonies at the Preston County Buckwheat Festival, Sept. 29. They will be accompanied by members of Scabbard and Blade honorary from West Virginia University. They will march across the coronation field in the area set aside for the coronation of the Festival Queen.

This year Queen Ceres XXVI, Lynne Taylor of Terra Alta, and her Court, will march before thousands of spectators on September 29 during the Buckwheat Festival, which will begin on September 28 and last through October 1.

The festival royalty still has much to do before that day a week from now when John D. Rockefeller IV places a crown on Miss Taylor's head.

Yards of bright corduroy have been distributed to the princesses and the job of turning strips of yard goods into finished gowns has begun.

The material for the gowns was ordered in March. When it arrived, Mrs. Milford Hardesty of Kingwood, who has been coordinating festival fashions for over 20 years, cut it into pieces of ten yards each for the princesses and five yards each for the flower girls.

Nine fall colors were ordered for the princesses' and flower girls' gowns. Two large and two small gowns will be made from each color. The maids of honor and the train bearers will wear deep purple corduroy and the queen will wear a gown of white velveteen.

Al lof the gowns will be made from the same style pattern. This year's gown will feature a deep "V" shaped pleat in front falling from an empire bodice. The dress will have a scoop neckline and be sleeveless. A long sleeved jacket that fastens in the back will be worn over the dress if the weather is cool.

This year's princesses have elected to go bare-headed, feeling that current hair styles are prettier free than encumbered by artificial bows, braids or veils.

The only piece of jewelry each girl will wear will be a single strand of pearls.

The gowns will not be completed until the day of dress rehearsal. At that time, the hems will be measured so that they will all be the same height from the ground. After being measured the hems will be stitched in place and the 1967 Buckwheat Festival court will be ready to march onto the field.

5 Charges Bring Fines of $375.00

Harold Ernest Dillsworth, 26 of the Underwood area, was brought before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney on Tuesday, September 19, in Oakland, to face five motor vehicle violation charges.

Dillsworth entered pleas of guilty to a charge of driving while his license was revoked; extinguishing his lights to avoid recognition; failing to obey a police order to halt; operating a motor vehicle in a reckless manner, and operating a motor vehicle with no muffler.

On each of the first three charges Dillsworth, who is married and the father of three children, he was fined $100 and costs, and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail in default of payment. The fourth charge netted him a fine of $50 and costs or 15 days in jail; and the fifth charge was $25 fine or 15 days in jail. The addition came to $375 in fines plus $15 in costs, or a total of 120 days in jail.

He told Magistrate Maroney he was confident he could raise the money but was placed in the county jail, pending the final outcome.

Several other motor vehicle violations were listed on the docket for the past twelve days or more:

Hazel Arlette Upole, Baltimore forfeited collateral of $7 and costs for failure to obey traffic signal.

Nelson Azor Bucklew, Oakland, entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of improper passing. He was found guilty and fined $7 and costs.

Conrad Schmidt, Venice, Sarasota, Fla., paid $20 and costs for failing to drive to right half of highway.

Glen Stanton, Canal Fulton, O., paid $15 and costs for operating at speed too great.

Jack Wayne Coddington, Accident, paid $10 and costs for exceeding the posted speed limit.

Kenneth Lynn Stanton, Grantsville, paid $25 and costs for spinning wheels intentionally on highway.

Harold Frederick Bortz, Uniontown, Pa., paid $15 and costs for exceeding 40 miles per hour in a restricted zone.

Marshall Alan Broadwater, Oakland, paid $12 and costs for reckless driving.

Herbert T. Barton, Piedmont, W. Va., paid $7 and costs for speed too great for existing conditions.

Marilyn Kay Martin, Oakland, paid $7 and costs for speed too great for conditions.

Gary Allen Bachtel, Oakland, pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle without registration plates and was fined $7 and costs. The fine and costs were suspended. He also pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle without an operator's license and was fined $7 and costs.

Change In Disability Regulations Noted

Disability payments under the social security law are no longer limited to persons with permanent disabilities, according to Edward G. Phelps, district manager of social security in Cumberland.

Mr. Phelps said many people were not yet aware of a change in the social security law under which a person may be eligible for benefits if he has a disability that is expected to last 12 months.

Any mental or physical impairment that is totally disabling and is expected to continue for as long as 12 months meets the requirements of the definition of disability under the new law.

According to Mr. Phelps, the work requirement has not been changed.

WVU enrollment was up 10 percent to 13,374.

Modern Charter Asked for State

H. Vernon Eney, president of Maryland's first constitutional convention in 100 years, called for a new constitution which will provide good, efficient government for four million Marylanders.

He told the 141 other delegates they couldn't solve "the problems of the world, of the nation or even of the state" in a little span but said they could draft a constitution giving state government the weapons to prevent Maryland from being caught up and destroyed in the inferno of hate and conflict and bitter defiance which we see all around us".

The convention opened officially on Tuesday. It will meet for at least 90 days and has the option by a delegate vote of extending the session for 30 additional days.

Leaders have tentatively set aside the first 30 days for hearings on proposals, 30 days for drafting and discussion and 30 day for debate and voting on provisions to be included.

Fall Fire Season Is Now in Effect

The fall fire season began last Friday, September 15, according to W. A. C. Irwin, district supervisor. In spite of continued dry weather no woods fires had been reported in the district this month.

Residents of the four Western Maryland counties are being urged to use caution during the season if they go into the woods.

Beginning last Friday open burning will be permitted only between 4 p. m. and midnight under certain regulations. There must be a fire break at least 10 feet wide around material to be burned. Adequate personnel and fire fighting equipment are to be present to prevent any spread. Persons must be certain that all embers are out before leaving the area.

Is Your Name CLARY?

Do You Know That

Clary has been used extensively as a surname for a number of centuries. According to most authorities on the origin of names, it is the Irish form of the English "Clark". It is the equivalent of the surname Cleary and is obtained from the Gaelic "cleireach" which means "clerk". Originally, a clerk was a member of a religious order and was a scholar and man of learning. It is said also that Clary was sometimes applied, when surnames first came into vogue, to newcomers to England who came from Cleri, a place in Normandy, France.

Daniel Clary, who was born in Ireland and died in Ipswich, Massachusetts, served in the Massachusetts troops during the Revolutionary War and took part in the battle of Concord in 1775.

As additional evidence that members of the Clary family were among the early settlers of this country, it should be noted that the first census of the United States, taken in 1790, has eight listings of persons by the name of Clary who were residents of Maryland and heads of families at that time. All except one lived in Frederick County.

There are six references to persons by the name of Clary in the latest directory of Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary scholastic society.

Justin R. Clary (1874-1959) was the founder and president of Justin R. Clary and Son, New York City, stone fabricators. His firm provided much of the granite for the Rockefeller Center Building of New York.

Edward Martin Clary (1888-1960) was known widely for his accomplishments as a member of the editorial staff of the New York World-Telegram.

Joseph F. Clary is vice-president, Budd Company, Philadelphia, manufacturers of railway cars.

Thomas J. Clary, an attorney of note, was admitted to the Pennsylvania Bar in 1924 and at present is chief judge, U. S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, with offices in Philadelphia.

Howard Leonard Clary is vice-president, Carrier Corporation, Syracuse, N. Y., substantial manufacturers of air conditioning and other equipment.

Bogs Buck With Bow

Brad Ranard, director of the Community Action committee in the county became a successful deer hunter on opening day of bow and arrow season last Friday.

Mr. Rinard shot a 7-point buck from a distance of about fifty yards, at a woodland near the intersection of U. S. route 40 and U. S. route 219, east of Grantsville. He was accompanied by Lowell Bender at the time. The buck dressed at 92 pounds. The buck was shot through the heart. With him at the time were three does.

Mr. Rinard used a 45-pound Ben Pearson Mustang bow with a No. 7 micro flite arrow. He has been successful with killing deer with bow and arrow in West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Virginia, but this was his first one for Maryland.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

LBJ And The Riots

Looking back at the disastrous Detroit riot, Americans properly may be dismayed at President Johnson's highly political reaction to the disorders. Whereas the White House in the past has been quick to send federal troops into Southern states at the earliest opportunity, Mr. Johnson delayed and delayed sending soldiers into strife-torn Detroit. The delays persisted despite pleas by Republican Gov. George Romney of Michigan and the Democratic mayor of Detroit.

When the troops finally were dispatched into the city (and they constituted only a fraction of the massive force President Kennedy used to overwhelm the small town of Oxford, Miss., in 1962) he employed a nationwide television address to explain his extreme reluctance to employ federal troops.

Under the circumstances, this explanation seemed peculiar. If there ever was an occasion for federal assistance, this was it. The troops were requested by state and local authorities. The havoc being committeed in Detroit was equal to what an external enemy of the United States might achieve in a massive bombing raid.

Mr. Johnson apparently was trying to get off the hook with "civil rights" groups. But the vast majority of the American people are not politically-minded "civil rights" activists. They are people who expect the President to assist the states in upholding law and order. The only thing Mr. Johnson needed to say in his television address was that he intended to prevent Detroit and other American cities from being turned into jungles. There was no valid reason, as The Charlotte News has said, for the President to react "half apologetically to each link in the chain of disaster". The President of the United States does not need to explain himself to "civil rights" organizations when American cities are under siege.

In the aftermath of the rioting, Mr. Johnson has asked the country to pray for domestic peace. He also has appointed an investigative commission to inquire into the cause of the riots.

Prayer certainly is in order as a proper avenue to reconciliation. On the other hand, Americans cannot overlook the fact that the liberal clergy is partly to blame for the disorders now shaking this nation. In recent years, hundreds of liberal priests, ministers and rabbis have given their endorsement to civil disobedience and to protest movements which trample on municipal and state laws. In Selma, Ala., there was an invasion of clergymen from the North. One wonders: where were these clerical voices of "conscience" when the rioting broke out in Detroit and other cities? How is it that Martin Luther King didn't invade the streets of Detroit to call for non-violence? There is a distinct smell of hypocrisy in this situation.

As for the presidential investigative commission, no doubt the members, according to their lights, will search for answers. It would be a mistake, however, to expect much of the commission. In general, the members share the social outlook which has prevailed in places of power in the last generation. That is to say, they believe that uplifting of backward people and the ending of public discipline problems can be solved by massive federal expenditures. Thus it would be very surprising if the commission came up with anything but a recommendation for vast increases in government anti-poverty spending.

Mr. Johnson certainly has indicated his approach to the riot problem. He has spoken of the riots in Detroit, Newark and other cities in such a way as to employ these tragic situations as arguments for salvaging his Great Society programs. In other words, the American people have been listening to him hoping to hear a crystal-clear demand for law and order, and instead have received a stone in the form of a political message for more Big Government spending in metropolitan centers.

The ordinary citizen, in the aftermath of a period of savagery and rampant looting, certainly knows the score. It is likely that Mr. Johnson will feel the sting of a real law and order backlash if he persists in trying to end street revolution by bowing to the blackmail of Negro militants who try to pressure the country by using firebombs and snipers' bullets.

Nellie Ford prayed a jury trial from a case scheduled to be heard before Magistrate Maroney on a charge of assault and battery.

Everyone, especially teenagers, are invited to attend. There will also be teen talent, testimonies, choruses, and participation.

"Man of Steel" is a drama from the Yukon to the city streets. With his own hands, Jeff Forbes, had fashioned an industrial empire. He provided his family with much of life's comforts and most of its extravagances. But his heart was empty. Then One crossed his path, through the witness of a transformed alcoholic, and Jeff Forbes made the greatest discovery of all.

Campus Life Rallies geared to and using area teenagers will be present every 1st. and 3rd. Saturday night at Northern and Southern High Schools. A teen speaker will be featured October 7th., at Northern High.

Answers Questions On the Convention

William W. Grant, Garrett county representative on the Constitutional convention committee, was quoted in "The Communicator", an Episcopal church paper, in a symposium on the convention, in which he answers three questions along with two other delegates.

Grant is attorney to the city council, is chairman of the county welfare board, secretary of the Rotary club and junior warden of St. Matthew's Episcopal church. He has been assigned to work with the legal government committee, and the rules, credentials and budget committee of the convention.

Q. In order to be a delegate to the convention you had to go through a time-consuming campaign and election. Now you face three months, perhaps longer, serving as a delegate. Why are you taking this time and this interest?

Mr. Grant—"My interest in the Constitutional Convention stems from a belief in a society ruled by law. Popular passion—spiritual or political—is necessary to sustain life, but without a strong framework—liturgical or constitutional—to contain and direct it, only chaos can result. I personally plan to live in Annapolis and close my law office in Oakland for the three months I will be involved in drafting the constitution".

Q. Do you look for certain issues to be "hotter" than others?

Mr. Grant—"Maryland is a very diverse state, ranging from the tidelands of the Eastern Shore through the megalopolis of Baltimore to the mountains of Western Maryland. To accommodate all this diversity in one effective type of government is going to take quite a bit of doing.

"For example, entrusting certain key decisions to the legislature is no answer for an area such as Garrett County which may have the biggest land area in the state, but because of reapportionment, has essentially no representation in the legislature. Such dilficulties as this, along with the bewildering proliferation of state agencies which the governor needs to supervise, the problems of housing and transportation which beset the urban areas, and the problems of taxation which affect all of us, loom in my thoughts as the largest problems to be overcome".

Q. Is there any one phase of the convention that draws your particular concern?

Mr. Grant—"For the state as a whole, the most essential element to me is to be aware that the writing in 1776 of the Maryland Bill of Rights and the accompanying Maryland Constitution of 1776 gave us a very precious heritage of freedom from oppressive rules. It was not without reason that Maryland received the nickname of the 'Free State'.

"While increasing population, industrialization and urbanization may have created a need for different mechanisms of government, the need to protect our essential freedom from oppression by the necessary expansion of governmental control is more acute than ever".

'68s Top Secrets are here

1968 Chevrolets

The 1968 Chevrolets are the very essence of modern design. Every line, every curve is in close harmony. It's a smooth, uncluttered look with roof lines compatible with body lines, grilles and bumpers that blend gracefully into long, rounded fenders. Clean, flowing, beautiful in their simplicity, these '68 Chevrolets are rich and advanced in styling beyond any you've ever seen.

A MORE SILENT RIDE

And for 1968, we've gone to every length to give you more peace and quiet inside. The most sophisticated computers have been used to strategically place body mounts and successfully isolate noise and vibration. Shock absorbers have been improved. The wheel stance on many models is wider for greater smoothness. Exhaust systems have been redesigned to make them whisper-quiet. Even the clocks tick more softly. A sound car is a silent car. The '68 Chevrolets are the most silent, highest quality cars we've ever built.

BETTER PERFORMANCE

There are new engines, a bigger standard Six and V8. There's a new 250-hp V8 you can order that runs on regular fuel. Many new engine components increase dependability and keep your new Chevrolet running stronger. There's a new rear axle ratio you can add for greater economy. On most engines equipped with automatic transmissions, there's a special heater for the carburetor which gives you more efficient performance in cold weather. And with every engine, you get the new GM exhaust emission control.

UNIQUE ASTRO VENTILATION

There's a whole new idea in ventilation, called Astro Ventilation, for Camaro, Corvette and the elegant Caprice Coupe. It's also available on many other models. By opening two new vent-ports on the instrument panel, you bring in outside air that can be directed where you want it. This way, you can leave your windows rolled up and add still more to your peace and quiet.

PROVED SAFETY FEATURES

You get the proved GM-developed energy absorbing steering column, folding front seat back latches, dual master cylinder brake system with warning light, plus many more new features. Among them: energy absorbing front seat backs, and safety armrests that shield the door handles.

MUCH MORE THAT'S NEW

There are new roof lines, some formal and graceful, others sporty and quick. There are new instrument panels, richly designed and all controls within easy reach. There are new interiors, new vinyls, new fabrics, new colors. There are models with Hide-A-Way windshield wipers and headlights that disappear behind grilles. There are new side marker lamps, new recessed taillights. There's even a new ignition alarm buzzer that reminds you not to walk away and leave your keys in the car.

These are the newest, the most different, the most dramatically changed Chevrolets ever. And they're at your Chevrolet dealer's now. You'll thoroughly enjoy slipping behind the wheel, experiencing the smooth new handling and library-quiet ride and, more than anything, seeing and feeling the even greater quality built into every new Chevrolet for 1968.

Be smart! Be sure! Buy now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

CHEVROLET

There's more quality and value built into Chevrolets than ever before, making every new 1968 model an even better buy!

—And where we'll stop, who can know?

We do have the best educational system in the world. But what will your child think and want and demand once we've educated him?

For in our system—unlike the Russian — we impart truth rather than ideas. We give our children the tools of thought, not the party line.

Does your child know that the center of all truth is God? Does he measure his aims by Christian standards of faith and morality? Has he learned where unbridled human passions of greed and power and selfishness can lead? Does he respect the religious faith and spiritual opportunities which motivated American Liberty?

Nobody can brainwash an American family. But it's up to each American family to choose every Sunday between the "around and around," and the center of truth—GOD.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

ON THAT DAY

Lesson for September 24, 1967

Background Scripture: Acts 28:17-31.
Devotional Reading: Philippians 1:12-21.

On May 19, 1780, the Connecticut House of Representatives was in session in Hartford. It was one of the most eerie days in New England history. One chronicler called it "a terrible foretaste of Judgement Day."

Rev. Althouse

At noon the skies turned from blue to grey. By midafternoon they had become so black that many people, fearing the Day of God's Wrath had come, fell to their knees and implored his mercy.

In the House of Representatives all was confusion. Some men fell to their knees while others called for immediate adjournment. Then, Colonel Davenport, the Speaker of the House, rose to his feet and a momentary hush came over the room as he spoke: 'The Day of Judgement is either approaching or it is not. If it is not, there is no cause for adjournment. If it is, I choose to be found doing my duty. I wish, therefore, that candles may be brought!"

THE LAST GLIMPSE

Paul encountered some of this same difficulty during his own ministry. The people of Thessalonica, he learned, had stopped working and were simply waiting in idleness for the return of Christ, something they supposed to be imminent. Paul's letters to them instructed them to get back to work, so that when the day of Christ's return did come, they would be found faithfully doing their tasks.

Paul's own life provided a shining example. In the last chapter of Acts, we leave Paul in Rome. The writer of Acts does not finish the story, perhaps because he assumed his readers knew it or because Paul was still working when Acts was written. The last glimpse of Paul that is given to us, however, is that of a man continuing his work, heedless of the possible lateness of the hour.

When the chapter closes, Paul does not know what his fate will be. He might be freed, imprisoned, or even executed. Whatever happens, however, Paul would be found, like Speaker Davenport, doing his task.

TYPICAL OF PAUL

We see a scene that had been repeated many times in Paul's life. "When they had appointed a day for him, they came to him at his lodging in great numbers" (Acts 28:23 RSV). The only difference now was that they came to his house. Paul evidently under house-arrest. Once again as many times before, Paul expounded the good news, "testifying to the kingdom of God, and trying to convince them about Jesus both from the law of Moses and from the prophets." Inevitably, "some were convinced by what he said, while others disbelieved." So it had been wherever he had gone. So it is with us even today: some response, some rejection.

Apparently, even in those days there was a great back-log of court cases awaiting trial, for two years later and Paul had still not been tried. Our last view of him, then, is typical for Paul: "And he lived there two whole years at his own expense and welcomed all who came to him, preaching the kingdom of God and teaching about the Lord Jesus Christ quite openly and unhindered" (Acts 28: 30, 31 RSV).

TO LIGHT A CANDLE

Poor Paul! Working right up to the end. Never getting to retire and enjoy a pension. No little bungalow in Florida. True, he probably wasn't making tents any more (his profession), but the preaching and teaching of Christ and the kingdom was something he could not lay down. In that dark age, Paul's mission was to light candles, not curse the darkness.

Harry Lauder used to say: "I could tell where the lamplighter was by the trail of light he left behind." So it was with Paul: one could follow his trail of light throughout Europe and Asia and he was still lighting candles when his Master came to take him home.

Where will you be and what will you be doing on that day?

Nineteen Killed On State Highways

Again this past week, Maryland's highway fatality toll was exceedingly high, with nineteen deaths being recorded

Commenting on the high loss of life, Lt. Col. George E. Davidson, Chief of Operations of the Maryland State Police, said, "It is certainly disheartening to receive week after week the list of persons killed on Maryland roads and the causes of their deaths, and realize that any words of warning are apparently falling on unheeding ears. Those who disobey the motor vehicle laws not only kill themselves but in many cases, kill the innocent motorist who is going his or her way in a lawful manner.

Twelve of those killed were drivers, four were passengers, and three were pedestrians.

"Driver error" was present in eighteen of the nineteen deaths, speed in nine, and alcohol was present in six instances.

Lord Thomas' Boundary Stone

If you are out for the day and would like rustic traveling, try Kempton Road, which must be found by close scrutiny as you proceed east from Red House. If you are cosmopolitan, but still feel the thrill of history, try Route 219 through a West Virginia forest and emerge just a few miles west of the Fairfax Stone.

Yes, it is hidden away, in the next state, with a dirt road, and along this, fern and ground pine, diffused forest making magnificent green greetings for a Marylander seeking this first fountain of the North Branch of the Potomac. The turbulent giant at Great Falls is nowhere in evidence at the tiny rock-lined bank, with a fringe of stone well-laid in an oval. Split-rail fence around a larger perimeter lends the propert wilderness air to the spot so long used and yet neglected in actual use for our state boundary.

That little struggle of a trickle from under the bank ends as an eight-mile wide stream when it meets the Chesapeake 285 miles later. In the meantime, it has admitted four tributaries on its journey: Savage, Cacapon, Monocacy, and Shenandoah Rivers, as well as several small creeks. Evitts, Tonoloway, Conococheague, and Antietam, and their counterparts. One would never guess that past history has seen plantations, Indian villages, coal barges, tobacco hogsheads, and the countless indications of a colonial transition to industrialization, all this activity hinging on the waters which begin in the woodland.

One can surely imagine the Indian scout or trapper on his way to the next portage, kneeling at the bank for a drink in the rivulet he has discovered. Since Potomac as a word means the place of the burning pine, possibly from the Indian "Patomek", history again reminds us of the practices in these dense growths, by the Indians for cornfields and by settlers for crops and to get rid of trees, of setting fires in forests.

The Fairfax Stone is named for Lord Thomas Fairfax, who had been granted more than 5 million acres of Virginia land by the English court. This entails nearly one fourth of the present state, extending from the Rappahannock to the Potomac. Here he kept tenant farmers, with agents to assign them lands and to collect the rents which must have been as exorbitant as some modern taxes. On the monument now marking the stone it is stated that Thomas Lewis, one of the Fairfax surveyors, set the first Fairfax Stone in 1746, and marked it "FX". Young George Washington also surveyed these lands for accuracy, so his early days, as well as later tragic ones with Braddock, are entwined with western Maryland.

Not until 1912 did the state of Maryland finally complete the survey to legally establish our other boundary, extending north from the stone to the Mason Dixon Line. West Virginia and Maryland had long disputed the extents of land, so this new work followed closely the line delineated by Colonel Francis Deakins in 1787. Deakins was a surveyor, soldier, and land speculator, but in addition was a creditor of the governor, so he obtained the position of land agent and laid off the bounty lots for Revolutionary War soldiers, at the same time constructing the western boundary.

We are reminded that in a less hurried day it was a gay outing to drive from Oakland to the Fairfax Stone and return in the afternoon. Perhaps for modern families it may serve as a reminder of our colonial backgrounds if we go there for some hours of rest and observation. Who wouldn't like to dip his fingers in the small dribble which journeys outward through glen and rapid, dividing us from the Old Dominion and marking us as a distinct group here in the mountains?

Church To Observe Patronal Festival

St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Oakland, will observe its Patronal Festival, St. Matthew's Day, this evening at 7:30 with a celebration of Holy Communion and meditation by the Rector, the Rev. W. Shelby Walthall. It was on this day one year ago that the Rt. Rev. Harry Lee Doll, D.D., Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Maryland, consecrated the old stone church. Special attention will be given to those persons who were confirmed by the Bishop during that service. The service tonight is open to the public.

At the regular monthly meeting of St. Matthew's Church Vestry on Sunday, September 17th, Clinton W. Englander was elected Senior Warden to replace the late Dr. E. I. Baumgartner who had held that position for many years. At the same time Irving Wolf was elected Junior Warden of the Parish to replace William W. Grant, Jr., who resigned due to his position as a delegate to the Maryland Constitution Convention.

At the meeting of the Church Vestry it was decided that all gifts sent to St. Matthew's Church in memory of Dr. Baumgartner be used to pay for the new pulpit which was installed and blessed at the time of the re-opening of the restored stone church. An appropriate brass plaque will soon be installed on the pulpit.

To Observe Anniversary

Plans for observing the 100th anniversary of the stone church will be made at a meeting of the Centennial Committee this Sunday at 7:30 p. m., in the church office. The church, built in 1868 by John W. Garrett in memory of his brother, Henry S. Garrett, became the permanent possession of St. Matthew's Episcopal church in 1962. It was deeded to the local congregation by the Baltimore Presbytery. Members of the special committee include William W. Grant, Jr., Ralph Beachley, Irving Wolf, Richard Bishoff, Mrs. Clinton Englander, Mrs. B. Linn Grant, Mrs. William Grant, Sr., and Mrs. Neil Fraley.

Corn Price Support Announced by ASC

The price support loan rate for the 1967 corn crop will be $1.24 per bushel, Darrell Martin, Chairman, County ASC Committee, has announced. This loan rate, plus a 30-cents-per-bushel special price support payment, gives a total price support rate of $1.54 per bushel for 1967 crop corn.

A revision of the loan rate basis, effective with the 1967 crop, makes No. 2 grade corn the basic reference quality upon which loan and settlement values will be based. No. 3 grade was previously used. The change to higher grade basis, together with a 5 cent increase in the national average loan rate means all basic county loan rates for 1967 will be 7 cents per bushel above the 1966 rates.

Mr. Martin reminded growers that price support on the 1967 crop of corn will be available only to farmers participating in the 1967 feed grain program.

He also pointed out that this year's program is similar to last year's in that all the 1967 production of corn from participating farms can be put under the price support loan.

Farm storage loans and purchases for 1967-crop corn will be available from harvest time through April 1, 1968. Loans will mature on May 1, 1968.

To those of you who were expecting something fancier, sorry. (The '68 looks just like the '67 crossed out above.)

To those of you who now own a Volkswagen, congratulations. (Once again your model has not gone out of style.)

To those of you who've been thinking about buying a new one, nice thinking.

The front seats are more comfortable. (They have built-in headrests.)

The windshield wipers are much more efficient. (They're larger.)

Even the shifting is easier. (We put a decal on the window to show you how.)

All in all, we feel that the 36 nice little changes on this year's Volkswagen make it the best ever.

Of course, every year we build the "perfect" Volkswagen.

And then we do a masterful job of proving ourselves wrong.

Research, Service By Cancer Group Continues Here

The American Cancer Society of Garrett County continues to provide research and service toward the eventual victory over cancer. The Garrett Unit last year provided several patient services for local cancer victims. Even though the major portion of American Cancer Society's funds is allocated to research there are several limited services available. Help can be gained for Garrett County patients by contacting Mrs. Betty Shaffer in the County Health Dept. office.

Last year there were over 95 dozen dressings provided for local patients. Over 98 dressings were made. In addition to the dressings, two patients have received assistance for transportation, one patient for lodging and meals, and one patient received assistance from the loan closet. Sometimes treatment for cancer requires time away from the local community and, when everything is considered, the families of cancer patients carry several additional burdens. Assistance through the Garrett Unit may help to lighten the load and give all America Cancer Society's contributors the double feeling of having helped, according to Rev. Eldon Shingleton, member of the local group.

Treasurer Earl Clark reports that in the past two weeks $35.00 has been received in memorial gifts.

Dr. William Savage, president of the Garrett Unit has announced a meeting of the Board of Directors for Monday, October 2, 8:00 p. m. in the County Health Office in the hospital building.

Oppose Supreme County Power

Senate President William S. James objected this week to a proposal to place supreme power in the hands of counties, saying it could cripple city governments.

A vice president of the Constitutional Convention, joined representatives of the Maryland Municipal League in opposing provisions on local government drafted by the convention commission.

James said the proposal would make cities subservient to county government giving counties absolute control over annexation and changing of boundaries.

He proposed instead a commission on municipalities to deal with problems. It was agreed that there was need for revising constitutional regulation of local governments but that the evils outweighted the need for change.

Elected Court Clerk

The chief judge of Montgomery County Peoples' court told a convention committee Monday that unless provisions were made to retain court clerks as elective officers, the constitution would not be approved by the voters.

He said the most desperate need in Maryland was for an overhaul of the lower court structure.

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

New District Office Hours

The key to effective representation is close and continual communication between the people and their Congressman and Congressional office staff. Unless this contact is maintained, it is impossible for me to learn and study your thoughts on pending issues, to help mediate in cases of individual problems with Federal agencies, or to provide informational material on subjects of concern to you.

This year I have received great amounts of mail and many phone calls from you about countless issues of import to the nation, Maryland, and individual groups and families. I have met with many groups from all parts of the Sixth District to exchange ideas and discuss problems. In turn, I have tried to keep you informed of important Congressional actions, and my own positions and proposals, through correspondence, these newsletters, and my weekly radio reports. I am very grateful to all of the newspapers and stations which have carried these reports as a public service.

But there is always a need for more personal contact, for more opportunities for you to express your thoughts and explain difficulties. To respond to this need, I have arranged a new schedule of office hours in all parts of the District, with the assistance of many postmasters, who are making office space available to me for this purpose. When the Congressional schedule permits, I will certainly be keeping these office hours myself. When it is essential for me to remain in Washington, my District Representative, Mr. Al Mullican, or another member of your Congressional office staff will be there to serve you.

The new schedule follows:

Catonsville Post Office—10 to 12 a. m., first and third Thursdays of the month.

Ellicott City Post Office—10 to 12 a. m., second and fourth Thursdays of the month.

Randallstown Post Office —1 to 3 p. m., first and third Thursdays of each month.

Westminster Post Ofice—10 to 12 a. m., first and third Wednesdays of each month.

Frederick Post Office—9 to 12 a. m., second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.

Hagerstown Post Office—Every Monday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Cumberland Post Office — 1 to 4 p. m., first and third Tuesdays of each month (this office is open every day)

Oakland Post Office—1 to 3 p. m., second Tuesday of each month.

I hope that all of you will note these times and visit the closest office whenever I can be helpful to you in any way.

Senator Seeks Highway Talks

State Senator Ronald C. Brubaker has written Jerome B. Wolff, chairman-director of the Maryland State Roads commission regarding the plans for construction of the national freeway from Cumberland to the West Virginia line being given priority over the road from Hancock to Cumberland.

He questioned the advisability and asked for a meeting so residents could discuss the situation.

Mr. Wolff announced that the Garrett county section of the freeway had received federal approval for location plans to keep the program "on schedule" and he hoped the 40-mile portion from Cumberland to the West Virginia line could be completed before the Appalachian Act expired in 1971.

The senator represents parts of Allegany and Washington counties. He contended West Virginia might not build a similar road to connect with the proposed highway or that Maryland would run out of funds before reaching the state line, resulting in a four-lane highway from Cumberland to nowhere."

School Changes Family Menu Plan

Cool weather and back to school schedules generally require some alterations in family menu plans according to Mrs. Freda Denison, Extension Agent Home Economics. A good breakfast now becomes especially important if the youngsters are to do their best in the busy days ahead. This holds true for the working members of the household as well, she said.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service suggests the 3-point test of a good breakfast. Our breakfast should give us protein, vitamins and minerals. These food materials are needed to build and repair the body and keep it healthy. Our breakfast also provides fuel for body energy and it should taste good.

If you are trying to trim your figure, don't skip breakfast. Count your calories and provide for a fourth to a third of the daily total at breakfast.

The Health Department will be presenting a program for the Homemaker Clubs September 28 at 7:30 p. m. at the St. John's Episcopal Church in Deer Park. The following clubs in the area will be attending—Sunnyside, Swallow Falls, Deer Park, Meadow Glade and Oakland. Since this is the last meeting for the Health program, other clubs may attend this one if they were unable to get to the meeting in their area.

To Begin Touch Football Program

A touch football program will be undertaken by Leroy Bolding, football coach, to teach boys, aged eight to twelve the rudiments of the game.

The program is for boys who will be entering Southern High school in the near future.

The first session will be held Saturday morning, September 23, beginning at 10 o'clock and will be continued on succeeding Saturdays through September and October. Application blanks are being left at Deer Park, Loch Lynn, Dennett Road, Crellin and Kitzmiller schools. Mr. Bolding said any parent or adult who would help in this program would be welcome. He said that parents would take full responsibility for any injuries, but since this was touch football, no injuries were expected.

Allegany Freshmen Edge North'n JV's

Allegany High freshmen eked out a 7-6 victory over Northern High's junior varsity Saturday on the Northern High field.

Northern struck in the first period when quarterback Larry Knopp sneaked through the center of the line on a keeper.

The Campers came back in the next period scoring on a 22-yard pass play. Tony Mohler did the passing with C. Frazier hauling in the pass in the end zone. The extra point was scored on a roll out.

Sophomore halfback Rick Browning unlocked the door of a tight Valley High defense and scored a pair of touchdowns last Friday night to lead Southern High school to a 20-12 victory over the Black Knights at Lonaconing.

Browning, who picked apart the Valley defenses by gaining 86 yards on 12 carries, gave Southern an early 6-0 lead in the opening period when he scored from 15 yards out. Southern went two touchdowns ahead in the second period on his three-yard plunge to paydirt. He also ran for the extra point to give his team a 13-point advantage.

Sophomore end Jim Duncan put Valley back in the game late in the second quarter when he caught a three-yard scoring pass from Quarterback Greg Nichol.

In the third period after Andy Cosby scored with a seven-yard touchdown pass completion from quarterback Jack Alvarez, giving Southern a 20-6 lead, Norman Davis took in a 34-yard pass from Ralph Miller to put Valley within reach.

Twice Valley scoring threats were stopped by interceptions and both teams were hampered by penalties. Southern was set back a total of 130 yards on penalty calls.

Vaughn Winters gained 16 yards on nine carries for Southern and Norman Davis led the Black Knights with 71 yards on thirteen carries.

The Southern Highlanders will play their first home game of the season on Friday evening against St. Francis of Morgantown. Southern lost its first game against Kingwood 33 to 13.

PETS NEED LOVE AND PROTECTION

Only persons who will take good care of pets should own them. Children must be taught not to tease or abuse them. Proper grooming, feeding, exercise, attention, discipline and medical care are "musts." Only an experienced adult should attempt to break up a dog or animal fight.

There are some effective and safe remedies and health-aids for pets which we will be glad to explain to you. But, just as you should consult a physician when ailments or discomforts persist, it is important that a veterinarian be consulted whenever your pets have returning symptoms of a previous problem.

THE REPUBLICAN

Opening the Door . . .

Governor Agnew on Tuesday completed a round of meetings with County Commissioners of the various areas of the state in an effort to open up what he termed "avenues of communication".

He told our county commissioners that his real purpose of coming here was to clear a line of communication between county and state governments and to provide a forum for discussion.

This certainly is a commendable undertaking and one that could make discussions between the two governments much easier and provide for excellent understanding.

Similiarly lines of communication between mayors of incorporated towns and county commissioners could establish like advantages.

He was especially anxious to begin developing a definite plan for the future, and environmental planning in particular. He brought along a specialist in this matter who stressed zoning ordinances and subdivision planning.

He laid stress also on the necessity of sanitation and taking steps against pollution before the problem reached the danger stage. In more specific words he advocated all possible cooperation between officials and citizens in discussing problems and getting specific action for the benefit of the community in which we reside.

He pointed out the importance of keeping Deep Creek Lake pure for our future development and our towns and streams free of pollution. Mutual cooperation between state and county governments and county and municipal governments was pledged. Let's take advantage of the open doors and keep our "lines of communication" open.

Jury Finds Two Guilty As Charged In Liquor Cases

John Phillips Thayer and Robert Fike, tried Tuesday on charges of permitting consumption of alcoholic beverage by a minor, in violation of the liquor laws, were found guilty by a jury. They were each fined $50 and costs by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, which was the maximum under the statutes.

In another case tried before the court on Tuesday afternoon Donald Drees entered a plea of not guilty to an indictment which had three counts to it. They included sale of beer to a minor, furnishing beer to a minor and permitting consumption of beer on the premises by a minor.

A motion for dismissal of the first count was granted. Judge Hamill found him not guilty on the second count, and the judge found him guilty on the third count. He was fined $50 and costs.

Wins Appeal

Robert Edwin Skipper appealed his April 11 conviction by Magistrate Robert Maroney, of exceeding 50 m.p.h. Skipper, who had no counsel, pleaded not guilty to the charge, saying that at the time Trooper Lewis stopped him, he was given only a ticket for possession of an illegal horn, and no mention was made of speeding.

Skipper won the appeal, as Judge Hamill declared that Trooper Lewis should have written the ticket for speeding when he stopped the defendant.

He was graduated from Duquesne university, Pittsburgh, in 1960, spent two years in Ligonier, Pa., and two years in the armed forces, stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Tragedy Narrowly Averted

DRIVER WASN'T IN IT—This pickup truck of George Moon, Bethlehem section, was badly mashed when the truck owned by Paul Thomas and driven by his son, Jack Thomas, broke an axle and drifted back against the machine and gas pump, Tuesday evening in Loch Lynn.

Tragedy was narrowly averted on Tuesday evening about 5:30 when a truck driver deliberately caused his truck to jack-knife after a broken axle left the vehicle free to descend a hill backward, which could have involved several additional automobiles and their occupants.

A pick-up truck owned by George Moon, of Bethelem section, which was parked in front of Imhoff's service station and grocery store, was smashed, a gas pump demolished and a gasoline sign toppled in the procedure, but no one was injured. The driver of the truck, owned by Paul Thomas, was being driven by Jack Thomas, a son.

The truck was ascending the hill leading out of Loch Lynn on state route 560, and preparing to make a sharp left turn when the accident occurred. The truck was loaded with lumber headed for the charcoal plant. Five or more automobiles were following the truck and would have been trapped had it not been for some quick thinking on the part of the truck driver. James Imhoff and Larry Beckman were standing nearby and had to flee to prevent being struck by the gasoline sign. Trooper Ronald Lewis, who investigated, termed the mishap an unavoidable accident and preferred no charges.

Sweene Enters Guilty Plea To Fraud Charges

Paul Sweene, former owner and operator of Sweene Boat company, Deep Creek Lake, entered pleas of guilty to seven indictments of fraud, at his trial in the Circuit court on Tuesday morning. Three indictments on passing bad checks are to be heard in the near future.

Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, who heard the case, sentenced Sweene to be committed to the custody of the Commissioner of Correction for a period of two years on one charge and that he be given six months in the county jail on each of the other charges, the sentences to run concurrently.

Sentence was suspended in light of various facts given by State's Attorney Fred A. Thayer, which indicated restitution had been made for the items. The suspension was given on condition that Sweene henceforth abide by the law, and that valid title is given for a boat in one instance. He was placed on probation for a period of two years and six months.

Mr. Thayer explained in one case that Sweene had arranged with the First National Bank a plan which involved taking a chattel mortgage on boats sold. After a boat would be sold proceeds presumably would be used to pay off a mortgage, with the remainder as profit.

E. J. Ryan, Sweene's attorney, stated that after a fire five years ago Sweene took out a $50,000 mortgage to rebuild his business. Payments to the bank lagged and he began using money that would have paid for boats to make payments on the loan.

Mr. Thayer related how Charles Vickers, Cleveland, had traded with Sweene for a boat, the difference being $1,900. The Vickers planned to pay the amount through the bank but upon returning home they sent Sweene a check for $1,900. The bank sent Vickers a payment book which they forwarded to Sweene, saying they had no need for the loan. Sweene then made payments on the loan in the name of Vickers but payments stopped when his business was foreclosed. The Vickers were notified by the bank they owed $700.

Sweene, in pleading guilty to all charges revealed his foreclosure proceedings on his personal property paid off the $50,000 mortgage and other indebtedness.

James J. Treacy served also as attorney for Sweene.

Rotary To Host Foreign Students

Twenty-seven foreign students attending West Virginia university at Morgantown, will be entertained over the week-end by members of the Oakland Rotary club and other individuals.

This will be the fourth year for such a program. They will be guests in the homes of various persons until Sunday afternoon.

The students will be brought here by bus and returned in the same manner. They will arrive in Oakland Friday evening. The twenty-seven include fifteen students from India, three from Colombia, two each from Spain, Pakistan and Tanzania, and one each from Turkey, Italy and Nicaragua.

Gordon Douglass, in charge of the program, said this morning that there still was an opportunity for three individuals to volunteer to be hosts. Those interested should conduct Mr. Douglass right away.

New Safety Rules To Apply To Route 135

Governor Here To "Open Avenues Of Communication"

Plans for rigid new safety rules for trucks to improve the safety problems of route 135, particularly on Backbone mountain, were revealed Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of county officials with Governor Spiro T. Agnew. The meeting was held in the courtroom in Oakland.

Governor Agnew said that conferences had been held with Jerome B. Wolff, chairman-director of the State Roads commission over the hazardous grade down the east slope of Backbone mountain and that a safety program had been developed to reduce the accident potential and increase driver awareness of existing conditions.

Mr. Wolff told the governor he was seeking commission approval of an expenditure of $35,000 to provide dramatic warning signs in bold red and white colors and flashing yellow arrows to be erected on the face of the cliff at the bottom. In addition remedial construction was planned to enlarge and improve the three existing truck stop areas where trucks are required to run off the road and come to a complete stop before proceeding down the mountain.

The speed limit for trucks is to be reduced to 10 miles per hour on the downgrade and state police enforcement will be increased.

These regulations were scheduled for approval at a meeting of the SRC on Wednesday.

Specific improvements include lengthening truck stop areas to a minimum of 200 feet, with sufficient tapers at the entering point for trucks to pull off the road in a smooth maneuver, and the erection of crash type guard rails, painted yellow, along each area's edges. Additional signs painted vivid red and white will provide maximum day and night visibility will carry repeated warnings of a "dead end" at the foot of the mountain.

Line of Communication

Governor Agnew told the commissioners and mayors assembled that his purpose in coming to Garrett County was to clear a line of communication between county and state governments and to provide a forum for discussion.

Gov. Agnew also talked of the importance of sanitation and spoke of possible developing problems in the Deep Creek Lake area and other sanitary problems in the various communities.

He urged the Commissioners and mayors of incorporated towns to get together for discussion of zoning ordinances and subdivision planning.

Vladimir Wahbe, program executive for urban and local affairs, and specialist on environmental planning, emphasized the same problems and

Fines of $1,400 Assessed Against McCaffrey Smith

Fines totaling $1,400 were meted out yesterday morning to one liquor law violator who pleaded "nolo contendere" to three charges, that of permitting consumption after hours, permitting after hour sale of beer and sale of liquor for consumption off the premises.

The charges were preferred against McCaffrey J. Smith, of Stoneridge who was sentenced $200 and costs on two indictments and $1,000 on the one for sale of liquor for consumption off the premises.

At the same time Harry Davis and Betty McKenzie, employed at the same place of business were ordered to pay $200 and costs each for sale of beer after hours.

The fines against Davis and McKenzie were suspended. Lewis R. Jones, attorney for the defendants asked for the suspended sentences since the two were only employees of the business. He also sought minimum fines.

In fining those involved Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill brought out that he had favored legalized liquor sales in this county because of the bootlegging practice and the need for additional revenue. He agreed that laws were sometimes unfair but pointed out that this had nothing to do with the breaking of those laws. He said that everyone knew the hours, fair or not, and that it was unfair to those tavern owners who kept within the laws to allow others to break the laws and go unpunished.

A definition of the plea "nolo contendere" appears in an encyclopedia as follows: " a plea which, without admitting guilt, subjects him to a judgment of conviction". The Latin means "I do not wish to contend."

In two other liquor cases Tuesday Shirley Ann Durr and Manson M. Durr, who operate Mt. Top Restaurant, west of Grantsville, both entered pleas of guilty to consumption after hours and were fined $200 and costs each by Judge Hamill. Clarence Penman was attorney for the defendants.

Autumn Arrives; Frost Hits Monday

Autumn has officially arrived, and it lost little time in bringing the mountaintop two stinging frosts. Thursday, September 21 marked the autumn equinox, when the earth's axis is aimed neither toward nor away from the sun, and both hemispheres momentarily receive the same amount of light. From then on, however, the sun seems to move southward from the Northern Hemisphere, causing night to lengthen and the air to turn cool.

Thursday, September 21, saw heavily clouded skies, with a high temperature of 74. During the afternoon, stiff winds arose, bringing chilly air and causing the mercury to drop to 63 by 3:30 p. m.

Friday gave us a respite from cold air, as the day was clear and warm. Saturday began with 40 degree temperatures and some fogginess, which cleared up before 10 a. m. Light rain fell Saturday night and early Sunday morning and although the clouds parted enough to let the sun come out, the day remained cool.

Temperatures fell to 28 on Monday morning bringing the first true killing frost of the season. Tuesday morning also brought frost, with a 31 degree mercury reading.

The morning of September 27 dawned with hazy skies and temperatures in the low 40's. Rain fell intermittently on Wednesday evening, and continued to fall through Thursday, with temperatures holding to the 60's in the morning.

British and Soviet officials tussled in a jet cabin when the British attempted to "rescue" a Russian scientist whom they believed was being kidnaped.

Trenum Given 30 Year Term For Kidnaping

Taken To Penitentiary On Tuesday; Will Undergo Psychiatric Exom-

Carl Andrew Trenum, 25, former resident of Westernport, pleaded guilty to two indictments of kidnaping, in the Circuit court in Oakland on Monday, and was given a 30-year sentence. He was taken to the Maryland penitentiary on Tuesday by Sheriff James E. Frantz.

A charge of robbery with a deadly weapon was dropped by order of the State's Attorney, Fred A. Thayer.

Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill heard the testimony of Henry T. Michael, of star route, Frostburg, one of two persons kidnaped early Sunday, August 13, and Tfc. Bernard Chabot, criminal investigator for the state police.

Judge Hamill pronounced the sentences of 30-year terms on each count but they will run concurrently. Technically the man was committed to the custody of the Commissioner of Correction for thirty years, due to a change in legal procedure, but he was transported to the receiving and diagnostic center of the Maryland penitentiary Tuesday and also ordered to be sent to the Patuxent institution to determine whether he is a defective delinquent.

Mr. Michael related that Trenum had gained entrance to the home through the basement door and was rifling trouser pockets when Mrs. Michael awakened. Brandishing a knife he forced them to dress, took a total of $101 from them and the pockets of their son, Harry White, who slept through the entire incident.

Trenum then drove a roundabout way, totaling 130 miles through Maryland and West Virginia, finally leaving the couple near Shaw, W. Va., and providing $2 to buy gas to get home. They arrived home about 9 and notified state police.

Tfc. Chabot testified he had seen Trenum hitchiking, and felt he might be the one they wanted. Trenum had escaped August 4 from the House of Correction where he was serving an 8-year term. He was ar-

Man For Our Land

Only once did this writer actually speak with Felix Robinson, as he genially left the platform of the Friendsville bicentennial celebration two years ago when rain interrupted the town's fiddling contest. Just moments before, we all had joined in singing "Way Down Upon the Youghiogheny" as he enthusiastically led the group.

However, it must be written, this gentleman deserves the accolade so seldom extended by those who live in the immediate area and see a person who daily expounds upon the virtues of his native county. Often, the study of folklore and settlement is so specialized, yet so subtle, that ordinary citizens pass over its aspects to criticize one who recognizes the value of studying people as they relate to a region. Perhaps he is termed a "nut" or a "goof", this man who interests himself in language patterns, customs, and methods of workmanship. He may be a victim of no understanding, particularly if he admires the animals and plants which maintain our survival, but often are placed in the realm of commonness by those afflicted by present technologies.

Mr. Robinson was one who had gazed upon the lives of Western Marylanders as a poet, an individual who sees in ordinary living the underlying struggles, pathos, and beauty. Devotion takes many forms, and often it must be expressed as a release, notwithstanding the fact that the next person will never sense its depth or even attempt to do so. Certainly, he wrote of older days with a vast sense of appreciation, of maple sugar, mine tipples, cornmeal, and blooming forests.

In his works of history, the countless hours of research which he must have done, and in the presentation of personal reminiscence tied to the lives of those who were continually building Garrett County, he sincerely reminded us that our heritage is truly a great jewel of living. When the words failed and sentences did not cohere, it would have been easier to stop the labor. The Youghiogheny, Oakland, and neighboring tableland areas must bow to him and honor his memory for the living panegyric he exhibited to his home country with constancy and courage. May he be remembered, on and away from the printed page, as a man for our land.

Quarterback Jack Alvarez scored one touchdown and passed for another to pace Southern High school to an easy 19-0 victory over St. Francis of Morgantown last Friday night on the Southern gridiron.

The stubborn Southern defense limited St. Francis to a net 34 yards rushing, allowing only three first downs and only 43 offensive plays compared with 61 for the Highlanders.

Alvarez put Southern on the scoreboard in the opening quarter on a ten-yard scoring jaunt around left end, climaxing a 70-yard touchdown march after Southern had received the opening kickoff.

In the third period Richard Browning went over from three yards away and in the fourth quarter Alvarez hit End Dave Bosley with a 30-yard scoring aerial.

Southern, playing with 20 sophomores on its 37-player roster, allowed St. Francis to get within 15 yards of its goal line and that was the only time St. Francis had the ball in Southern territory.

St. Francis picked up 90 yards along the ground but lost 56. They recorded 25 yards through the air on three completions. The Highlanders gained 196 yards rushing and 65 yards on six successful pass plays.

Southern will put its 2-1 record on the line next Friday night against the Northern Huskies, at Northern. The Huskies will be seeking revenge for last year's 42-0 trouncing by Southern.

Either we're charging too little, or everyone else is charging too much.

Rambler American. The only U.S. car that could stop you from buying an import.

At a price very close to the leading import, the American seats six people instead of four.

It gives you nearly twice as much room in the trunk and more than twice as much engine under the hood.

Like the imports, the American doesn't change its style every year, gets about 20 miles on a gallon of regular gas.

Unlike some imports, it never gives you the feeling that you're driving a toy.

Rebel. America's most underrated car.

The Rebel 550 Hardtop is the lowest priced intermediate sized hardtop in America.†

It looks sporty, drives sporty and still gives you all the things that most people buy a car for.

The Rebel Hardtop, Wagon, Sedan or Convertible, V8 or 6 is everything we think a car should be.

Before you pay more for an intermediate, make sure you get as much.

Ambassador. The car with air conditioning as standard equipment.

Air conditioning has been around for a long time, but so far only a few companies—the people who make Rolls Royce for one—have had the good sense to include it in their cars at no extra cost.

We're another.

We just don't understand why someone should be asked to pay a lot of money for a luxury car and then be asked to pay over $300 more for the luxury of air conditioning.

Introducing the Javelin.

Although we've always had the reputation for making sensibly priced, well-built cars, we've never had the reputation for making hot, sporty cars.

We'll soon have the reputation for making hot, sporty cars.

The front and rear bumpers on the Javelin are massive. Unlike thin blade bumpers, these give the car a rich, racy look.

The side windows on the Javelin are solid sheets of curved glass, without vents to break up its fast lines.

The Javelin SST comes with wheel discs, special exterior trim, reclining bucket seats and a woodgrain steering wheel, all standard.

Question

Having had to use an old-fashioned crutch a long time ago, I'm glad to see the new models which certainly look a lot handier. How were the first crutches made and where does the word come from?

Answer

Our ancestors made their first crutches by taking a staff (the branch of a tree because lumber as we know it was non-existent) and attaching a wooden cross piece which the crippled person could put under his arm for support. An odd tree growth which could be used for this purpose was a prized object in those days. The Latin words "crux" and "cruci" — which meant "cross" — are the words from which our present word "crutch" has evolved.

rested by Sgt. Charles DeWitt and Tfc. Robert Dishong as he was leaving a tavern at Barton. Chabot said he first gave police false identification but a check of fingerprints and identification of photos by the Michaels; and also by tattoo and bullet wounds proved otherwise. He also was identified by an Elk Garden man who had seen him leave the Michael car that Sunday morning.

At his trial Tfc. Chabot read Trenum's FBI record which dated back to 1961. He was a drop-out of Bruce High in the 10th grade. He was arrested for breaking and entering in January, 1961, and classed as a juvenile delinquent; arrested in October, 1961 of assault and shooting a police officer. In 1964 he was arrested for assault and battery, kidnaping and assault with intent to kill, at which time he was given a 10-year sentence. The charge of kidnaping was dropped and the sentence reduced to 8 years, four of which had been served.

He stressed that planning for one's health was one of the most important items, with water pollution a most pressing problem. He urged the immediate development of a planning unit and said that without planning there would eventually be a haphazard sprawl.

MOM'S GOT A REPUTATION SINCE SHE GOT HER NEW FLAME.
She has a reputation as one of the best cooks in the neighborhood. And she owes it all to her handsome, easy-going new flame—a modern Gas range.
Mom, the chef, is always dropping names like Burner-with-a-Brain, and Oven-with-a-Mind and automatic rotisserie. And names like broiled filet en croute, spinach souffle, quiche Lorraine and ham mousse.
In fact, Mom's something of a show-off with her "Programmed Gas Cooking." She just puts the food into the oven, sets the time and temperature, and then goes about other business with studied indifference toward her cooking. She can afford a great show of confidence because her Gas oven will automatically stop cooking at precisely the correct moment and keep her dinner piping hot, without overcooking or drying out, until everyone is ready to eat.
Needless to say, the whole family is happy with Mom's new flame. And Mom is happy with her new reputation.

Historical Tour Includes Accident Area; 30 Attend

In spite of the cold weather thirty people turned out for the thirteenth annual Garrett County Historical Tour last Saturday, in the Accident area.

The tour began with a visit to Walter Richter's cider and applebutter mill, and a walk through Richter's flower gardens. The home of Mr. and Mrs. B O. Aiken was the next stop, where Mr. Aiken showed the site of the tobacco barns used when tobacco was an important crop. Mrs. Aiken and her mother, Mrs. William Miller, led the group through their home, which was completed in 1882. Mrs. Aiken and Mrs. Miller also described the Miller-established distillery, which was an industry of the area for many years. Carl Miller explained how things had been when the distillery was in operation While at the distillery site, Mr. Aiken gave an account of the production and storage at a nearby gas well

Due to the bad weather, the picnic lunch was eaten in the Accident Fire Hall, with the permission of Wilmer Margroff. During lunch, the group was entertained by Mrs. Gertrude Dean, and Bushrod Hardesty, Albert Paugh, and Bradley Harvey, who furnished country music.

After lunch, the tour proceeded to the former home and grave site of Lt. James Drane, the founder of Accident. From there, the group journeyed to the Adam Richter Tannery, where Albert Richter was host. Mrs. Mary Strauss and Mrs. Raymond Georg explained the tanning process to the tourists. Kaese's Mill provided the next stop, where Clifford Friend operated the mill and outlined the milling process.

Final stop on the tour was at the Bear Creek Fish Hatchery. There Cecil Edwards expounded on the rearing of trout and the function of the station. The group watched as 5,300 trout in one pool were given their evening feeding

Paul Calderwood, president of the Society, conducted the tour. He was assisted by Frances Ruge.

The only ones present who have been on all thirteen tours were Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Naylor.

CAPITOL COMMENT

The Plague Of Rats

One of our proudest national achievements has been our great advance in public health. Gradually we have conquered many of the dread diseases which used to plague mankind, and have eliminated many dangerous disease-producing conditions which used to be widespread. But one grave danger to public health remains — our large population of rats.

Rats cause a tremendous amount of property damage every year, and inflict injury and disease on thousands of Americans. In some urban areas, they outnumber human beings. Even in small towns and rural areas, rats are still a threat.

My father was for 35 years the President of the Frederick County Children's Aid Society. Throughout my youth I was familiar with the shocking condition of children who came into the Society's care. Some of them had had fingers and toes eaten by rats. I particularly remember my father's distress at the plight of a little girl whose face had been gnawed beyond recognition. And these things happened not in urban slums, but in a beautiful and relatively prosperous rural area.

Rats are a local problem — but one which has attained nationwide proportions, and one which cities and towns, with their limited resources, cannot handle without help. Earlier this summer, the House angrily refused even to consider a bill to provide Federal assistance for rat control. Last week, in a dramatic and constructive move, the House took up the question again, and this time adopted an amendment — sponsored by Rep. Henry Reuss of Wisconsin and myself — to expand public health programs to fight rats.

The measure so hastily rejected by the House was an Administration bill which would have set up an entirely new program for rat elimination, operated by the Department of Housing and Urban Development. With public health agencies already active in this field, many Members felt that the requested $20 million per year could better be invested in an expansion of existing health efforts, and my amendment followed this approach.

The measure which we passed last week was an expansion of the Comprehensive Public Health Planning and Services Act, a very successful, comprehensive and flexible program established in 1966 to permit state and local health agencies to concentrate their resources on the most urgent health problems of individual areas. Consistent with this approach, my amendment did not add any administrative strings or impose any new requirements. Since rat control programs were already among the many types of efforts authorized, it was necessary only to authorize additional funds to give more muscle to this very popular law. The funds added — $20 million per year for two years — were included in the President's budget, so the question was simply one of deciding to invest them in existing programs rather than in a new and untested one.

Rates are more than carriers of disease. They have become symbols of decay, and of official cynicism and inertia. Certainly they cannot be banished without local effort and citizen help, but the magnitude of the problem makes Federal assistance important. By approving my amendment last week, the House took a very positive step toward making America an even more healthy place to live.

4-H'ers Elect Officers

At a meeting of the Ryan's Glade 4-H club Bob Riley was elected president. Others who were named included Ronnie Rush, vice-president; Paula Rodeheaver, secretary and reporter; Maxine Steyer, treasurer; Harland Tichnell and Doris Steyer, recreation leaders.

The group discussed the distribution of awards on Parents' night to members who had participated in activities. A Hallowe'en party was planned for October 28 at 8 o'clock at the community hall. Named to committees were Lonnie Rush, Maxine Steyer, Doris Steyer, Lonnie Rush became a member.

The planned camping trip was cancelled. A corn roast followed.

Labor Day Holiday traffic deaths totaled 609, below record set in 1966.

What's Your Vote Worth?

If the Senate Finance Committee has its way the 1968 election campaign is going to be an affluent happening worthy of a Great Society. On September 14, by a vote of 10 to 7, it approved a bill which would require the taxpayer, and not the candidate, to pick up the tab for compaign expenses. No newspaper account that we saw spelled out the provisions of the bill in detail. We'll do so, briefly.

First off, there would be a permanent congressional appropriation of $14 million for each presidential candidate of the two major parties, Democratic and Republican. In case you wonder how the Senate Finance Committee arrived at the figure, it's very simple. A total of 70 million votes was cast in the 1964 presidential election. The Committee concluded that your vote was worth 20 cents. And 70 million votes at 20 cents each is $14 million. Try to fault that for arithmetic.

However, the members of the Committee (all Senators, of course) put a higher price on votes for a Senator. Taking the 1964 figures as a measuring stick, they concluded that a vote for Senator was worth 50 cents. But that premium price applies only to the first 200,000 votes cast. The next 200,000 votes are worth only 35 cents. Any votes over 400,000 would be worth the Presidential price: 20 cents. If you have thought from time to time that Senators show signs of an inflated opinion of their importance you are free to employ that 50-cent price tag in justification of your opinion. What the President will think when and if the bill comes up to him for signature will be interesting. His 20-cent vote allowance may look thin. Indeed, he may reflect that moving from the Senate to the White House was quite a comedown.

In any event, it's estimated that something like $26 million out of the public treasury will be needed to finance the 100 candidates of the two major parties for the Senate. But the Committee's bill doesn't provide for taking care of candidates running for either presidency or the senate on minor party tickets such as the Communist Party, the Socialist Party, the Wallace ticket, the Martin Luther King ticket, the Prohibition Party, and so on. Those funds will be agreed upon in the floor debate.

What about funds for candidates for the House of Representatives, you ask? Well, Senator Gore, who helped draft the Committee's bill, said it would be up to the House "to write its own ticket", when the bill arrives on that side of the Capitol.

—U. S. Press Association, Inc.

Basic Issue Overlooked

Senator Robert Kennedy of New York State has called the struggle between public and private electric power development, ". . .one of the most important consumer issues of this century. . ." He is now concerned because the governor of New York State would limit the role of the power authority of that state in the development of nuclear energy. The Senator observes that every community has the right, if it chooses, to own and operate its utility services, which of course it has.

But, the Senator then goes into the matter of the role of public power as a "yardstick" of the fairness of utility rates. He says the state and federal governments have developed power sites which permit comparisons of the relative cost of public and private power. Many will take exception to his views of public power as a "yardstick".

Time and again, it has been pointed out the "yardstick" theory amounts to no more than political imagination since commercial public power projects escape all federal income taxes and the greater portion of state and local taxes which are part of the normal obligations of the investor-owned, tax-paying electric industry and its power customers. The government's foremost electric power "yardstick", the Tennessee Valley Authority, even with all its tax exemptions has been indulging in "yardstick" stretching with substanial rate increases.

Public versus private ownership is indeed a basic issue in the United States. It is the issue between socialism and capitalism. Compared to this basic issue, any discussion of public power as a "yardstick" is merely superficial.—Industrial News Review.

Your Federal Income Tax

The Republican, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax laws. CLIP AND SAVE FOR FUTURE REFRENCE.

Questions and Answers

Q. I just started my first job. How many exemptions should I claim for withholding purposes? I'd rather get a refund than have more taxes to pay next year.

A. If you claim no exemptions on your withholding certificate then more will be withheld from your paycheck than if you claim one exemption for yourself.

Note that if you do not claim all the exemptions you are entitled to on the withholding certificate filed with your employer, you have not forfeited your right to claim them at a later date. You can, and should, claim all the exemptions you are entitled to on your income tax retuurn.

Q. My cleaning woman doesn't nave a Social Security number. Should I just leave that information out when I mile the quarterly return on the wages I pay her?

A. No, a Social Security number is needed so that her earnings may be properly credited to her account. This will help make sure that she receives the Social Security benefits she is entitled to.

Application for a Social Security number should be made on Form SS-5 available at local IRS and Social Security Administration offices.

Q. My income so far this year has been lower than I expected. Can I just forget about the next installment of my estimated tax or do I have to file an amended declaration?

A. If your tax liability appears to be greater or smaller than you originally estimated then an amended declaration should be filed. You will find the form for doing this printed on the bill for the third installment which is due September 15.

Q. My husband filled out our tax return but he is now in Viet Nam. What should I do about the letter I got from you about the return?

A. Telephone your local IRS office. They will give you all the help they can.

Q. I lost my refund check. Can I get another one?

A. Yes, telephone your local IRS office. They will explain the procedures for making a claim for a duplicate check.

Q. I just joined a country club and expect to do quite a bit of business entertaining there. Will I be able to deduct my initiation fees and yearly dues as a business expense?

A. If you use the club more than 50 percent of the time for business purposes then you can deduct that portion of your annual dues which is directly related to the active conduct of your business. Membership or initiation fees that are paid once for membership privileges which may extend beyond the year of acquisition are a capital expense and not deductible.

To show that you use the club more than half the time for business purposes keep a record of the days you and your family use the club's facilities. Even if you don't use the club more than 50 percent of the time for business purposes you will still be able to deduct the expense of your business lunches at the club. A business lunch at the club will be treated just as business lunch in any restaurant would be.

Q. The waitresses in my restaurant report their tips on a monthly basis. Can I withhold for this on a weekly basis rather than taking it out of their pay checks just once a month?

A. Yes, you may withhold the tips on the weekly basis as long as the proper amount is withheld each month.

Q. My company wants me to take over for someone who is ill in one of our branch plants. It's too far for me to commute so I will have to rent an apartment temporarily. Are my living expenses while I'm away on this assignment deductible?

Q. I just stopped working to go back to school. When should I get my W-2 statement showing my earnings and withholding?

If you do not receive a quarterly bill, a copy of Form 1040-ES (Amended) may be obtained at your local IRS office.

A. Your employer should provide you with a statement of wages paid and taxes withheld at the end of your employment. If you have not received such a statement ask your employer about it.

Weimer-Foley Nuptials Are Held

The marriage of Miss Wanda Carolyn Weimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Weimer of Gorman, and John Edward Foley, son of Mrs. Hester Foley of Oakland, and the late John C. Foley, took place on Saturday, July 22, at one o'clock p. m., in the St. Peter's Catholic Church in Oakland.

Rev. Fr. Regis Larkin performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with vases of yellow and white pompons and gladioli.

Preceding the ceremony, sacred piano selections were presented by Miss Marcella Kerins of Oakland. She also accompanied Joseph DiSimone of Oakland, who sang "Ave Maria".

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Lyle Weimer. She was attired in a floor length gown. The bodice was made of lace over satin with long tapered sleeves of lace. The skirt was made of satin brocade with a matching detachable floor length train. Her shoulder length veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of teardrop and simulated pearls. She carried a white Prayer Book on which was a cascade of white carnations and forget-me-nots.

Miss Darlene Weimer, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. Louise Weimer, sister-in-law of the bride and Mrs. Jeanie James, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. All attendants wore street length "cage" dresses of yellow lace over peau and matching headpieces. They carried bouquets of yellow and white pompons. Miss Brenda Wilt, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. Her dress and headpiece was a duplicate in miniature of the maid of honor and bridesmaids and she carried a small basket of rose petals.

James D. Harvey, cousin of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Anthony "Tony" Foley and Michael Foley, brothers of the groom. Robert Foley, also a brother of the groom, served at the altar. The ring bearer was David L. Schaeffer II, nephew of the bride.

The reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the Gorman Fire Hall.

For travel to Pennsylvania, Mrs. Foley chose a white and green low belted dress. The couple is now residing in Mt. Lake Park.

Three Are Guilty Drunk, Disorderly

Harper Paugh, Charles Paugh, and Betty Paugh were charged before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney, last Wednesday, with being drunk and disorderly on a public highway by Trooper Robert Lashley. All three were found guilty and given five day sentences, but only Charles Paugh was forced to serve his sentence in the Garrett County jail. In the cases of Harper Paugh and Betty Paugh, the sentences were suspended on condition that they behave themselves.

In other cases before the magistrate:

Charles Briner charged Dorothy Burow with knowingly making a false statement to obtain $133.00 from the Employment Service. Mrs. Burow pleaded not guilty; however, Magistrate Maroney found her guilty as charged and asked that she make restitution, which she then did.

Barbara A. VanSickle charged Ray VanSickle with disturbing the peace at Accident. VanSickle entered a plea of not guilty, and was found not guilty by the Magistrate.

Clifton Tasker was found guilty of being drunk and disorderly on a charge brought up by Myrtle Tasker. His 30 day sentence was suspended provided that he be of good behavior.

ACCIDENT

Week-end visitors of Mrs. Priscilla Beitzel were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Fink, of Baltimore; Floyd Ellis and Miss Phyllis Miller, of Glen Burnie; Joseph Beitzel, of Baltimore.

Farm Bureau Endorses Stand Of Delegate Grant

Garrett County Farm Bureau, at its regular monthly meeting of officers and directors, last Wednesday, Sept. 20, passed a resolution in support of William W. Grant, Garrett County's representative on the Maryland Constitutional Convention Committee. It said: "Be it resolved that Garrett County Farm Bureau shall support Wm. W. Grant, Delegate to the Maryland Constitutional Convention, in his effort to provide that each county in Maryland shall be represented by at least one delegate to the Maryland House of Delegates, that a copy of this resolution be sent to Mr. Grant; and that an article regarding this action be sent to The Republican for publication".

The above action was taken subsequent to an announcement, by Representative B. O. Aiken, that forces are active in the Convention which would reduce the number of members of the House of Delegates from 142 to 80. This arrangement would compel Garrett County to share its delegate with a part of Allegany County, as is now the case with the State Senator.

Mr. Aiken said, "Mr. Grant is fighting to provide that no county shall have less than one delegate in the Legislature, and he needs support from the people of the County".

Another cause of serious concern to the governing body of Farm Bureau is the fact that certain religious groups in Maryland are exerting their influence to eliminate, or radically change, the Sunday observance laws of Maryland. I. William Umbel and Emerson Bishoff represented Garrett County Farm Bureau at a hearing on this subject, in Baltimore in August.

Representative Aiken is opposing any further commercialization of the Sabbath, and the directors of Farm Bureau have endorsed the stand which he is taking.

Other business of the farm group dealt with the current membership campaign, which ends October 19, the date set for the Annual Meeting. The fact was brought out that, although Farm Bureau is traditionally a farmer's organization, the only real requirement for membership is a desire to help in the work that Farm Bureau does.

Girl Scouts To Meet

Registration of scouts, election of officers and plans for the year will be discussed. Girls of senior scout age who are interested in the scouting program were urged to attend.

Kindergarten Gives Opportunities

By Carol Canan

The French call it ecole maternelle, the Jewish know it as kinder-gorth, and Dennis the Menace calls it kiddiegarter. However you refer to it, Oakland now has one — its very first public kindergarten for pre-school age children. The Board of Education hopes to see the program develop throughout the county. This, however, will require some investment by the county, as State funds furnish only partial support of the program.

While the majority of people have the idea that kindergarten is a glorified nursery school-Romper Room type of thing, where the child's day is filled with nothing more strenuous than marching, singing and listening to stories, that is not the case, as you will see.

Instead, today's five year olds are expected to develop more and better undertandings, skills, and appreciations through attendance in kindergarten. Two goals are set forth under the heading of understanding: the children are desired to learn to live harmoniously with their peers, and to develop an increasing awareness of their physical environment.

To accomplish better appreciation, the youngsters must learn the enjoyment and love of stories and poems, the joy of exploring and creating through the medium of art, and the beauty of sound and pleasure of body movements.

The heading of skills covers a multitude of practical things which the child is expected to attain. A few of the skills to be improved are the ability to listen with comprehension, to speak with effectiveness, to prepare for the use of written symbols by recognizing their own names, to become aware of the uses of numbers in daily activities, and to develop physical abilities.

This is a pretty large order for any teacher, but the four teachers at the kindergarten take it in stride. Mrs. Delbert Gnegy, the principal, as well as Mrs. Barbara Sweitzer, Miss Barbara Giles, and Mrs. Catherine Tinker have informal programs in science, social studies, and number readiness so that none of the ninety pupils will miss any chance to attain his expected goals. The school's two aides, Mrs. Victoria Ingram and Mrs. Lucile Marsh, prove invaluable with their help in these three areas.

A typical day begins with a pledge of allegiance to the flag, and moves through various activities such as library time and play-role acting until 9:45, when the children get out their mats for a rest period. Toys come in for a lot of attention from the youngsters, as do the easels, "dress-up" clothes, record players, and nature exhibits.

Around 10 a. m., the kindergartners proceed to the lunchroom, where they can purchase juice and cookies or crackers, or eat their packed lunch. The time after the snack period is spent in outdoor-indoor play depending on the weather), story telling, coloring, rhythm band sessions, working with clay, and puzzling over puzzles. Preparation for dismissal begins at approximately 11:50, and at 12 the parents arrive on the scene to pick up their charges and take them home so they can rest and prepare themselves for another busy day.

No sugar-sweet 'Romper Room" type of activities for the children in this Kindergarten.

Named Director Of Heart Assoc.

Mrs. Ora Mae Lewis, Cumberland, has been appointed Executive Director of the newly formed Heart Association of Western Maryland with Mrs. Carrie L. Wharton of Hagerstown serving as Associate Director, according to Richard A. Young, President.

Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Wharton will be responsible for the full programming of the Heart Association of Allegany, Garrett and Washington Counties in the areas of professional and public education, community services and fund raising.

Mrs. Lewis served in the capacity of training Nurses Aide instructors in Allegany, Garrett and Washington County hospitals and nursing homes. She became Director of the Allegany-Garrett County Heart Association in 1955 and is a member of the Conference of Heart Association of Maryland Professional Staff having served as Charter President.

Mrs. Wharton is serving her third year with the Heart Association.

The Charter meeting of the Heart Association of Western Maryland was held recently in Oakland and plans are being formulated for a stronger and better combined organization.

Eleven Killed On State Highways

Eleven persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Four of those killed were drivers, four were passengers, and three were pedestrians.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in three of the deaths, speed in seven, and driver error was present in all but one of the fatalities.

"Driver error is present in almost all of the fatal accidents which occur on Maryland highways", said Lt. Col. George F. Davidson, Chief of Operations of the State Police. "Had the operators involved been driving defensively, and this includes those drivers who were not directly responsible, all but a few of these accidents could have been avoided.

"For almost two years now, Driver Improvement Programs have been conducted throughout the State through the cooperative efforts of the Baltimore Safety Council and the Maryland State Police. This eight-hour course has proved extremely beneficial to licensed drivers in upgrading their driving skills and attitudes. Although the public's response to this program has been most encouraging, far too many drivers still have not taken advantage of the opportunity of attending the course".

There was a record August high for the nation's employment.

Scout Trip Planned

The 19th Annual Excursion to the Washington, D. C., area, will be made over the week-end of October 20 - 22 by approximately 100 area Senior Girl Scouts, Senior Boy Scouts, Explorers and adult scout leaders. Oakland area scouters normally participate.

The annual trip again under the operational control of the Tri-Valley Senior Scout Council, the Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America and the Shawnee Council, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., is open to all scouts, age 14 and over, in these groups.

This year's expedition will visit various historical points of interest in and around the vicinity of the Nation's capitol, including the Japanese Embassy, the Capitol and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. The group's accommodations will again be at the National Girl Scout Service Center, Camp Rockwood, at Potomac.

One of the highlights of the trip each year is the Friday night International Party during which members of the traveling group have an opportunity to meet and talk with representatives of other countries.

Applications for the trip and additional information may be obtained by contacting Alton Fortney, Sr., in Luke.

To Install Leaders

Officers will be installed at the initial meeting of the Center Street school PTA for the school year, set for Monday, October 2 in the school auditorium. The business session will begin at 8.

Bittinger-Kahl Nuptials Held

Wedding vows were exchanged Sunday, September 10 by Miss Esther Mae Kahl and Donald Edward Bittinger.

Rev. Carl Dauphin performed the double ring service in Zion Lutheran Church of Accident. Mrs. Leota Humberson, organist, accompanied Mrs. John Kahl, sister-in-law of the bride, who sang the "Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love."

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kahl, Cumberland are the parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bittinger, Monte Vista Road, Oakland.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk faced taffeta, designed with a round neckline and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt ended with a chapel train. Her bouffant veil of imported English illusion flowed from Alencon lace petals edged in tiny seed pearls.

She wore a single strand of pearls which was a gift from the groom and carried a white prayer book topped with white roses. White streamers and love knots fell from the arrangement.

The altar was decorated in white gladioli and pompons.

Maid of honor was Louise Kahl, sister of the bride, while Miss Regina Leese, Ridgeley, W. Va., was bridesmaid. Flower girls were Miss Brenda Thomas and Miss Debbie Thomas, nieces of the bride.

Best man for his brother was Douglas Bittinger, George Kahl, brother of the bride and Thomas Bittinger, cousin of the groom, seated guests.

At the reception Miss Donna Coddington, cousin of the bride, accompanied Mrs. John Kahl who sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Mrs. Marvin Thomas, sister of the bride, registered guests for the reception which followed in the church social hall. Mrs. Wayne Martin, aunt of the groom, presided at the punch bowl while Mrs. Raymond Coddington and Mrs. Dora Edgar, aunts of the bride, served refreshments. Assisting with the gifts were Mrs. Richard Evans, Mrs. Dwight Kitzmiller, Miss Judy Coddington and Miss Rita Leese.

For a trip to Blackwater Falls, Hershey, Pa., and Gettysburg, Pa., the bride selected a three-piece navy blue suit with matching accessories and a rose corsage lifted from her bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Fort Hill High School and attended Catherman's Business School. Prior to her resignation she was employed by Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, Cumberland.

The groom is a graduate of Southern High School and Catherman's Business School and is employed by Kight's Insurance Co.

The couple will reside in Oakland.

A reception dinner was given by the groom's parents at Cornsih Manor.

Bowlers Plan For Scotch Doubles

Arrangements for the Scotch Doubles tournament, a yearly project sponsored by the Western Maryland Women's Bowling association, were made at a recent meeting. Among major revisions was the distribution of prize money equally between scratch and handicap winners and permission to allow re-entries on the days of the tournament.

Dates for the tournament include Sunday, October 22, at the Sherwood Lanes in Oakland, with shifts at 1, 3 and 5; October 29, at Potomac Valley Lanes, Keyser; November 12 and 19 at White Oak Lanes and The Bowler, in Cumberland.

The Western Maryland association will be host to the Maryland State Woman's Bowling tournament tentatively set for March 30-31 and April 6-7.

The Western Maryland group is the governing association in the area for sanctioning women bowlers for the National Women's International Bowling Congress. There are over 1,200 members, a number of them from Garrett county.

The first open business meeting for members of the Western Maryland group will be held at The Bowler October 8, at 2 p. m.

LINFORD ROTENBERGER
Evangelist — Quakertown, Pa.

For almost two thousand years the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper has been celebrated by Christians everywhere. Though variously interpreted by the churches, though administered with different ritual, it has always remained our unifying bond . . . the Communion of the Church with her Lord.

On World Wide Communion Sunday Christian congregations all over the globe will assemble to celebrate this Communion. Each will follow its own accustomed usage, exercising the right of religious freedom that the free peoples of the world treasure so highly. And as millions receive the Sacrament they will be conscious of the joyous faith that unites them with one another and with Christ.

This is a century of crisis in which those who treasure their spiritual heritage must stand together . . . must face with courage the alarming growth and ruthless power of an atheism dedicated to the overthrow of both freedom and religion.

Join your fellow Christians at The Lord's Table!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A DARK AGE?

Lesson for October 1, 1967

Background Scripture: 2 Kings 14:23 through 17:41 Amos 8:4-11.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 4:.

Jesus said that a prophet is not without honor, except in his own country. He went on to dramatize this when he was rejected by the people of Nazareth, his own home town.

He might well have added "in his own time." People can appreciate the prophets of the past and anticipate the prophets of the future, but there is seldom much enthusiasm for the prophets of our own day.

Rev. Althouse

In one of James Thurber's stories there is a house full of clocks. On these clocks the time is always "then," never "now." That, it seems, is the right time for prophecy: "then," not "now."

PEOPLE IN THE DARK

In school we all studied about those times which are called "the Dark Ages." People who lived in the "Dark Ages," however, didn't know that they were dark. Of course, that's the way it always is: the people who live in darkness rarely understand how dark the times really are. It takes a later generation to look back and make that judgment, to appreciate the prophets whose warnings, for the most part, had gone unheeded.

How do you know when you live in a "Dark Age"? The obvious answer is that most people do not know. Fortunately, however, God does give each "Dark Age" a few men who would tell us, if we would listen. The problem, of course, is that we do not want to listen. We would prefer pleasant disscours on the brightness of our age, even though the light has long become dim or even gone out.

No wonder Jesus Christ himself was so poorly received when he came: men ignore the light and choose to walk in darkness. "The true light that enlightens every man was coming into the world . . . yet the world knew him not" (John 1:9-10 RSV).

THE TIME IS RIPE

Today we look back to those biblical "dark ages" and revere the great names of Amos, Hosea, Jeremiah, Isaiah, Micah, and others. Yet, though we honor them today, then were hardly well received by the people in their own time. Why? Because it was a time ripe for prophecy, an age in need of God's spokesmen. And, because it was such an age, it rejected its prophets — as we do today.

What kind of an age was it? Actually, on its surface, it appeared to be a "golden age," not a time of darkness. For one thing, it was a time of unprecedented material prosperity for Israel and Judah. This wealth was the result of an ever-increasing trade and commerce.

Yet the "golden age" was only superficial, for it was an era of oppression and injustice. One of the reasons that the rich were so rich was that they used their wealth to continue to amass even more while the poor got poorer. Civil law, it seemed, existed only for the benefit of the wealthy. The poor could not get it, for it had to be bought and the price was nigh.

WHO NEEDED GOD?

Furthermore, it was a time of social decay and religious irrelevance. Official religion was flourishing and the rituals were rich and colorful. But it was a religion divorced from morals, giving mere lip-service to God and not affecting the relationships between men. Actually, it was a time when both nations felt so strong, that they did not really need God — or so they thought. They were smugly confident in their own cleverness and power. They hadn't gotten rid of God; they had simply taken over his job!

Look, they said, we're successful, prosperous, growing: doesn't that prove that God is satisfied with us? The prophets said a loud "NO!" The people called them "traitors" and ignored them.

Does this dark age sound uncomfortably familiar? It should.

To Stress Winter Sports at Ski Fair

Winter sports will be the main theme when the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council attends the 7th annual Ski Fair to be held in Cleveland this November. Lynn Beckman, executive director, stated that "Our highest goal is to attract more and more skiers and winter sports enthusiasts to the mountain top." The local group will be displaying Garrett County wares to an estimated 14,000 winter sports lovers. Although this is the first time Garrett County has been represented at the Cleveland Ski Fair, the Promotion Council has attended other similar showings in Pittsburgh, Washington, and other areas.

The Cleveland Ski Fair is sponsored by the Cleveland Ski Club and the Plain Dealer, a leading newspaper in that city.

In addition to being able to present information about winter sports, the Council hopes to get some valuable publicity on other aspects of the county to potential south-bound traffic next summer.

In order to dramatize the beauty of the mountain top, a painting that measures 8 feet high by 16 feet long will be trucked to Cleveland and used as a backdrop.

The Promotion Council will also attend the Maryland Camping and Sports Show to be held for 9 days in March at the Laurel Racecourse Exhibition Center. This show will present mountain top summer activity to the travel-minded Baltimore and Washington markets.

BATHROOMS NOT BEST FOR KEEPING MEDICINES

Modern medicines are potent. It is important they be protected against deterioration. Whenever you take a hot shower or bath, the temperature is raised to a degree that may affect stability. Store medicines in a constantly normal, locked cabinet out of reach of children.

Read the labels of every medicine. Some should be refrigerated. Most of them are best kept in a cool dry place. None should be placed near heat.

We invite your inspection of our prescription laboratory. You can see thousands of medicines stored for maximum potency and immediate availability. We welcome prescriptions requiring intricate compounding.

H. J. White Weds Miss Mary O'Brien

St. Paul's Lutheran church, Accident, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Mary Anne O'Brien and Harold Jerome White on Saturday, August 19.

Rev. William E. Carlson, pastor, performed the double ring service. Linda Brode, organist, accompanied Susan Eisel, soloist. Gene Nolte, Canton, Ohio, was acolyte.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. O.-Brien, Accident, are the parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. White, Oakland.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a bonded crepe, floor-length gown, styled with a moulded bodice, sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves. Lace over crepe enhanced the A-line skirt and was repeated on the train attached at the shoulders. A crown of pearls held the shoulder-length imported French illusion veil. She carried carnations and mums mounted on a white Bible and centered with an orchid.

Miss Marion O'Brien, Accident, served as maid of honor. Best man was Barry W. Sanders, Swanton. George Waterfield, Houston, Tex.; Gene Nolte, Canton; and Robert Oliverio, McHenry, seated guests.

A reception followed in the church social hall. Mrs. Robert Oliverio cut the cake and Mrs. Gene Nolte and Mrs. Calvin Green served the punch. Assisting at the gift table were Mrs. Glenn Miller and Mrs. Amos Friend. Mrs. William Corgin, cousin of the bride, registered guests.

For travel to Shenandoah Valley, Va., the bride selected an orange and white linen suit with an orchid lifted from her bouquet.

A graduate of Northern High school and Catherman's Business School, the bride is employed as a secretary at Frostburg State college. Mr. White, a graduate of Southern High school, served four years in the U.S. air force and is employed as an agent for Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

They reside at 132 Maple street, Frostburg.

New Examiner Positions Open

As a result of recent enactments by the Governor and the Maryland Legislature in providing for increased safety on Maryland highways, new Examiner positions in the Department of Motor Vehicles are required to maintain improved standards of qualifying and testing applicants for driving licenses.

These new opportunities in State Service have been authorized by the provisions of:

*Senate Bill No. 331—requiring re-examination of all drivers whose licenses have been suspended or revoked.

*Senate Bill No. 189—requiring new standards for testing and licensing motorcycle operators. Applicants must be at least 21, 5' 6" in height, high school graduates, have a Maryland motor vehicle operator's license, and a good driving record.

Successful applicants will be employed with the rank of Examiner I, at a starting annual salary of $5,386, with a maximum of $7,075 in six years, paid holidays and vacations, and unforms furnished at no cost.

Fred Wolf of the Department of Motor Vehicles Personnel Office will interview applicants on Monday, October 2, at the Department of Employment Security Offices in Oakland from 1:00 p. m. to 4:00 p. m. Appointments can be arranged by telephoning the State Employment Office.

Cut in Assembly Seat Total Asked

Two of Maryland's state senators proposed that the constitutional convention drastically reduce membership in the House of Delegates and trim three seats from the Senate.

The proposal, introduced last week by Senate President William S. James of Harford and Sen. James Clark, Jr., Howard-Montgomery counties, both Democrats, came as a surprise to many delegates.

The two men suggested the number of seats be reduced from 142 to 80 and that Senate membership drop from 43 to 40.

Should this be done some counties would not have their own state delegates. The men said if some changes weren't made the legislature would grow to an uncontrollable size. They felt an 80-40 General Assembly would make both houses work more efficiently.

Outdoor School Held at 4-H Center

The Pleasant Valley 4-H Center seems an unlikely place to hear school bells, but that's what happened as ninety-four sixth-graders swarmed in last week to take part in the Outdoor School program.

The children, all from Cumberland area schools, stayed one week, and were accompanied by teachers and principals from various schools. This week another group of children appeared, and the week of October 2 will see still another group come in to take part in the activities.

Activities include astronomy, outdoor survival, compass reading, water safety, scuba diving, crafts, bird banding, and weather forecasting. The children also look nature hikes to study conservation strip mines, swamps, beaver dams, and snakes.

The Outdoor School, now in its third season, has been expanded to last three weeks this year, compared to only one week in previous years. There will be another three week session next spring, again held at Pleasant Valley.

A President's Words. . .

"The man who loves other nations as much as he loves his own country is on a par with the man who loves the other women as much as he loves his own wife. If a man has been within our borders for a while and doesn't like it, let him get out. The professors of every form of hyphenated Americanism are as thoroughly the foes of this country as if they dwelled without its borders and made active war against it".

The quote? No, it is not a reaction to a Stokely Carmichael or to an H. Rap Brown. The words, in fact, are former president Theodore Roosevelt, and they were uttered more than a half-century ago, according to an editorial in the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

However the words are most appropriate today, are they not?

SIXTEEN TROUT—Ray "Simon" Cogley, of Oakland, holds up for inspection fourteen of the sixteen trout which he, his wife and two children caught yesterday afternoon at Little Meadows Lake, near Grantsville. The lake is operated by Ed Davy. Mr. Cogley had 10½ pounds of rainbow and brook trout in the sixteen fish that were caught. His daughter is Virginia and his son is Jim. They seem well pleased with their afternoon's outing.

Plan Community Signs For Area

The Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club is spearheading a project having erected a Community sign framework along the three state highways at the edge of Oakland.

The club leaders are contacting other service clubs and seeking their cooperation. All signs of individual clubs will be provided by each club. The size is limited to not more than 30 inches in diameter. There will be a "Welcome" sign across the top. The idea is approved by the State Roads commission and the city of Oakland.

Board Approves $125,000 More For Jr. College

Amount Is $50,000 Less Than Originally Promised

The Board of Public Works approved a grant of $125,000 to Garrett County Community college on Tuesday at a meeting of that body. This was $50,000 under the amount previously promised and expected.

In a four-hour session the board also voted to extend for one year an oil and gas lease on state land in Allegany county, cleared the way for dredging of a channel in Chesapeake Bay near Baltimore and granted over $50,000 for operation of a reception center for prisoners in Maryland's correctional system.

Willard L. Hawkins, superintendent of schools here had asked for a $175,000 grant, the maximum amount authorized last spring by the legislature. However the board approved only the $125,000 necessary to pick up the normal state share of constructing the community college.

Delegate B. O. Aiken, of Accident, who appeared at the board meeting to urge approval of the grant, conceded that the legislature didn't intend the county to get the full $175,000. "The committee agreed to give us what we needed up to that amount", he said.

Mr. Aiken pointed out that the amount agreed upon brought the county on a par with other regional community colleges.

Gov. Agnew, member of the board, along with comptroller Louis L. Goldstein and John A.

Indian Summer Prevails At Present

"Indian Summer" has arrived for the mountain top, although for a while it appeared that the County was doomed to an early fall.

Last Thursday, rain fell steadily all during the day, with a mercury reading of only 53 degrees. Friday also brought rain, with temperatures remaining quite cold.

Saturday came along with cold and windy weather, although the day was slightly warmer than the previous two. Sunday was warmer yet, with a strong wind moving the few clouds through the sky.

Sunny and warmer weather made the scene on Monday, at last; even though it was a nippy 33 degrees at 8 a. m., the mercury reached the 70's by 2 o'clock. Tuesday was another "Indian summer" type of day, with its comparatively balmy air and a temperature high of [illegible] followed the pattern set by the previous 24 hours, with another mercury reading in the 70's. Thursday dawned with promise of still another warm day with a temperature of 53 at 8 a. m. So keep your fingers crossed!

The annual Boy Scout fund drive for the Deep Creek district is now under way, it was announced this week by Maurice S. Brookhart, Courtney Tusing and Earl Clark, co-chairmen of the compaign.

Letters are being mailed to all business establishments in the county. Mr. Brookhart stated that during the past year many rural residents had expressed their desire to contribute to the boy scout movement in this area, so many letters also were being mailed to these people.

Hospital Is Recipient Of $200,000 Bequest

Mrs. Susan B. Pattison

Bulk Of Estate Of Mrs. Suson Brydon Pattison Left To Institution

The late Mrs. Susan Brydon Pattison, of Bloomington, widow of Carroll Pattison, whose death occurred March 31 of this year, has left her entire estate, with small exceptions, to the Garrett County Memorial hospital, it was revealed this week by the hospital Board of Governors.

The amount will be in the neighborhood of $200,000, according to Irvin Feld, chairman, who said the funds would be designated for partial construction and improvement of the new hospital wing which was recently approved.

This is the largest single bequest ever made to the hospital, exceeding the original grant made by the late George W. Loar in 1946 totaling $170,000. Subsequent gifts however, from the Loar estate and family pushed this total well above the $200,000 mark which provided the impetus for construction of the hospital and its dedication in 1950.

Paragraph four of the will of Mrs. Pattison states: "I give, devise and bequeath all the rest of residue and remainder of my estate, of whatever character and wherever situate unto the Board of Governors of the Garrett County Memorial hospital, for general purposes of the said hospital, to be used in their absolute discretion for the operation and or improvement of said hospital or its general purposes".

The Board of Governors, at a meeting Monday night, designated the gift for the improvement of the new wing which is awaiting bids prior to actual construction.

Mrs. Pattison died in Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser.

Appeal Taken By Sanitary Group On Demurrer

The Garrett County Sanitary commission has taken an appeal on the decision of the Circuit court of May of this year which sustained the city of Oakland's demurrer to the complaint which the district had filed against it early in April.

This information was contained in a letter to the Mayor and Town Council from William W. Grant, attorney to the council, who is representative of this county to the Constitutional convention and consequently absent from the area for several months.

Sustaining the demurrer resulted in dismissal of the suit. It was indicated that the Court of Appeals would hear the case probably in the spring of 1968. Should the Court of Appeals

Columbus Day Sales Planned

Oakland merchants are planning a Columbus Day "Sales Days", beginning Thursday, October 12, and extending through Saturday, October 14.

John Kurilla, chairman of the Oakland Merchants' association which is sponsoring the event, said the merchants were carrying out the theme of "discovering bargains" in the same manner in which Columbus made his discovery in 1492.

These quarterly promotions have been found to be popular with citizens of the area and this is the third in a series of four normally planned through the year. Such events have included a February sale, sidewalk sale in August and the Christmas sale in December.

The event is town-wide and most of the merchants are combining to offer a number of unusual bargains. Twenty-four merchants participated in the August sidewalk sale and Mr. Kurilla was hoping to add some others for next week's sale.

'Black Power' Revolution

The nightmare of rioting and pillaging which has overwhelmed Detroit and other American cities is the end result of more than a decade of encouragement of anarchy by American Liberals.

As this column warned for several years, the repeated glib praise of "revolution" by liberal leaders in the United States—clergymen and professors as well as politicians in the Northeast — has turned to a horror story of bloodshed and savagery.

The idea that one group of Americans possesses an unrestricted right to break local laws, to demonstrate and to engage in civil disobedience is at the root of the terrorism striking many cities in this land.

Behind the criminal insurrection in Detroit and elsewhere are liberal counsels of appalling moral irresponsibility. The riotous looters and arsonists have been encouraged in recent years to believe that they were above the law. When disturbances took place in Southern communities, for example, hundreds of clerical carpetbaggers descended on these towns and cities to condemn the law enforcement authorities. Now, the shoe is on the other foot. The hometowns of the liberal clergy and liberal professors are engulfed in the smoke of armed rebellion against lawful government. Southerns cannot be used as scapegoats.

Conservative Americans saw the insurrection coming over the last few years. Mob violence, excused by the liberals, grew each year. The first big national disaster of this sort too place in the Watts district of Los Angeles. Rioters and looters at wor in that outbreak never were treated with sufficient severity.

The liberals, which have enjoyed massive support from churches and charitable foundations, have been slow to learn a lesson. Only days before the Detroit rioting broke out, there was the notorious "black power" conference in Newark, N. J., another city scared by anarchist rebels. The chairman of the conference, it turned out, was the executive director of the Department of Urban Work of the Episcopal Diocese of Newark. He used the Cathedral House of the diocese for news conferences.

It is to be hoped that the liberal clergy and the so-called "intellectuals", who bear such a heavy responsibility for the outbreak of anarchism, will admit their errors. At the minimum, these must be compelled to acknowledge the face of savagery in Detroit, Newark and elsewhere in this riot-torn land. The ordinary citizen certainly will have no difficulty tracing the moral rights and wrongs of the situation.

Decent people don't riot simply because they have a job that pays $1 an hour, instead of $1.50 an hour. They don't loot stores — stealing liquor and television sets — because the apartment they live in was built in the 1920s or earlier. Millions of people with low incomes are determined to be good citizens, to obey the laws, and to respect property belonging to others.

History tells us that some people have little or no capacity for lawful, respectable behavior, that the savage sometimes is right below the skin. No amount of sociological gobbledegook can cover up the facts of jungle-like behavior evidenced in the Detroit rioting, for example. If this kind of behavior is what our country is confronted with, then the civilized people of Michigan and other states have to employ sufficiently strong police and population control methods to prevent cities becoming jungles. It won't suffice to pay blackmail by means of anti-poverty programs. Detroit, for that matter, had one of the biggest anti-poverty programs in the nation. It didn't prevent rioting and looting.

The riots of this tragic summer point up the truth that "law and order" will have to be the watchwords of responsible Americans in the year ahead. The presidential election campaign should be keyed to civic security, for decent citizens must have security in their homes, businesses and communities. The ordeal by urban terrorism must be ended. The rule of liberal fallacies, with respect to policing, housing and welfare, must be shattered by realistic, respectable citizens determined that this great land, which we wouldn't give back to the Indians, won't fall into the hands of urban savages bent on murder, theft and destruction.

Question

What does the word, "analgesic", mean and where did it come from?

Answer

First let's start out with the word analgesia which means insensibility to pain without loss of consciousness. It's then easy to understand why a drug or combination of drugs causing analgesia is called an "analgesic". In other words, an analgesic stops pain while allowing the patient to remain conscious. The base word "analgesia" is a combination of two ancient Greek words: "an" (without) and "algesia" (physical condition where pain is not felt). . .meaning 'without pain'.

a recreation area serving such metropolitan areas as Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Washington. It is estimated that the recreation and tourist trade already account for approximately 30% of Garrett County's economy.

The total cost of the recreation portion of the project is $411,005. Of this amount, $220,502 will be provided by the Federal Small Watershed Act; $172,301 will be granted from Section 214 of the Appalachian Regional Development Act, which supplements the Federal Share of grant-in-aids projects; and $88,202 will come from this County.

The Appalachian Regional Commission action now goes to the Secretary of Commerce for final approval and to the Secretary of Agriculture for implementation under the Appalachian Regional Development Act of 1965.

Approval Given

Mayor Russell L. Smith was notified yesterday by DeWitt C. Schieck, chief, Appalachian Supplemental Grants division, office of public works, that approval of the allocation of $132,301, to the Soil Conservation service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, had been approved.

He said the funds are to be used by that agency to supplement its grant for the construction of the Little Yough watershed project dam at Oakland.

Maryland's Representative on the twelve-state Appalachian Regional Commission, Robert G. Garner, of Cumberland, recommended and submitted the project to the Commission after its preparation in cooperation with the Garrett County Commissioners, the Mayor & Council of the Town of Oakland, the Soil Conservation Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and the Western Maryland Regional Development Office of the Maryland Department of Economic Development.

The Maryland Department of Economic Development is coordinator of State activties under the Appalachian Regional Development program which covers Allegany, Garrett and Washington Counties. The Department's Western Maryland office, located in Hagerstown, assists communities in developing and preparing projects under the Appalachian program.

Appeal

reverse the circuit court, then a trial in the Circuit court here would be arranged.

Judge Stuart F. Hamill, in sustaining the demurrer, in May said it was granted due to absence of any specific legal grounds for the complaint, and that pending any such legal authority that the town was free to operate its sewer system as it pleased and that the town was free to continue in its present policy and that the Sanitary commission had no legal right to interfere.

The sanitary commission had complained that the town of Oakland was delaying and contradicting plans of the sanitary commission to provide a sewage disposal system for the three municipalities of Oakland, Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn Heights.

The suit had been filed originally to determine whether or not the Oakland municipality was an integral part of the sanitary district and subject to direction and recommendations of that body.

The request for demurrer declared that ownership and authority to operate the Oakland sewer system was vested in the mayor and town council by statute and specifically denied to the complainant by statute what it was demanding.

Mr. Grant also told city council the progress on the cost of the Health Department versus Oakland. The health department has filed a petition for an injunction against the town to restrain the town from authorizing any further permits or licenses for sewer taps and sewer lines within the corporate limits.

In its answer the city had alleged the health department was trying to coerce Oakland into being committed to a sewer plant inadequate in size and deficient in design. The answer was accompanied by a 50-page summary of defects in the Santiary Commission's proposal.

Mr. Grant said that during the summer there were indications the matter might be settled but the town was advised September 15 to go to court on October 15. Because Mr. Grant is the constitutional convention representative the case has been postponed until 30 days after the convention.

She was born in Grafton, W. Va., a daughter of the late Louis B. and Grace Blue Brydon. She was a graduate of Miss Eastman's Preparatory School, Washington and Union Memorial hospital in Baltimore. She was an active member of the Union Memorial hospital alumni association, and was a nurse at the Luke Mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company for a number of years. She was a member of St. James Episcopal church in Westernport.

Surviving her are two sisters, Mrs. Frederick B. Warder, Ocala, Fla.; Mrs. Robert Biddle, Parkersburg, W. Va.; a brother, William A. Brydon, Walnut Creek, Calif.; 13 nieces and nephews. She had no children. She was buried in Rose Hill cemetery in Cumberland on April 3.

The hospital Board of Directors said the estate had been inventoried and funds would be available around the first of the year, amounting to approximately $200,000 in securities and personal property. Serving as executor of the will is Robert H. Willhyde, of Hagerstown, of the First National Bank of Maryland.

The hospital came into being through an original gift of $170,000 from George W. Loar. A federal grant through the Hill-Burton act added $163,000 and a campaign to raise funds locally exceeded $100,000 which included an additional $21,000 from members of the Loar family. Local funds also included a gift of $10,000 by Mrs. Elizabeth Nelson Lofthouse of the Bahama islands. An additional $20,000 was made available from the Loar estate plus $5,000 for expenses.

An addition to the hospital was completed in 1953 making 54 beds available. Funds for the additional wing now contemplated are coming from the Hill-Burton act, $259,800; $363,720 from Appalachian Regional Commission, with $155,880 expected from local sources.

The wing will increase the capacity of the hospital by 18, to a total of 72 beds, plus an expanded X-ray department, enlarged laboratory facilities, emergency rooms, a new dietary department and the new area for the State Department of Health.

The Hospital Board expressed extreme pleasure over this unexpected gift which will aid materially in the expansion program. According to hospital records, Merritt Feather, administrator, said that Mrs. Pattison had never been a patient in the local hospital but that her mother, Mrs. Grace Blue Brydon, had been a patient there from December 22, 1958, until the time of her death on January 15, 1959.

The presiding bishop of a Cambridge Negro church refused use of the church for a Black Power conference recently.

Board Approves

Luetkemeyer, treasurer, said it was "refreshing" to have someone not ask for as much money as possible.

He said the original figures put the cost of the college at $1,200,000 with the state agreeing to furnish 75 percent, or $900,000. As it works out now the county will receive $937,500, he said.

The State Board of Education on August 30 approved a recommendation by the Board of Public Works to grant an allocation of $812,500 for construction of the junior college, based on an estimated 65 percent participation in school costs for one year.

The total now available will be $937,500.

Deer Park Firemen Will Hold Auction

Deer Park Firemen will hold an Auction at the Firehouse on Saturday, October 21, beginning at 12 noon, according to Wm. Clatterbuck, chairman.

Persons desiring to donate items may bring them to the Firehouse or firemen will pick them up. Pickups will be made the week of October 16. For pickups in the Deer Park area, please call Wm. Clatterbuck at 334-4470, in Swanton, call Harley Wildeson, 334-4437 and the Loch Lynn-Mt. Lake Park area call Carl Callis at 334-3242. Clatterbuck asked that people do not call the Firehouse.

The proceeds are tentatively planned to be used for uniforms for the Firemen.

Wants To Decide Section By Section On Constitution

A Baltimore delegate proposed yesterday that the charter produced by Maryland's Constitutional Convention be submitted to voters by sections instead of as a whole.

Del. Charles H. Wheatley said this might "prevent all the good points of a new constitution going down the drain on a single controversial issue."

It had been generally assumed that the document would go before voters to be approved or rejected as a whole. The legislative act setting up the convention specified that the constitution be "submitted to the qualified voters of the state for adpotion or rejection," at a special May 14 election.

A proposal triggered by talk of lowering the voting age was introduced by Del. Donald P. Hutchinson, Baltimore county. Delegates opposed to allowing 18-year-old to vote have expressed fears that students at colleges located in small towns might be able to take over municipal governments.

ville, Mt. Lake Park and Swanton. The date for a house to house canvass in Oakland will be announced later.

Mr. Brookhart said anyone not contacted and wishing to contribute to the boy scout program could do so by mailing his donation, payable to Potomac Council, BSA, to any one of the three committee members mentioned, at Oakland.

21 Are Killed On State Highways

Last week twenty-one persons lost their lives on Maryland highways, according to the weekly survey published by the State Police.

Commenting on these accidents Lt. Col. George Davidson, Chief of Operations of the State Police, said: "Several of the persons killed in the collisions were innocent victims who lost their lives because of someone else's thoughtlessness, inattention or flagrant disregard of the safety laws. For the most part, the operators responsible for the accidents sustained only minor injuries.

"The drinking driver is a menace on the highway; six of the lives lost last week certainly substantiate this. The operator who is fatigued creates a highway danger; this factor contributed to two deaths. Other errors in driving caused nine more deaths.

"These statistics are cold and impersonal, as statistics usually are," concluded Lt. Col. Davidson, "but what they point out is nonetheless tragic. Most accidents can be avoided, but many drivers just won't take the necessary precautions".

Eleven of those killed last week were drivers, five were passengers, and five were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in seven of the deaths; speed in three, and "driver error" in seventeen.

George Comp, of the Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department, was a member of the training committee for the one-day Regional Fire Training School, held in McCoole, Sunday, October 1.

Inert Attorney General

Herewith, a brief legal brief, for attention of the Attorney General of the United States.

Hubert Geroid (Rap) Brown said: "There is a conspiracy to run black people out of America, but we are going to burn it down before we leave . . . If Washington don't turn around, you should burn Washington down . . . I consider myself neither morally nor legally bound to obey laws made by a body in which I have no representation. Do not deceive yourself into believing that penalties will deter men from the course they believe is right. We stand on the eve of a black revolution."

Stokely Carmichael has said: "In Newark, we applied war tactics of the guerillas. We are preparing groups of urban guerillas for our defense in the cities. The price of these rebellions is a high price that one must pay. This fight is not going to be a simple street meeting. It is going to be a fight to the death. . .we will kill first and we will aim for the head".

The United States Code reads: "Whoever incites, sets on foot, assists, or engages in any rebellion or insurrection against the authority of the United States or the laws thereof, or gives aid or comfort thereto, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than 10 years, or both.

"If two or more persons . . . conspire to overthrow, put down or destroy by force the government of the United States, or to levy war against them, or to oppose by force the authority thereof, or by force to prevent, hinder, or delay the execution of any law of the United States . . . they shall be fined not more than $20,000 or imprisoned not more than 20 years, or both.

"Whoever . . . abets, advises, or teaches the duty, necessity, desirability, or propriety of overthrowing the government of the United States . . . or the government of any political subdivision therein, by force or violence, or by the assassination of any officer of any such government . . . shall be fined not more than $20,000 or imprisoned not more than 20 years, or both."

The law of the land, as quoted from the U. S. Code, is very clear.

The statements of Messrs. Brown and Carmichael are equally clear.

The inert silence of the Attorney General of the United States is not clear. —U. S. Press Association, Inc.

Notice To Deep Creek Firemen

At a meeting recently of the Deep Creek Volunteer Firemen a motion was made and carried for all future meetings to be held the 1st and 3rd Monday of each month. Also the time for each meeting during the winter months will be 7:30.

Testifies Before Group

Benj. O. Aiken, House of Delegates member, appeared Monday in Annapolis before the committee on the legislative branch of government for the Constitutional Convention, to oppose a suggestion that the number of delegates and senators be reduced in the legislature.

Hearings were being held on this question as some of the members of the convention had advanced this theory to make for more efficient government.

William W. Grant, county representative on the constiutional convention committee, also attended the hearing. He has voiced his opposition to the suggestion at various times but did not testify on that particular day.

Under such a set up Garrett County might end up with having no representation at all. Mr. Aiken spoke against the concentration of power metropolitan areas that was building up.

To Observe Fire Prevention Week

Last year, 7,000 Americans were killed as the result of fires in one- and two-family homes. To help reduce this tragic number, fire companies are observing National Fire Prevention Week, October 8-14.

Firemen offer these few tips to help fireproof your lives:

"Never leave children at home alone. They're helpless to escape fire they themselves often start when left unattended."

"If you smoke in bed, break this deadly habit at once."

"Escape is the first rule of fire safety. Prepare a home fire safety plan for your family, and pick an outside assembly point where the family will meet. Remember, once out—stay out."

"Never run extension cords under rugs or over nails."

"Make sure Halloween costumes are flameproofed."

"Teach your child to do the right thing if his clothes should ever catch on fire; tell him not to run, but to lie down at once and roll over slowly to smother the flames—in a rug, blanket, or coat if available."

"A furnace should never be located where a heater fire could block your escape."

"Carefully figure out at least two routes to the outside from every room in the house, especially bedrooms."

"Have plenty of safe ash trays around your house and office. The safe ones are large enough and deep enough, so designed to hold a burning cigaret entirely within the tray so it can't fall out."

"Every night before retiring—and especially after parties—look beneath sofa cushions and around the crevices of upholstered chairs. Any still-hot cigarets which have lodged in these spots can cause a deadly, smoldering nighttime fire."

"Is your TV antenna installed where it cannot fall across power lines, and is it equipped with a properly grounded lightning arrestor?"

"Use the right size fuse in each socket in the fuse box. Use a new fuse, never substitutes, after each blow."

"Do not allow children to play near stoves and furnaces indoors. Outside, be wary of bonfires and field fires".

"Remember that closed bedroom doors will hold back flame and smoke, allowing extra escape time."

Grntsville Soldier Aids In Fighting

"The entire valley was crawling with the enemy running away from us", said Corporal Robert Page, 20, of 1710 Manhattan St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

"There were more of the enemy than I had ever seen in the 12 months I have been in Vietnam", Corporal Page continued as he related how his platoon surprised as estimated 35-man enemy platoon during a search and destroy operation 25 miles south of Da Nang.

Corporal Page a squad leader, was moving with the point squad for his platoon from "B" Company, 1st. Battalion, 5th Marine Regiment, 1st. Marine Div., when two of the enemy tried to ambush them from behind.

Lance Corporal Robert Louis Dickerson, 20, of 1017 Dixie Highway, Louisville, Ky., saw movement and fired first, dropping an enemy.

Another was killed by Lance Corporal Donald Platter 19, of Route 2, Grantsville, Md.

"When I saw him", said Lance Corporal Platter, "he was bringing his weapon up to aim in on me. I moved faster and he didn't get the chance".

As the Marines reached the crest of the hill and looked down, they saw a platoon of the enemy fleeing across the rice paddies.

"They were probably warned by the shots we fired", said Corporal Page. "It was still a turkey shoot, we caught them in the open rice paddy with no cover, and opened up with M-16 rifles".

Corporal Page said when the rest of the platoon arrived they laid down a base of fire as his unit continued sweeping down into the valley.

"We hit them hard", Corporal Page said, "but just as soon as one man would drop he would crawl into the bushes and a short while later you would see him on the back of another of the enemy, piggy-back style".

Wounded enemy who were not picked up, crawled into the dense underbrush and as Marines swept by, tossed grenades.

Sergeant Reginald Smith, 20, of 874 Kelly St., Bronx, N. Y., was in range of one grenade that slightly wounded three other Marines.

"We had just climbed a rice paddy dike and reached another when I saw it coming", Sergeant Smith said. "Everything happened so fast, I just had time to brace myself and think that I had had it".

The grenade exploded in mid-air about chest high and seven feet away.

"The explosion picked me up and flipped me back to the first dike we just climbed", said Smith. He was uninjured by the blast.

In the action, 11 of the enemy were killed and three AK-41 rifles, one pistol and a carbine were captured, along with 15 grenades and other ammunition.

Eggtober Month Proclaimed

It's Eggtober and the '68 model is on the market... no fancy gadgets or chrome ..... offers plenty of mileage ... the top buy compact in the low-price field, although it's streamlined exactly like last year's popular egg-shaped model, so states Mrs. Denison.

Yes, it is Eggtober, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service says that eggs are currently one of the best buys on the market. This is good news for autumn shoppers who are looking for economical menu items.

Use eggs this month in a variety of ways. Take one of the most common egg dishes—egg salad. It can be used as the base for many delicious combinations, providing a wealth of sandwichable fillings.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President—National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

Here is sworn testimony of a former Cuban newspaperman, Antonio Apud, who worked until recently in Castro's Ministry of Industries: "I visited a Russian camp with 4,000 Russian officers in the Province of Havana. They were teaching the Cubans (in guerrilla warfare) and after the Cubans, there came people from all Latin American countries. . . We had a camp in 1966, some time in February, in a place about 9 kilometers from Havana, where they had 1,000 Congolese". (Approximately 10,000 Latin American guerrillas are being trained each year by Russians, Czechs, Vietnamese, and Spanish Communists, he said.)

Apud (and other witnesses heard recently by the U. S. Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security) described the mammoth flow of arms into Cuba from Russia, Belgium and Czechoslovakia, and how they are trans-shipped to nations all over the world by a Cuban-built fake "fishing fleet", vessels ranging from 50 tons to 13,000 tons and commanded, usually, by Russians.

"From Belgium", Apud said, "they get the FAL, one of their best rifles. Now they are scratching out the name FAL and they call them now 'Lenin', and they are sending this Lenin for the last two years to Peru (where the Communists established headquarters for arms distribution to adjacent countries). There are more machine guns called Metralleta. . . They are sending a better rifle from Russia and a machine gun, in large quantities".

"Cuba can have an army (and arm it) right now of one million", said Apud.

Another witness, Paul Bethel, who has worked for the U. S. State Department in Cuba and served as a Cuban "expert" on the White House staff of President Kennedy: The guerrillas that go into Central and South America are trained "by a combination of Vietcong, Red Chinese, Russians and Spanish Communists". The Russians are in control.

Mr. Bethel was asked this question: "From the intelligence that you have gathered, and you seem to have gathered a great deal of it, what is Soviet Russia's purpose in being (in Cuba)?"

His reply: "The United States is the ultimate target, the final target. But let's not forget that they not only set up an organization there to carry out subversion of Latin America, but Africa and Asia as well . . . They have three continents that they are dedicated openly, officially, and volubly to subvert. This is why they call (their guerrilla headquarters organization) the tricontinental organization. In Latin America, this is carried out through what is called the LASO, Latin American Solidarity Organization. This, in turn, has a secretariat. It is very well planned and set up, headed by Pedro Medina Silva, who is President. They have five nations, Communists from five nations, including Puerto Rico, included on this body. Through this body flows all the equipment and so forth that the Russians are sending to Cuba and from there transshipped into Latin American".

The "crunch" of lettuce is a sound of freshness!

but the freshness of Sunbeam is a quiet thing

Fresh lettuce makes a crunchy noise. Fresh bread never! That's why we call Sunbeam "The Silent One". It's so fresh you won't hear a thing. Cut it. Bend it. You'll see. Sunbeam's special freshness comes from Sunbeam's specially selected ingredients. Everything top grade. The freshness is baked in ... slowly ... thoroughly ... the Sunbeam way. And it's protected by an air-tight bag. Means lasting freshness, from Sunbeam.

Revitalize School Policies To Equip Students In Future

Governor Agnew has called on school boards throughout the State to revitalize present policies and programs in order to better equip Maryland students for the future.

The Governor issued his call to redefine the goal of public education in an address before the Maryland Boards of Education Convention in Gaithersburg, last Friday night, September 29.

Education may be the ultimate weapon", the Governor said, "in reducing such immediate social and environmental problems as prejudice, crime, delinquency and pollution".

The Governor told the educators that in redefining the goal of public education "attitude training" must be included as a co-equal partner of academic education. He said that schools must provide students with the "attitude to adapt; the confidence and courage to accept rapid change; and the ability to continuously learn", and that this can be done by revising present curricula to relate to immediate problems.

"The importance of attitude training was most vividly dramatized this summer by the violent riots erupting in 76 American cities", the Governor said.

"Certainly if we are to control our own destiny, to secure our streets from the constant threat of civil war, we cannot condone violence nor tolerate insurrection; nor can we perpetuate those conditions which cause its existence.

"Education has a vital role to play in reversing this trend of white apathy and Negro misunderstanding. We must educate our youth to tolerate and understand all people. We must emphasize that equal rights mean just that but where equal rights are extended, equal responsibility is expected and must be exacted".

In outlining a 12-point program to better equip our children, the Governor included proposals for a new emphasis on vocational-technical schools, and a concentration upon compensatory education for the child from a deprived environment. "We cannot negate or neglect the truth", the Governor said, "that a certain segment of our society requires a better than average educational experience to compensate for a worse than average environmental background".

The Governor proposed that each school board undertake pilot programs geared to their community needs as a means of testing bold new techniques. "Until educators and community leaders can create a genuine understanding of intellectual priorities", the Governor said, "students will remain unfulfilled, parents frustrated, and politicians fearful to support new measures."

Gap Widens . . .

The Credibility Gap is getting wider. Fiscal irresponsibility of the present administration is one good reason. Figures are juggled continuously to show the U. S. finances are sound or unsound—depending upon the current objective. A couple of years ago the figures were arranged to convince Congress that we could afford the various Great Society programs. We were even treated to a temporary tax reduction which was justified by juggling the figures. Now the Administration decides it can't have all the programs for everybody and put more money into the Viet Nam effort at the same time—something that the average citizen had been aware of for some time. So the figures are juggled again—this time to show that a 10 percent surtax is imperative; otherwise some of the Great Society programs will suffer. Considering the riots, killings and lawlessness on our streets, it has not been proven that these programs have been building better citizens. The main evidence so far has been a callous disregard for the law. Small wonder the credibility gap widens!

There's only one effective method for cutting back questionable programs. Congress must deny the funds. They won't make a move until they get letters from home demanding that they cut and cut hard.

A farm and ranch business can't operate by juggling figures. The books must balance or someone else may be farming the land. Only complete honesty can close the government credibility gap. —Del Groves, Editor, Nations Agriculture.

Finds Success With Corn Project

A new pilot cash farm crop was tried this year in the Cranesville area—sweet corn for canning. The project was managed by Edward C. Grose.

The sweet corn was grown under a contract with Jenkins Brothers, of Frederick. The variety used was NK199 which was developed as a canning variety.

This corn was recently harvested mechanically. Seven mechanical corn pickers were used. Trailer trucks transported the harvested corn to the canning plant at Frederick.

Sixty-six acres of sweet corn were grown and mechanically harvested. Mr. Grose grew 50 acres, Dwight Gibson had nine and Earl Matheny had seven. The yield was five to six tons per acre. The gross yield was 334,000 pounds of sweet corn ears and brought the growers an average of $17 per ton of ears.

At the canning plant the corn graded fancy as compared to corn grown on the eastern shore which graded standard. The net yield of the Cranesville corn was 30 to 32 pounds per hundred weight as compared to a yield of 24 pounds for the eastern shore corn.

Mr. Grose had a contract with his two sons, Bill, 14, and Chilton, 16 to grow and market 11.2 acres of Harris Gold Cup sweet corn for the fresh corn market. They sold 3,000 ears through a market for a gross of $800. They also sold cabbage under contract with their father for a total of $3,600. Mr. Grose also had projects with beans and potatoes.

Mr. Grose was a former instructor at Northern High school. His wife presently is an instructor at Southern High.

The Northern High Huskies dropped their second decision in two years to the sophomore studded Southern High Rams last Friday night by a score of 20 to 14, despite a desperate and effective rally in the final period.

Early scores aided Southern in effecting a victory with the initial touchdown coming on the first play of the game following kick-off by the Northern Huskies to Southern. Rich Browning took the ball on a new play that had been rehearsed during the previous week and went off tackle to get through the line and then raced 69 yards to cross the goal. The point after touchdown was successtuul after three attempts. On the first kick Southern was offside and penalized five yards. On the second kick Northern was offside which returned the ball to its original position. The third attempt was good also and the score stood 7-0.

Southern then kicked off to Northern and on the first play for the Huskies there was a fumble and Southern recovered. This time Jack Alvarez passed to Andy Cosby for twenty yards and the second score. Southern against kicked an extra point to make it 14-0.

In the second quarter Southern added another six points when Jack Alvarez went over the goal line on a quarterback sneak. The try for the extra point failed. There was no scoring in the third period with Southern holding for downs twice at crucial moments.

In the final quarter however, Northern was not to be denied and after a high pass from center to the punter went over his head Northern gained good position and George Layman fullback, went over to score on a one-yard plunge. A pass to Umbel was good for the extra point. Clark Glotfelty gained 154 yards in 18 tries.

Northern got in good scoring position again and halfback Umbel carried over on an end sweep. The extra point was good on another pass to Goshringer.

Northern then tried to gain possession of the pigskin on two on-side kicks but Southern held on to the ball. Southern racked up its eighth first down of the game shortly before the final gun and was in possession of the ball when the final whistle blew.

Another touchdown by Andy Cosby after he had intercepted a pass was called back due to illegal backfield motion. The Huskies had the edge in first downs 15 to 8 and garnered 239 yards in total gained compared to 186 for the Highlanders. Southern had 16 penalties marked against them mostly for illegal procedure for a loss of 70 yards while Northern lost 40 yards on six penalties.

Southern hit on six of 14 passes for a total of 80 yards. The Huskies completed three of 12 attempts and had one pass intercepted. Northern also had one punt blocked. Southern had three fumbles and recovered three. Northern had four fumbles and recovered three.

With a victory next year Southern can retire the Garrett County championship trophy which requires three straight victories. Soutuhern High won the game last year 42 to 0.

The Highlanders have 19 sophomores and two freshmen playing ball this year, most of whom are expected to return next year. The Highlanders suffered two slight injuries last Friday.

This Friday, October 6, the Huskies will play Mountaineer away, and the Highland rams will play Parsons High away.

EVERYONE WELCOME

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Money in a savings account? Money in a checking account? Money in your pocket? These all add up to a fine sense of security. But as everybody knows, the security of money can disappear. The stock market drops, expenses chew up your savings.

There's another kind of security that is not based on the fleeting, material treasures of life. It is the security needed when sickness strikes, a son or daughter disappoints us, or death takes a loved one. This security chases out doubt and fear. It enables us to go right on living day by day, certain that we will not walk alone. In fact, God has said that He will never leave us nor forsake us.

Discover for yourself this security! In your church you can find those eternal values if you trust in the security of Him who cannot fail.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

PROPHET, GO HOME!

Lesson for October 8, 1967

Background Scripture: Amos 1:1, 7.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 76.

Prophets have always been misunderstood. In retrospect they appear romantic and colorful. In prospect they are threatening and fanatical. In other times and other places we see them as patriots. In our own day and our own land they are seen as treasonable and subversive.

Rev. Althouse

Many have regarded them primarily as foretellers of the future, yet the prophet's task is not so much to foretell the future as to change it. The prophets of Israel prophesied, not to pronounce the inevitable, but to change men's hearts and minds, and thus change the future as well. He spoke of God's judgment upon the people, not his own, and the purpose of God's judgment is always to correct and reform, not retaliate or exact vengeance.

A Call to Change

This is why contemporary prophets are always so unpopular. If their purpose was merely to forecast the inescapable march of future events, no one would get too upset. If you agreed, you could say, "See, I told you so." If you didn't agree, you could turn a deaf ear and walk away. The purpose of the prophet, however, was not to forecast what had to happen, but to warn of what would happen if people would not change their ways. Prophecy is always a call to change, a challenge, and that is what disturbs us so deeply.

If the future unfolds as merely a predestined fate, there is nothing we can do but accept it. The prophet says, however, that the future really depends, not upon fate, but upon you, how you respond. Only one of the Old Testament prophets seems to have misunderstood this fact. Jonah became furious and sulked when the people of Nineveh took his preaching seriously, changed their ways, and were saved. He failed to understand that this is precisely what God had wanted: not doom, but salvation.

During the civil rights "march on Selma," one bitter public official, instead of lamenting the murder of a white Episcopal clergyman from Massachusetts, remarked that there wouldn't have been any trouble "if this outside agitator had stayed home and stuck to saving souls."

If you are inclined to agree with him, then what would you do with a man like Amos—He was an outsider. His home was in Tekoa, a small village of the southern kingdom, Judah. His prophetic work, however, was performed in Israel, not Judah. He wasn't even a citizen of Israel, yet he came with stern prophecies against the nation.

Furthermore, he was an agitator. He sought to stir up the people of Israel to awake and repent, to change their values and their way of life. Had they taken him seriously, it would have brought broad and sweeping changes in the life of Israel.

They Speak For God

If we examine his message, we find that he did not "stick to saving souls," but attempted to change the social order of the land. This is a land where injustice and immorality were rampant, where the rich oppressed the poor, where the law clearly favored those who could buy the judges.

Is it any wonder, then, that Amaziah, the high priest of Bethel, wanted to get rid of this "outside agitator"? "O seer, go, flee away to the land of Judah, and eat bread there, and prophesy there." If he wanted to be a professional prophet, that was all right so long as he did his prophesying somewhere else. That is the way most of us react to a genuine prophet in our midst: "Prophet, go home!"

"I am not here on my own," said Amos, "but to speak for God". Aha! That's what's wrong with prophets: they speak for God and we cannot bear to hear his word. When we say, "Prophet, go home," with our lips, we are saying, "Lord, go away," with our hearts.

Your Federal Income Tax

The Republican, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax law.

Questions And Answers

Q. I just started my first full-time job. What should I keep in the way of tax records?

A. Your records should contain the information required to file a complete, accurate tax return. You will need to show what your earnings were for the year as well as what deductible expenses you had if you itemize.

Your employer will provide you with a statement at the end of the year showing your earnings and the amount withheld for Federal income tax. If you also have income from stocks or bonds, a savings account or other sources, be sure to keep a record of the amounts received.

You should also keep records of your deductible expenses. This would include the doctor's bills you pay, the contributions you make to charity and other deductible expenses you have, such as interest on loans and state and local sale and income taxes. It is a good practice to keep such items as cancelled checks and receipts to help substantiate items on your return.

Most people starting their first job find it to their advantage to take the standard deduction rather than itemizing. But unless you have kept records of your deductible expenses you will not be in a position to itemize if that happens to result in a lower tax for you.

Q. Why do people who go bankrupt still have to pay their back Federal incomes taxes?

A. The law says that most debts of a legally declared bankrupt are dissolved but that Federal taxes remain a legally collectible debt.

Q. I've been asked to send in whatever records I have to back up my charitable contributions. Some of them need explaining so can I bring them in instead?

A. Yes you can. Contact the office requesting these records and an appointment will be made for you.

Q. I am selling some property and expect to show a profit on it. However, I will be paid over a 5 year period. How do I report this for tax purposes?

A. If certain conditions are met, you may report the gain using the installment method. Under this method, the gross profit on a sale is prorated over the period in which payments are received. This method can be used only if the seller received no payments, or payment of 30 percent or less of the selling price, during the year of the sale.

Make careful note of the payments you receive from the buyer so that at the end of your tax year you will have the information necessary to report the sale on your return. Further information is contained in IRS Document No. 5108, "Installment and Deferred-Payment Sales", which may be obtained free by sending a post card to your IRS District Office.

Q. I'm thinking of opening my own business. Do you have any publication that describes what Federal taxes a small businessman has to pay?

A. Yes, it is called "Tax Guide for Small Business", Publication No. 334. Send 50 cents to your district office to obtain a copy.

Q. When my return was audited, every single deduction I claimed at the suggestion of the fellow who helped me prepare my return was disallowed. Isn't there anything that can be done about so-called tax experts like the one who "helped" me?

A. The law holds the taxpayer legally responsible for all the information on his return even when someone else helped prepare the return. Your experience shows the value of using only reputable and qualified advisors when tax help is needed. It also demonstrates the need to check every item carefully before the return is filed.

Q. My son has just started to work and should earn well over $600 this year. Does that mean I will lose his exemption?

A. Not necessarily. If he is under 19 at the end of the year or a full-time student, he may earn $600 or more and you may still claim the exemption if he otherwise qualifies as your dependent.

If any tax has been withheld from his wages he must file a return to obtain a refund. In any event, he must file a return when his gross income is $600 or more. In filing such a return he also claims his own exemption even though you claimed him as a dependent.

Q. I was married recently and my wife works. If there any change I should make in my withholding?

A. A married taxpayer's withholding is at lower rates than a single taxpayer's. Therefore, by notifying your employer of the change in your marital status, with the filing of a new Form W-4, your withholding may be reduced.

You also may want to take the exemption for your wife. This will also reduce the amount withheld from your paycheck. However, if your wife claims her own exemption on her job, then you may not claim her exemption too.

Q. On the $50 requirement for paying social security on household help, what happens if you spend $50 for this purpose, but it is divided among several people?

A. You are liable for the tax only when you pay one person $50 or more cash wages in a calendar quarter.

Q. I drove my car on a selling job I had last summer. Since I didn't get paid for mileage by my boss, can I deduct these costs when I file my return?

A. Except for commuting expenses, the costs of business use of your automobile are deductible. You may deduct the actual expense, or if you prefer, a standard rate of 10 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles of business use and 7 cents a mile thereafter. Related parking fees and tolls may be deducted in addition to the standard mileage rate.

A. If you work at this job for a short period then your living expenses while away from home may be deductible. However, if the end of the job can't be fixed within a reasonably short period of time or is for an indefinite period, then, the job location becomes your home for tax purposes and living expenses will not be deductible.

Details on this provision of the law are explained in IRS publication No. 463, "Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses", available at your local IRS office.

Q. I've cut down on the number of pupils I give voice lessons to since I became 65. On the self-employed tax on that income, can I now earn up to $1,200 before I have to pay it? I know that's the story on my federal income tax.

A. The requirement for self-employment tax applies regardless of age. When net income from self-emplyment is $400 or more for the year the tax must be paid.

Note that the $400 figure is a net figure. Your gross income from self-employment should be reduced by whatever expenses you had in earning this income. In your case, the cost of sheet music, piano tuning and the like should be deducted from your gross income.

Q. Is a prize considered income?

A. Yes it is. If the prize is not cash but is merchandise instead, use the fair market value at the time received as the amount to report on your return.

Q. Does a common law marriage entitle you to file a joint return?

A. If you are living together in a common law marriage which is recognized by the state where it was entered into, you may file a joint return.

Test Soil Now; Avoid Spring Rush

If you are thinking about having your soil tested, why wait for the springtime rush?

The fall season is an excellent time of year to take soil samples from lawn, garden or field, says Dr. Alan Bandel, Extension agronomist at the University of Maryland.

The free testing service at the University is becoming more popular each year as more people recognize the value of liming and fertilizing acording to test results, Dr. Bandel says. "But most people don't think much about plowing and seeding or liming and fertilizing until early spring".

In January the rush begins, he adds. The laboratory is normally flooded with soil samples from January through April. "This large number of samples may delay the test result at a time when delays can be costly".

With fertilizer and lime recommenadtions made in the fall, you have time to plan for spring and take advantage of possible reduced fertilizer prices or early delivery discounts.

Any Maryland resident can get a free analysis of the phosphorus, potash and magnesium in the soil as well as a determination of the pH (acidity or alkalinity) and a lime and fertilizer recommendation.

But the soil laboratory asks your cooperation. "Plan ahead" Dr. Bandel urges. "Save time and money and prevent headaches next spring by having your soil tested as soon as possible after htis year's crops are harvested.

For further information and soil sample boxes, contact your county Extension Service listed in the telephone directory under County Government, or the Soil Testing Laboratory at College Park.

The information sheet accompanying sample boxes tells how to take soil samples and submit them to the laboratory.

HOSPITALS ARE NO LONGER FEARED

About fifty years ago, because surgery mortality in hospitals was one out of every four, it took courage to go to a hospital. Now, for example, one hospital performed 2,866 "interval" appendectomies without a single death. But, if the appendix was perforated before the operation, mortality is higher.

The important moral from this is that all operations are less dangerous, if the diagnosis is early, and the operation performed before danger of a terminal condition begins. If your physicians say "operate now," it is usually wise to follow their advice.

The Touching Story Of The Life Of Carl Trenum

Have you ever come to the edge? My story is not written to brag about myself, but to help others who are in the path of sin.

I am 24 years old, I have been a sinner all my life. I have a very bad record with police, and with the Lord.

My story begins on February 2, 1964. I was a Parolee from a reformatory. I was shot while trying to escape the police. I was on the verge of death as I lay on the table in the operating room. My life was running out of time. While I lay there cursing the doctors and nurses, my veins were filled with alcohol, "Satan's weapon".

"Carl, you are going to die", said the doctor. "I will do all I can for you". I couldn't believe what the doctor had told me. I was too young to die; a cold sweat broke out on me then. I thought "what if I do die, I'll go to hell", I said to myself. While being prepared for an emergency operation, I said my prayers, asking the Lord to save me, and to forgive me for my sins. I asked Him to take me with Him to heaven, if I should die. "Well, Carl, it was a miracle that you are alive", the doctor said he he entered my room three days after the operation. I asked him what the bullets had done to me. He told me that one bullet had hit one of my kidneys, one had broken two of my ribs which he had to remove), another busted my right lung, one hit my liver, but it just creased it. Another inch and I would have been gone. One bullet passed clear through my arm.

I was thanking Jesus for saving my life when two detectives appeared and read off the charges placed against me. "Carl we have warrants here charging you with two counts of kidnapping, two counts of assaults with intent to murder and two counts of assault and battery. Do you want to make a statement?" I tried to keep from hearing him, but his voice was like a knife cutting me. "Those charges", I thought. "I'll get life in prison. I'm only twenty years old and my life is finished. I prayed to the Lord again, asking Him not to let me get a life sentence. I'm not even married. By the time I get out I'll be to old, nobody will want me".

I was only in the hospital two weeks, then transferred to the County Jail in Rockville, to await trial.

I had a dream one night that Jesus came from Heaven and took me before judgment. I was pleading with God to give me another chance, for I knew I was condemned. He gave me another chance to save my soul. I woke myself up screaming for Jesus. The sweat was just running off my forehead.

I was taken to trial and given ten years on one charge; all the other charges were settled. I went to the penitentiary and was later transferred to the House of Correction. While I was at the penitentiary I taught myself how to draw; I make spending money this way. I learned to play the guitar, which passed my time away. I also taught myself how to type, in order to get myself a good job within the institution. There was a lot of sin there. I did my best to resist Satan. I took up Bible studies to learn of God's wonderful word.

While at the House of Correction, there were rumors of a riot because of certain pressures. I had been caught in one before at the penitentiary. But I didn't participate in it. I didn't want to be in another one. At the House of Correction, so I ran off. I was working at the outside warehouse as clerk at the time. Because of this fact, and the fact that I was fed up with the things that were going on there.

I left there on August 4, 1967. My sentence would have been up in 1969.

When I arrived home, my mother came running into my arms crying. My brother and sister were crying too. I couldn't figure out why. Then my mother told me that my stepfather had died Thursday the day before I ran off. Mother asked me then how I had gotten out of prison. I couldn't lie, so I told her I had run off. She started crying again and asked me to give myself up. I couldn't bring myself to do this because in 1958 my Grandmother died of cancer. My brother and I weren't allowed to come. We were with our dad at that time in South Carolina. He would not let us come to grandmother for fear that mother wouldn't let us go back with him. They had separated when I was only two years old. My grandmother was a very religious person. She taught me about Jesus. (I love her. May God bless her in Heaven). I couldn't go back to prison knowing Mother was suffering because if anything happened to her I wanted to be by her side. I decided to go away and get myself a job and do what is right, then send for mother to come and live with me. I wanted to care for her, do things to make her remaining days happy.

I left the next day and went to Frostburg. I was so confused and had so many things on my mind. I started drinking to drown my troubles; I should have sought the Lord, but prison isn't a very nice place to be and there is so much evil in them. It rubs off on you. I got so drunk, I forgot my troubles all right, until I woke up to fact that I was still wanted.

Two days later I read in the paper where I was wanted in connection with two kidnappings, and a robbery. I started drinking again, like a fool. I was arrested the same day and brought here to the Garrett County Jail. I was here only a few days before I cut my wrist. I had done so much evil in my life. I had hurt so many loved ones' feelings.

I found a Bible in my cell one night under the mattress. I began reading it. I realize now that this is what I should have done to help me, if I had only turned to it.

A few days later a pastor of a plain church came to visit with the fellows in the jail. He was very nice and said he'd be back to see us. The following week he came in and brought me a new Bible, which read on the first page, "To light your way from here to glory". (This Book will do it). I loved his feelings for me. That night I knelt and said my prayers thanking God, for I have so many things to be thankful for.

The pastor brought his wife with him the next time he came in. She is a wonderful person, and singer, too. She reminded me of my Grandmother. I hope that Grandmother was watching me that day because I played the guitar for them and the other fellows there. We [illegible] then I read some verses from Proverbs. I have never read the Bible aloud to anybody before, nor have I prayed aloud while someone was near, but I did that day. I prayed that night for courage, and for the Lord Jesus to teach me how to pray and speak His words. This pastor and his wife have been an inspiration to me. They have shown me their love and concern for my soul. God bless them. I want to serve Jesus with all my heart. Friends, won't you really give your heart and soul to the Lord Jesus. He loves you so much. He died for our sins, so that we may be saved. Friends, won't you let dear Jesus come into your heart, now? It may be too late tomorrow. Even though I get life or twenty years for what I have done, I will put my trust in Jesus. He will be with me always. I only hope that my story is not written in vain. I want my story to show you how satan works. His biggest weapon is booze.

I read a story in The Gospel Witness titled "Married to a Drunkard". It was a very sad story. The husband came home one night and killed his two little girls, then took his own life. The only person left [illegible] her son who died a drunkard at the age of eighteen. I pray that this woman will see her little girls in Heaven one day.

Would you please read Isaiah 53:3-6-8-9-12. Friend, I was a man of many sorrows, but now Jesus is lifting my burdens. He [illegible] coming into my heart. I had been hateful and ungrateful to [illegible] and [illegible] anything [illegible] the [illegible] me.

[illegible] to [illegible] soon. I am not [illegible] to work hard to get [illegible] of prison, for there are [illegible] my lost soul's here to be won. I would like to say this to all young people of this day, "Don't do what the gang does. Don't let your false pride step between you and eternal life. Just being "IN" with the gang does you no good. Where you really need to be "IN" is to let Jesus come into your heart. Don't be afraid of what people will say or think of you for they will answer for every idle word they say".

I hope my story has helped someone to see Jesus for what He is, our Savior. He will not come into your heart unless you open the door for Him. Jesus is knocking now, won't you please leave Him in? Take your Bible now and read Rev. 3:20 & 21. What He has done for me He will also do for you.

I wish close for now. But any love not need a [illegible] true friend, [illegible] desires to be your friend. God bless you all.

In God's Love,
Carl A. Trenum

John M. Stalnaker, president of NMSC, said: "Although Commended students advance no further in the Merit Scholarship competition, their outstanding record in a nationwide program deserves public recognition. Their significant academic attainment gives promise of continued success in college.

Poulin is now attending college at Elizabeth town, Pa. Judy is a senior at Southern.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to establish support payments for the minor children presently in the custody of the complainant.

The Bill recites that a Separation Agreement was entered into by the said complainant and the respondent on January 17, 1967, that custody of the four minor children was granted to the complainant, that the complainant is now unable to provide properly for the needs and maintenance of the said children on payments as made under said agreement and she seeks an increase of said payments.

It is thereupon this 3rd day of October, 1967, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ORDERED that the complainant, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 27th day of October, 1967, giving notice to the said absent respondent, Lawrence Hardesty, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint, and warning him to be and appear in this court, either in person or by solicitor, on or before the 27th day of November, 1967, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

21-Yr.-Old Beaver Is Oldest Known

An account of a twenty-one-year old beaver trapped last year in Garrett county, was sent to us this week by W. E. Spoerlein, who is visiting in California. The article appeared in the September 28 issue of the San Francisco Chronicle, and had never been publicized in this area.

The story:

"A 21 year old wild beaver trapped last year in Maryland's Garrett County is the oldest ever reported in the United States, a University of Maryland research scientist said recently.

"The beaver's record age was determined from its teeth. Joseph S. Larson of the University's Natural Resources institute, who examined the carcass in a study of western Maryland's resurgent beaver population, made the determination.

"The 50-pound animal, measuring almost four feet from nose to tip of tail, was trapped and slain in February, 1966, in Muddy Creek by Virgil Sisler, of Terra Alta, W. Va.

"Trapping of the record beaver symbolizes the remarkable return of the animal to a state where he was once extinct.

"Beaver abounded in Maryland in colonial times, but their pelts brought high prices in the fashion-conscious cities and their days were numbered. By about 1800 relentless trapping had eliminated beaver from the state.

"Not until 1928 was a beaver dam seen again in Maryland. That year one was spotted near Hagerstown. Soon afterward beaver began infiltrating the state from surviving colonies in West Virginia and Pennsylvania, Larson said.

"Now Garrett County harbors some 1,000 of them and they are numerous enough to be a nuisance. Their dams flood cornfields and bottomlands, block culverts and sometimes damage bridges. They destroy crops and fruit trees. As a result the state authorized limited beaver trapping in Garrett County in 1962, for the first time in generations. Since then limits have been increased".

Council Airs Several Problems

The regular meeting of the Mayor and Town Council took place on Monday evening at City Hall. Various business came up including the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club request for a Hallowe'en parade. Permission was given, and the parade is scheduled for Monday, October 30, at 7 p. m.

It was agreed that Oakland should have a full-time dog warden to enforce the town dog ordinances, and Ellis Cogley was chosen to fill that capacity.

The resignation of Roger Lewis as town policeman was accepted. Two applications have been received; the Council however, decided not to hire anyone for the position until next spring.

The Town Council added its endorsement to that of the State Roads Commission for a 15-foot "Welcome to Oakland" sign. It was decided that if the Lions Club will sponsor a slogan contest for this sign, the Council will award a $25 savings bond to the winner.

A comprehensive insurance policy with Gonder Insurance Agency was approved at the meeting. It was noted that the town had received an Award of Merit certificate from the Chesapeake Section of the American Water Works Association in recognition of the town's not having a lost time accident during the past year.

A letter from the Constitutional Convention at Annapolis, asking the Council's opinion and comments on the following proposals was read, and opinions noted.

The letter asked their opinion on granting:

1. Permission for municipalities to impose a residence requirement not in excess of one year. (Council approved.)
2. Permission for municipalities to extend suffrage to non-resident property owners. (Council disapproved.)
3. Setting the date of municipal elections so all such elections would be held at the same time. (Council disapproved.)

The Council also voted against extension of the right of suffrage to persons living on federal enclaves, where such enclaves lie wholly or in part within municipal boundaries.

A letter was also received from Mrs. James Hesen, who asked that Hawkinson Tread do something about rubber dust which sifts out and is annoying neighbors of the tire company. She also asked that they repair their rainspouting, and get rid of the dead rats lying in the alley.

Receipts for the month of September for water, taxes, and miscellaneous items totalled $430.39; $396.67; and $8,307.78 respectively. Included in miscellaneous were $3,554.95 from the gas tax fund; $1,595.02 from the Motor Vehicle Revenue fund; and $1,443.21 from state race tracks.

Expenditures for the month amounted to $13,050.19. This total included $1,094.55 for street labor; $689.71 for street supplies; and $2,625.00 for engineering services for sewerage. The balance remaining on October 2 was $8,036.58.

The operating expenses for the year amounted to $59,793.96 for salaries; $64,390.67 for general operating expenses; and $17,569.96 for capital outlay, for a total of $141,754.50. Revenue for the year totalled $164,429.97 as compared with $174,060.58 for fiscal year 1966.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 91. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., OCTOBER 12, 1967 PER COPY 10c NUMBER 33.

Let's Get Moving. . .

Prompt action is urgent on the junior college program to keep from duplicating a mistake of several years ago when the construction of the high schools was contemplated. At that time there were obstructionists who delayed final approval until such time that the completed buildings cost almost a million dollars more than originally figured.

This should not happen again. In discussing the matter of inflation at a board of education meeting this week it was termed that costs go up from 5 to 7 percent annually, with every month's delay in getting the junior college construction underway upping the cost some $5,000.

The board of education has stated it was anxious to move as rapidly as possible.

In an election this year the voters approved the junior college program 2138 to 921, after which the commissioners agreed to provide the county's share of cost of construction and operation.

Ground has been under option at McHenry for some time and arrangements made to acquire the additional acreage needed before the Board of Public Works will approve. Now there is talk that the Commissioners are thinking of another site. This has the appearance of stalling tactics which we hope is not the case.

Previously two of the Commissioners would not move until they were assured of the backing of the majority of voters. They received this backing at the election. We feel they ought to get on the move.

Optimists Plan Youth Appreciation Week

The junior rifle club meets every Monday evening with boys and girls between ages of ten and eighteen eligible. Ashby, superintendent of the Deep Creek Lake state park.

Mayor's Operating Expenses Soar

Expenses in connection with the office of the Mayor of Oakland appear to be rising at an unusual rate, one learns when scanning an audit report that was approved at a regular meeting of the Mayor and Town Council. The motion to approve was made by Allen Naylor and seconded by H. L. Stemple on October 2.

The audit was prepared by George McLaughlin, certified public accountant. The report included an analysis of a social security audit concerning salary adjustments that was made by Edward G. Lewis and George F. Lightman made on August 15.

Concerning travel expense the following was stated:

"The auditors discussed with his honor, Russell L. Smith, mayor of Oakland, the numerous expense items unsubstantiated by an itemized listing or by receipts. It is understandable that many times expenses arise which cannot be covered by the small salary allotted to town officials. The Town Council recognized this inequity and in 1964 an amount was appropriated to cover the expenses; however, no provision was made for an accountability for these funds. In discussion with Mr. Smith he agreed that part of his expense allowance in reality covered a partial payment of additional salary for services rendered in his capacity as Mayor. By mutual consent we have concluded that the following represents equitable amounts as additional covered wages:

"Allowances to Mayor: 1961, $200; 1963, $350; 1964, $2,514.54; 1965, $2,877.54; 1966, $3,514.20; with corresponding amounts attributable to wages: 1961, $66.67; 1963, $116.77; 1964, $838.20, 1965, $959.18; 1966, $1,171.42.

"A resolution was prepared to amend the town charter, raising the salary of the mayor from $200 to $1,200, at $100 per month, not to apply to incumbent, council from $100 to $300 at $25 per month, not to apply to incumbent; treasurer, $50. from $150 to $200 annually. The resolution was passed by the electorate at the regular election in 1967".

The minutes of previous meetings of the Mayor and City council showed that on February 3, 1964, it was moved by Donald M. Browning, "in recognition of ever increasing demands made on time and energy of the mayor, in addition to his other duties that operating expenses be allowed, not to exceed $1,800, seconded by Ervin S. Smith and carried unanimously. A similar motion was moved by Browning, seconded by Allen Naylor, with the operating expenses not to exceed $2,800, above $200 salary, in 1966.

Thirty-five registrants also reported to the induction station on the same day for pre-induction physical examinations

Youth Pleads Not Guilty To Woman's Death

A 16-year-old Meyersdale youth accused in the murder of Judy Lee Ziegler, 20, Salisbury, Pa., May 28, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday on an indictment returned by the Grand Jury of the October term.

The youth, Gary Lee Miller, waived the right to a jury trial and asked a trial by the Court. He is represented by Attorney Julius E. Schindler who is Court-appointed.

Judge Harold E. Naughton remanded Miller to the custody of the sheriff. There is no bond in the case.

The victim's body was found on Sunday, May 28, on an old garbage dump near Eckhart. She had been beaten and there were knife wounds on the body. The discovery was made by two women residents of the area.

The victim's car was found by Pennsylvania authorities partly submerged in a lake in the Salisbury area.

The youth was taken into custody at Meyersdale High School the next day and lodged in Somerset County jail. Later, he was brought to Cumberland, and still later admitted to Clifton T. Perkins State Hospital for examination. Since his return from there, he had been lodged in the Garrett County Jail in Oakland.

The indictment against Miller charges that he "feloniously, willfully and of deliberately premeditated malice aforethought did kill and murder Judy Lee Ziegler".

During the committee's visit there was a series of interviews with elected officials, school officials and members of the business community. A report is to be prepared for presentation first to the MSTA executive board and then to the Garrett County Teachers association. The local association requested the investigation at a general membership meeting last May 26.

Says He Took Photo Of Flying Saucer

Henry Filsinger, route 2, Swanton, war veteran, told The Republican office this week that sometime in early May he had seen what he thought was a flying saucer, and had a color photograph to back him up.

The photo was just developed. Mr. Filsinger said he saw the object just as a flash of light moving from one area to another, disappearing behind a cloud and reappearing. After watching the object for a few minutes he got his camera, moved the shutter to 300th of a second and got the picture.

Poisonous Plant Causes Illness To Small Child

A plant of the deadly nightshade family has been found growing in abundance in Loch Lynn Heights, and recently Christine Louise, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Upton, became violently ill after eating a portion of one of the berries.

She has now recuperated but suffered hallucinations, high temperature, depression of the nervous system, dryness of mouth, dilated pupils and labored breathing. According to Dr. Donald Burke, of Philippi, W. Va., the pediatrician who treated the child, she underwent experiences similar to one who had taken LSD.

It was explained that the plant was a climbing vine usually found growing in damp shady places. The tiny flowers are purple in color with yellow centers, resembling those of the potato. Poisonous berries hang down in clusters and change from a dark green to a brilliant red similar in size and color to that of the red currant.

The plant grows upon surrounding plants or creeps along the ground. There is one large pointed heavily veined leaf. At the base of the large leaf two and sometimes four small leaves protrude and these are similar in shape to the main foliage leaf. Poisoning reportedly has resulted from handling the leaves.

According to Earl L. Core, professor of botany at West Virginia university, Morgantown, the leaves and berries contain solanine.

Persons were being advised to destroy this plant when found and identified so that no other children will sample the fruit.

Slogan Contest To Be Conducted

Last week's paper carried the story on the Community Sign for Oakland, being spearheaded by the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club. The Mayor and Town Council gave its approval for these signs and have set up a contest for the best Slogan to be placed at the top of the sign, under "Welcome to Oakland". The winner will receive a $25.00 Bond.

All Slogans should be sent to Ray McCutcheon, Secretary of the Lions Club, by Wednesday, November 15th.

The judges will be announced at a later date.

The Town of Oakland will award the Bond.

Contestants must be 18 years of age or under.

Foreign Students Enjoy Week-end

Twenty-four foreign students from West Virginia university, Morgantown, were guests of Oakland families September 29, 30 and October 1. Two letters have been received emphasizing 'What it's All About". Both letters were written to Gordon Douglass, head of the Rotary committee which planned the week-end.

From Fabio Arcila, president of the Cosmopolitan club at Morgantown: "On behalf of the Cosmopolitan club, the Foreign students who made it to the picnic and myself, I would like to manifest to you our appreciation to the Oakland Rotary club and host families who so kindly made it possible for us to enjoy what many have called 'our most wonderful experience while in America'. The purpose of your endeavor is so noble that it has left deep

Melvin Custer Is Named "Mapman"

Melvin Custer, of route 2, Swanton, an employe of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company at Luke for the past eight years, was named Monday by the County Commissioners to be an assessor's aide in the Department of Assessments and Taxation.

The work is chiefly as a draftsman or mapman, and fills the position made vacant by the resignation of Kenneth Ridder, who went to Baltimore with the Army Engineers.

Mr. Custer, a son of Heyward Custer, South Third street, Oakland. He is married and the father of several children. His application stated that he had done similar work in the army. The appointment was dependent upon satisfactory work during the ensuing months. The appointment is effective November 1.

Jerry Moyer, supervisor of assessments said there was quite a backlog of work in the department with some 250 parcels of land having to be placed on maps.

There were seventeen applicants on the list. William Shoemaker, assistant state supervisor in the state tax department, was in the county Monday to urge the appointment of one of the applicants, since the Ridder resignation had occurred during the middle of the summer.

Rev. Ray Streets of the Johnstown, Pa., Emanuel Baptist church, spoke about "What do You Hold in Your Hands", using three illustrations from the Bible to show how important it is for one to consider what responsibilities and potentialities each has and how best to fulfill these through a life dedicated to God.

Preceding the speaker Director Tom Crogan led in singing. Four teenagers: Judy Simpson, Jack Long, Johnstown; Dottie Glaze, and Lisa Eary, also took part.

This was the first such rally held at this school. It is planned to conduct monthly rallies at Northern and Southern High Schools on Saturday night at 7:30. The next will be October 21 at Southern followed by another at Northern on November 18th, featuring the film: "Without Onion".

A loan closing and ground breaking ceremony will take place at Crellin next Wednesday, October 18, to mark the beginning of repairs, improvement and expansion of the water system of that community.

This is the first loan of its kind in this county and amounts to $11,500. It is secured through the Farmers Home administration, USDA, and made by the First National bank, Oakland.

Purpose of the loan is to repair, improve and expand the water system for the community. The system originally was installed many years ago by the Stanley Coal company for use of employes. In recent years it had been donated to the community by the coal company and had been operated and maintained by the non-profit Crellin Improvement association. This association represents 70 families living in Crellin.

Association officers include Stanley W. DeWitt, president; William B. Stiles, vice-president; Mrs. Thelma Glotfelt, secretary-treasurer; Floyd Carskadon, Homer Shaffer, James Ford and Douglas Stiles, directors.

Under the Aiken-Poage bill, 89th Congress, rural communities are eligible to receive long-term loans to repair, improve and develop adequate water and sewage systems.

Since this is the first loan of its kind in the county Chester J. Tyson, Jr., state director of the Farmers Home Administration, Trenton, N. J., will participate in the ceremonies.

Cloudy and Cool Weather Prevail

Garrett county received a heaping helping of cloudy weather during the past week, with cloud cover dominating almost every day.

Last Friday brought cool, windy weather, with some suspiciously damp mistiness. Saturday was also cool and windy, with a negligible amount of sunshine. Cloudiness again predominated on Sunday, with temperatures only a little warmer than Saturday's.

Monday's clouds carried rain to the county, while temperatures dropped from the 60's to the 40's during the afternoon. Tuesday gloomed in with cloudy skies and temperatures in the mid-40's, although the skies cleared and the temperature rose to 51 by 1:30.

Wednesday brought a 40 degree mercury reading along with the inevitable clouds. Thursday's weather commenced with still more clouds, and a temperature of 39.

Additions To Two Schools Are Approved

State Approves Community College Finoncing Arrangements

At the regular meeting of the Board of Education on Tuesday, approval was given for the construction of an eight classroom and gymnasium addition at Dennett Road school and a four classroom and gymnasium addition at Bloomington.

The Dennett Road addition will be financed by exhausting all building funds now being held by the school board plus a state grant of $188,000. The Bloomington project will be financed by a state grant of approximately $90,000 plus $100,000 to be borrowed from the State School Construction fund, the latter subject to approval of the County Commissioners. Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent, said all state construction loans must be paid back by the county over a fifteen year period and a loan of $100,000 would represent less than a cent and a half annually on the tax rate.

The Dennett road addition will take care of the overloads at Center street, Loch Lynn and Red House, Mr. Hawkins pointed out, and would free the two portable classrooms at Dennett road to be relocated at Swan Meadow to care for the overload in that school. In addition the gymnasium will provide not only for school needs but will be constructed so that public toilet facilities will be available for those attending football games. The locker rooms will also be available for football teams at half-time, termed long overdue needs.

The school population grew by over 200 this year with most of the growth in the Oakland area. It was also pointed out that the school population at Bloomington would soon overrun present facilities and that action would have to be taken now to care for the projected enrollment in the near future.

In addition to the above projects two others are now in the hands of the architects, one a new vocational unit at Southern for Home Economics and Business Education, and the other the enlargement of the Agriculture shop at Northern High school, including a greenhouse.

These projects are being financed by federal and state funds. Johannes and Murray and Associates are the architects for the Dennett road school and Altman and Altman are architects for the Bloom-

Shoplifting Aired As Merchants Meet

The Oakland Merchants association and State's Attorney Fred A. Thayer joined forces Tuesday to tackle the problem of shoplifting in Oakland stores and a subsequent enforcement program.

The effort will be pointed toward discouraging such shoplifting by more effective apprehension and prosecution.

Mr. Thayer said he was developing methods of procedure for merchants to deal with shoplifters by bringing them into court for trial. In the past it has been the general practice for merchants catching a shoplifter in the act to merely force him to return the stolen articles, or in the case of a juvenile, to report the situation to his parents and have the parent take disciplinary action.

Mr. Thayer said the only effective way to stop shoplifting was to bring the offenders into court for appropriate action, either in juvenile court or criminal court. He suggested circulating the names of known shoplifters among the merchants, so that a concentrated effort might be made.

Signs are to be posted in all stores warning the persons that shoplifters will be prosecuted.

It was stated that the shoplifting problem was not particularly prevalent in the area, but was a nuisance and a practice that should be curbed. The merchants felt that bringing the persons into court would have a tendency to reduce the violations.

Question

Is there any one soap you can recommend for a whole family consisting of a baby, small children, teenagers and adults?

Answer

Yes, there is one soap I can recommend for all ages, and it's called Phisohex. Phisohex is an excellent soap for bathing your baby because it can help relieve diaper rash which can be caused by excessive skin bacteria. This soap is also useful where the cleaning of small children's cuts and scratches are concerned. And your teenagers will like the help Phisohex will give them with any acne or skin blemishes they may have. Phisohex comes in an unbreakable, squeeze bottle you and your husband are sure to like because it makes bathing and shampooing less of a problem. And, I'm certain you'll, personally, like Phisohex because it's an excellent personal cleanser and deodorizer.

Fire Prevention Week To Conclude

National Fire Prevention week is concluded on Saturday, October 14. Firemen of the area have offered facts on fire losses.

Fire killed 12,100 Americans last year, over half of them in their own homes, according to National Fire Protection Records.

Fire destroyed over $1.86 billion worth of property in the same period, in a total of about 2,400,000 fires.

The great tragedy of these statistics, Fire Chief Wm. Clatterbuck, Deer Park, points out, is that most of this waste of lives and property is avoidable. The record could be far different if everyone would assume personal responsibility for observing the rules of fire safety at home and on the job. "Don't Give Fire A Place To Start" is the watchword.

Fire Prevention Week, which this year falls in the period October 8-14 provides an excellent opportunity to re-emphasize the fact that preventing fires is everybody's job.

Mr. Hawkins said the school board would request that the Board of County Commissioners borrow $100,000 from the state construction fund next April in order that this project can also get underway.

State Approves Financing

The state has now approved financing of the Garrett County Community college in the total amount of $837,300. Of this amount $812,500 is provided under the state junior college law and an additional $125,000 is provided under a special grant by legislative enactment for this county guaranteeing the county 75 percent of the cost of construction.

The county is to provide one-fourth of the cost of construction and legislation was passed giving the County Commissioners authority to borrow the money and provide the county's share. The Commissioners have executed resolutions to the effect that they will provide the county's share of the cost of constructing and operating the college.

Considers President

The Board of Trustees of the college which at present is the board of education, is considering names for the post of president, and may announce the appointment soon. It was pointed out that while the first president of the college would not assume full duties until next year, the board felt that a president should be in on early planning and development.

Mr. Hawkins said the board was ready for architectural work on the college to start as soon as money for the land options is provided by the County Commissioners. He said the Board of Public Works is requiring not less than a 55 acre site for approval.

In discussing the matter of cost inflation the board learned that costs would go up 5 to 7 percent annually for any delay. For every additional month's delay in getting the college construction underway an extra $5,000 could be added. Mr. Hawkins said the board was anxious to move as rapidly as possible in order to get the project under contract not later than June 1, 1968.

Look For Superintendent

The school board began interviews with candidates for the position of County Superintendent of Schools, to fill the forthcoming vacancy at the end of the present school term. Mr. Hawkins had previously announced his desire to retire next August 1. The board is receiving applications and will work with the State Superintendent of Schools in making a selection to fill this post.

Mr. Hawkins said that two positions at Southern High had not been filled due to lack of applicants, one in senior high school music and one in vocational drafting.

Rededication of Accident Lutheran Church Scheduled

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, of Accident, will hold a Service of Thanksgiving on Sunday, October 15, at 2:30 p. m. in honor of the completion of renovations to the church property. Reverend J Samuel Johns, of Coudersport, Pa., a son of a former pastor there, will give the sermon. There will be a lunch in the social room following the service.

The renovation project was begun on February 24, 1965. It included a new roof; painting of the interior of the church; excavation and finishing of the basement, providing modern educational facilities, social room, kitchen and rest rooms; an electric heating system; a new well; a bulletin board; and a parking lot.

St. Paul's celebrated its 150th anniversary in 1950; it was in 1800 that the Lutheran settlers in the Accident area first organized an Evangelical Lutheran congregation. The first house of worship was built at the site of the present St. Paul's Cemetery.

The second church building, called Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, was constructed about 1860 at the same location. Lutherans of the Accident and Forks areas worshipped there.

The present building was built in 1895 with brick made in Accident. In 1921, Trinity church was torn down and the lumber was used to build the present parsonage.

The order for the rededication of a church will be followed in the worship service, following the first hymn. The dedication committee includes Mrs. Raymond Coddington, Mrs. Russell Klotz, co-chairmen; Miss Mary Silber, secretary; Mrs. Robert Alexander, James Fike, Ralph Kelso, Paul Miller, Deleon Rush, Roy C. Turney, Mrs. George Wahl.

Special Meet For Girl Scouts Is Set

There will be a special meeting concerning girl scouting in the area, scheduled for Wednesday, October 18, to be held in the girl scout hall above city hall, beginning at 10 o'clock and concluding at 2.

Persons interested in girl scouting, especially persons who have girls of scouting age, are urged to attend the morning session.

Mrs. Natalie Dorsey, executive director of the Shawnee Girl Scout council, will be in charge.

Those planning to attend the entire session should bring a packed lunch, it was stated.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved father and grandfather, Earl W. Staub, who was taken to rest October 14, 1964.
Three years have passed since that sad day
When you were taken to rest
But you will never be forgotten
By those who loved you best.
Our hearts are sad and heavy
Because you are no longer here
And every time we think of you
We shed a silent tear
Time so far has only proven
How much we miss you "dad".
So sadly missed by daughter, son-in-law and two grandchildren.

Bogus Billing Causing Concern To Businessmen

Oakland area business and professional men are currently being deluged with official-looking invoices that appear to be bills for listings in the Yellow Pages. Two firms recently receiving these notices are A. D. Naylor and company and Proudfoot's Oakland Pharmacy. There are a number of others.

Businessmen are listed to pay up to $85 they don't owe under the impression their listing in the classified pages of the telephone directory has come up for renewal, or that they neglected to pay for the original listing.

The flood of misleading IBM cards has become so great according to Gerald Crabtree, telephone manager here, that both the Postal Inspection service and the Better Business Bureau are issuing warnings to watch for invoices from so-called business directory companies.

The headlined message usually is "Please return this card with your check". A company especially active in this area decorates its card with a picture of an open book in yellow, labeled "Classified listings". Because of this obvious effort to trade on the image of the telephone company Yellow Pages, the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. reports getting many complaints from customers disturbed by what they think is double billing.

The directory racket is flourishing because people do not notice the small-print disclaimer: "This is a proposal form and not a bill invoice or renewal".

Although the out-of-state firms considered themselves prosecution-proof as long as they put out some kind of advertising directory, the conviction of Southern Classified Directory Co. of Atlanta and the four cases pending before U. S. attorneys may prove the firms wrong in this belief. A California firm has been indicted on four counts of fraud.

The Atlanta company was found guilty by a Federal jury of fraudulently claiming that they operated a directory company at Atlanta and that the company would get results for the advertisers by distributing the directory to a sufficient number of individuals and businesses. Actually, their "office" consisted only of a post office box in Atlanta, and only 3,971 copies of the directory were mailed in the Southeast—one copy going to each businessman paying $45 for a listing.

The Better Business Bureau suggests that businessmen receiving such "bills" take the bill, note on it that they are not interested, and send it back in the postage paid envelope. If enough businessmen do that, says the BBB, the postal cost might make it unprofitable for such a firm to continue to do business.

Senators vetoed 54-35 a bill to make Head Start program part of the Office of Education.

SNAP

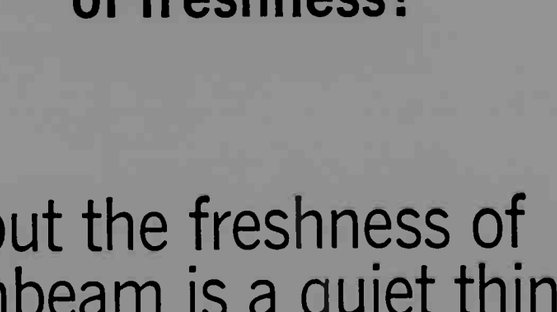
...AND DAD APPROVES.

Any new flame who passes out mink stoles doesn't have to be good-looking. But Mom's is.

Mom's new flame is her handsome, compact Gas furnace. Every time she thinks about it she feels warm all over.

But about that mink. Gas heat saves Dad up to several hundred dollars every winter, thousands of dollars over the life of the mortgage. And that's enough for a mink stole or two, or a new car, or a college education in anybody's bankbook.



Maybe you could use a new flame, too—a modern, dependable Gas flame. Think of all the things you can do with the money you save with Gas.

COLUMBIA GAS OF MARYLAND

THINK OF ALL THE THINGS YOU CAN DO WITH THE MONEY YOU SAVE. GAS MAKES THE BIG DIFFERENCE.

but the freshness of Sunbeam is a quiet thing

When green beans are fresh — you can hear it. But you won't hear a thing from really fresh bread. Like Sunbeam. This bread's too fresh to make a sound. It's made to be fresher because only the finest premium ingredients are used. Then each loaf is tended with loving care. And rushed to your store in an air-tight bag. So none of that precious Sunbeam freshness can escape. Try the bread too fresh to sound off. Sunbeam. It makes a lot of snappy things taste better.

14 Are Killed on State Highways

Fourteen persons were killed in Maryland highway accidents last week according to the weekly survey published by the State Police.

Seven of those killed were drivers, two were passengers, and five were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in seven of the deaths, speed in six, and driver error was present in eleven of the fatalities.

In commenting on last week's fatalities, Lt. Col. George Davidson, Chief of Operations of the State Police, had this to say: "If a review of these accidents points to any one major contributing factor, it is unquestionably that of the influence of alcohol, which was present in half the accidents.

"Up to this time almost every approach has been used to convince the motorist that if he drinks and drives, he has at least a fifty-fifty chance of killing himself or some innocent person or of causing serious personal injury and extensive property damage. There are no statistics to back up "near misses". Yet the hazard of the operator under the influence of alcohol is ever present.

"This is a very frustrating situation for those of us in enforcement work, and it is a frustration shared by all who have an official responsibility to promote highway safety and certainly, also, by the many operators who have taken seriously the responsibilities connected with their privilege to drive a motor vehicle".

Lt. Col. Davidson concluded "Today social drinking is an accepted part of our way of life and no condemnation of this is intended. But the word "social" implies an awareness of and interest in other persons. Thus it very clearly precludes driving a car whenever alcohol has in any way affected one' mental or physical capacity to do so safely".

Trick or Treat" For UNICEF Is Planned for Area

Coins are being saved in the homes of area families in preparation for the UNICEF drive. "Trick or Treat" for UNICEF is expected to take place on October 25, 6:00 - 8:00 p. m. when persons from the local church youth groups will make their door to door rounds requesting money to help needy children. They will be identified by specially marked collection cartons. Council of Church Women United is the sponsor.

UNICEF—the United Nations Children's Fund—is pledged to assist the underdeveloped countries to meet the medical, nutritional, educational and other needs of their children—and by so doing, help them to help themselves.

UNICEF believes that investment in a country's human resources, the sum total of its children's potentialities, is as esential to its growth as any investment in industry and land according to Mrs. Eldon Shingleton, member of the group. UNICEF was created directly after World War II to meet the emergency needs of the millions of children left homeless and starving in war-torn Europe. Following the war, the children of the newly emerging countries of Africa, Asia, Latin America, and the Middle East were provided UNICEF assistance.

Over $2 million is collected annually by American children through the Halloween "Trick or Treat" campaign. The Oakland Area UNICEF Drive, will use St. Paul's Methodist church as headquarters.

Attending Convention

Fred Lynn Kesner, a senior at Elk Garden High School, left for Kansas City, Missouri, to attend the 40th annual National FFA Convention and to participate in the FFA's 120 piece National Band, which will represent 40 states.

Kesner, who lives on a farm near Elk Garden with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Kesner, plays trumpet and has been a member of the state FFA Band at Jackson's Mill for three years. He won first place in the state talent contest his second year.

The national band will lead the Americanism Royal Parade on Saturday, October 14.

At Elk Garden High, young Kesner is president of the FFA Chapter being named Star Chapter Farmer last year, and heads the senior class. He is a member of the school patrol and school band, and attends Sulphur Methodist Church.

Britain has been the only Atlantic partner to support U. S. Vietnam policy in the U. N.

Edwards Memorial Dedicated

The C. Clayton Edwards Memorial was appropriately dedicated at the Northern High school football field on Friday evening, September 29, preceding the annual Northern-Southern football game.

The memorial is to honor the memory of C. Clayton Edwards and the athletes from Northern High school who have given their lives in the service of their country.

Edwards was an automobile dealer in Grantsville, who headed the Northern High Athletic Booster club which was instrumental in obtaining football lights for the gridiron at the school. Today the Boosters owe only $1,050 on all the lights, bleachers, and other improvements. Mr. Edwards suffered a fatal heart attack about a year ago.

The basic design of the memorial was proposed by Jack Lear, football coach, and Vaughn Brunazzi, assistant coach there last year. It is located at the eastern end of the football field.

Funds for the project were donated by the Athletic Boosters club and individuals. Much of the masonry work was done by Mr. Brunazzi and the final finish masonry by Blair Buckel, of Grantsville. The cut-stone was donated by the M & S Stone quarry of Grantsville.

Mrs. Bernice Rodeheaver purchased the flag in memory of her son Danny Nicklow. Yellow mums were contributed by Jan Florists of Oakland, Mrs. Stella Edwards and Mrs. Frances Fike.

Dalton Stanton wrote the dedication address which was read the night of the dedication by Darrell Malone and benediction was given by Rev. George Lovelace, Friendsville.

Inscribed on the monument:

Disturbing Peace Brings Sentences

Four cases made up the criminal trials docket at Magistrate's Court recently.

Glenn Shaffer charged Richard H. Holland with disturbing the public peace at Loch Lynn on September 21. Holland was fined $25 and costs on the charge, but Magistrate Maroney suspended the fine on condition he be of good behavior and refrain from drinking.

Another charge of disturbing the peace was brought by Cecil Welch against Russell Welch. Russell Welch was found guilty and given a 10 day jail sentence and a $10 fine. The jail sentence was suspended provided he stay away from the Welch's.

Betty Stewart instigated proceedings against Leroy Stewart of Deer Park for non-support of herself and two minor children, aged 9 and 4, since September 4. Stewart pleaded guilty, was ordered to pay $25 per week toward the support of his wife and children.

The last thing you'll do on earth is create a debt for someone else to pay. Could your family afford the doctor and hospital bills, funeral expenses, attorney's fees, court costs and current bills? THE FIRST PAGE OF Adventure

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read you Bible daily.

I have to confess that once I thought mothers read to their children to entertain them—and keep them quiet. But it wasn't long before I began to see the results of storytime in my own youngsters' interests and understanding.

Obviously a child's imagination just keeps pace with the growth of his mind and body. Apparently it is in well-chosen stories that he first encounters the challenging adventures that will later become part of his own life.

Now I fully appreciate the skill and experience that underlie my Church's program for moral and religious training. Bible stories aren't some harried teacher's solution to a disciplinary problem. They are fundamental steps in the development of character and conviction.

So I am grateful to God who has given us the cherished narratives of man's spiritual discoveries. For my youngsters they have been the first page of adventure . . . and of faith!

ALL DRUGS EVENTUALLY LOSE THEIR POTENCY

Exposure to heat, dampness, or the sun can do quick damage. Medicines given by a dropper are subject to contamination each time the dropper is re-inserted into the bottle.

Follow these general rules. Most opened liquids should be destroyed after a few weeks. Ointments last about six months and tablets and capsules about one year. Any medicine that changes color, develops a sediment or appears to have a mold should be carefully destroyed. Do not throw discarded medicines in the trash can to tempt children. Empty contents first.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

"YOUR HEALTH IS OUR BUSINESS"

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

HIS OTHER JOB

Lesson for October 15, 1967

Background Scripture: Amos 1, 2, 9:7-8. Devotional Reading: Psalms 67.

A little girl asked her father one day, "Daddy, what does God do all day long?" "Why he's your heavenly Father," he replied, surprised at the question.

Yet this was not an adequate answer for the little girl, for she knew that her own father was more than a "daddy." He had a job in the world beyond their home. Thus, as her own father had more to do than just being a "daddy," surely God too had more to do than to be her "heavenly Father."

Rev. Althouse

As writer Bruce Larson has suggested, our religion too often is "Daddy-centered." We think of God as exclusively "our Father," as if he had nothing else to do, no other role to play. Yet, as Jesus said, "My Father is working still, and I am working." God is more than a Father; he is also a worker. Long ago he created the world, but today he is still working in his world, still fashioning it according to his plan and purpose.

We Tend To Forget

Of course we know this, but we tend to forget it very easily. We think of God as a household or local deity. We say "our God" with an unmistakable possessive inflection in our voices. He is the God who is so intimately concerned with my individual life in all its facets, however tiny, that I forget that he is also Creator of Man and Earth, Ruler of the Nations, Lord of the Universe.

God is concerned with my personal problems and needs, but I need to remember that he is also concerned with groups of people, communities, races, nations, worlds. My relationship with the family next door is of interest to him, but so are the relationships between the Soviet Union and the United States, between blacks and whites, between East and West.

"Daddy-centered"

It is not so strange that we should forget this, for, as the Bible makes clear, this is the story of mankind. The people of Israel in the day of Amos, had a rather "Daddy-centered" religion. Though they realized that he was intimately involved with their individual lives, they did not seem to understand that he was also interested in the world about them.

What a shock then when Amos came with his prophecies, condemning the neighboring nations, not because they worshipped the wrong gods in the wrong temples with the wrong rituals under the wrong priests, but because as nations they had transgressed against each other. Damascus, Gaza, Tyre, Edom, Moab, and the Ammonites: all had committed terrible deeds against their smaller, weaker neighbors.

Why should "our Father" be concerned with relationships and affairs of nations? Because he is more than "our Father". That is, he is interested and involved in what is happening in the world, between both individuals and groups of people. As he wills righteousness for individuals, so he wills it for communities and nations too.

Even Our Enemies

Furthermore, not only does he pronounce judgment upon the events of our world, he also is at work in these events. He worked through Judah and Israel, but he also worked through the enemies of these two nations. So it is even today in our world. More than "our Father," he is also the Lord of History, unfolding his purpose in the life of our nation and even in the affairs of those unfriendly and hostile toward us.

Let us never lose our understanding that God is "our Father," but let us also never forget that he has more to do than that. History does not blunder on blindly; even in its fits and starts, its ups and downs, it is moved by the power of him who is both 'our Father" and the Lord of history.

Since it's never in, it's never out.

Each year the new cars come rolling out with the latest frills.

Wow.

And each year the old Volkswagen rolls out looking just the same.

Ho hum.

But when the year goes by, new fads soon outdate the old fads. And the hottest-looking car last year is just that: the hottest-looking car last year.

But a VW is still just a VW. Not looking up-to-date, but not looking out-of-date either. (So you'll never have a Has-Been on your hands when you want to sell it.)

Instead of wasting time making the VW look better, we spend our time making it work better.

And this year there are dozens of ways it works better. (That makes over 2200 in all since it first started working period.)

In the end, the choice is yours: pay a big price for a year of glory.

Or a small price for a VW.

Couple Wed August 26

Miss Carole Jean Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Campbell, Oakland, and Mr. Thomas E. Forman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Forman, 426 South Third Street, Oakland, were united in marriage in the Loch Lynn Evangelical United Brethren Church on Saturday, August 26, at one-thirty o'clock.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend Oscar W. Hull before an altar decorated with palms and vases of white pompon chrysanthemums backed with fern.

Miss Christine Umstot, organist, presented a program of traditional wedding music preceding the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of Ivory Saki featuring a round neckline, empire waistline, short sleeves and a controlled skirt. Venise lace trimmed the sleeves, waistline and a large band formed the bottom of the skirt. A matching, detachable train fell from the empire waistline featuring a large pleat and appliques of Venise lace. Her shoulder length veil of English illusion fell from a Wedding Ring headpiece designed especially for her gown. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a cascading bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and English ivy.

Miss Katherine Campbell, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. Miss Barbara Forman, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. Both attendants wore identical floor length gowns of peacock chiffon and carried cascading bouquets of assorted pompon chrysanthemums and English ivy. Flower girl was Miss Lucinda Kay Warnick, Cresaptown, cousin of the bride. She wore a floor length gown of peacock blue and carried a basket of rose petals.

The best man was Edgar B. Butt, Hyattsville, uncle of the groom. Ushers were Robert C. Melody, Keyser, and David Butt, Oakland, cousin of the groom.

Mothers of the bride and groom wore two piece aqua dresses with black patent accessories and each wore a pale pink corsage of pompons.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Church Hall. The cake was cut and served by Mrs. Austin W. McRobie, Laurel, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Harrison R Lambert, Catonsville, aunt of the groom. Presiding at the punch bowls were Mrs. Odell Warnick, Cresaptown, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Cletis Beckman, Mt. Lake Park, aunt of the groom. Also assisting at the reception were Mrs. Delbert Bittinger, Mrs. Arvin Hauser, Miss Janet Sisler and Miss Joyce Sisler, all of Mt. Lake Park.

Miss Louise Martin, Mt. Lake Park, cousin of the bride, registered the guests.

For traveling to Pennsylvania, the bride chose a Navy blue sheath with navy accessories and a corsage of carnations.

The bride and groom are 1961 graduates of Southern High School. The bride is employed as a secretary by the Garrett County Cooperative Extension Service. The groom is a senior student in the School of Forestry at West Virginia University.

The couple resides at 121 N. Third Street, Oakland.

A miscellaneous shower for the bride was given by Misses Janet and Joyce Sisler.

CAPITOL COMMENT

Charles "Mac" Mathias

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

Our Fiscal Fix

The attention of the Congress and the country last week focused on financial questions. Faced with a Federal deficit of at least $29 billion, the nation is in a difficult position. Must we raise Federal taxes? Can we cut spending enough? Must we do both? Can we avoid another round of serious inflation?

Interest in such questions is especially high because so many families are already feeling the growing strain of raising taxes. Last week one of my constituents wrote to me:

"I have been told that if we have any problems concerning government we should write to out congressman. Here are some interesting facts I wish to bring to your attention.

"My husband was comparing income and deductions of last year with this year. His findings startled me to the point that I decided to bring it to your attention.

"My husband earns between $7000 and $7500 per year. As of August 27, 1967, he has earned $107.62 more this year than for the same period last year. He has paid $103.22 more social security, $16.73 more for state tax, and $25.16 more for Federal income tax, which is a total of $145.11 more withheld from his earnings..."

This letter is typical of many I have received recently. This family — and many others — are actually falling behind, in terms of take-home pay, because tax increases at every level of government are nullifying the salary increases they have managed to obtain.

The Cost of Living - Up Again

Inflation is also reducing family income more and more. While rising taxes siphon off a growing percentage of total income, rising costs are diluting the purchasing power of every dollar. Last week, for example, the Labor Department announced that the cost-of-living index rose 0.3% in August alone, and has gone up 2.7% in 1967 — 3.1% during the last twelve months. This means that necessities which cost $10.00 a year ago now cost $10.31!

In other terms, it means that the family with an income after taxes of $5000 last year would have to gain a net income of $5155 this year simply to counteract the impact of inflation and stay even with rising costs. The pressure is greatest, of course, for individuals trying to live on fixed incomes, such as social security and railroad retirement, which are generally inadequate under the best of circumstances.

A special situation confronts America's farmers. Although food prices are up, farmers' incomes are actually down — 6% lower than last year, in fact. The increases in retail food prices are simply not being transmitted to food producers, an imbalance which is making the position of many farmers more and more precarious, since their own costs and taxes are also increasing rapidly.

These are some of the many facets of the economic problems which we now face. In the coming weeks, the Congress will be debating these very complex and most critical questions. I welcome your thoughts on the course which we should pursue, and will keep you informed on developments and decisions on Capitol Hill.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

It Figures

With due respect to those in authority, it is not hard to figure out the school problems.

The teacher is afraid of the principal; the principal is afraid of the superintendent; the superintendent is afraid of the school board; the school board is afraid of the parents; the parents are afraid of the kids and the kids are afraid of nobody.
